139K.(1) The Commission may make codes ('online safety codes'), to be applied to designated online services in accordance with section 139L.

(2) An online safety code may make provision with a view to ensuring—

- (b) that service providers take any other measures that are appropriate to protect users of their services from harmful online content,
- (c) that service providers take any other measures that are appropriate to provide the protections set out in Article 28b(1)(a), (b) and (c) of the Directive, and
- (d) that service providers take any measures in relation to commercial communications on their services that are appropriate to protect the interests of users of their services, and in particular the interests of children.

- (3) In the case of video-sharing platform services, the Commission shall exercise its powers under this section with a view to ensuring (without prejudice to any other exercise of those powers in relation to video-sharing platform services) that service providers—

  - (b) in particular, standards, practices or measures relating to the moderation of content or to how content is delivered on services;
  - (c) the assessment by service providers of the availability of harmful online content on services, of the risk of it being available, and of the risk posed to users by harmful online content;
  - (d) the making of reports by service providers to the Commission;
  - (e) the handling by service providers of communications from users raising complaints or other matters.
- (5) Without prejudice to subsection (2) or (4), an online safety code may prohibit or restrict, in accordance with law, the inclusion in programmes or user-generated content of commercial communications relating to foods or beverages considered by the Commission to be the subject of public concern in respect of the general public health interests of children, in particular infant formula, follow-on formula or foods or beverages which contain fat, trans-fatty acids, salts or sugars.
- (6) Without prejudice to subsection (4), the Commission shall make an online safety code, to be applied in accordance with section 139L to such designated online services as the Commission considers appropriate, requiring the service provider to report to the Commission at intervals, specified in the code, of not more than 3 months on the provider's handling of communications from users raising complaints or other matters.

- (7) In this section, ‘service provider’ means the provider of a designated online service.

Application of online safety codes

139L.(1) An online safety code applies to a designated online service if—

- (a) the Commission has determined that the code is to apply to the service, or to a designated category of services that includes the service,
- (b) the Commission has given notice of the determination, and the notice has taken effect, in accordance with subsection (2), and
- (c) the determination has not been revoked.

(2) Notice under subsection (1)(b)—

- (a) in the case of a service designated as a named service, must be given to the provider of the service in writing, and takes effect when the notice is given to the provider, and
  - (b) in the case of a designated category of services, must be given by publication of notice of the determination on a website maintained by the Commission, and takes effect at the end of the period of 28 days after the date on which the notice is published on the website.

  - (c) any advisory committee the Commission has established for that purpose under section 19, and
  - (d) any other person the Commission considers appropriate.
- (5) An online safety code applying to an interpersonal communications service or a private online storage service applies to that service only in so far as it relates to content that falls within one of the offence-specific categories of online content defined in section 139A(2).

- (6) In this section—

‘interpersonal communications service’ means a service normally provided for remuneration that enables direct interpersonal and interactive exchange of information between a finite number of persons by means of electronic communications networks, where the persons initiating or participating in the communication determine its recipients, but it does not include services which enable interpersonal and interactive communication only as a minor ancillary feature that is intrinsically linked to another service;

‘private online storage service’ means any service providing online storage, other than—

- (a) local or temporary storage, or
- (b) storage provided for the purpose of enabling the provision of another service, or as a minor ancillary feature intrinsically linked to another service;

- (4) The Commission may at any time by notice in writing extend the time within which information is to be provided.
- (5) If within the period referred to in subsection (3) the provider requests the Commission to make an extension under subsection (4), the period beginning with the date on which the Commission receives the request and ending on the date notice of the Commission's decision on the request is received by the provider does not count towards the time within which the information is to be provided.
- (6) The provider of a designated online service is guilty of a category 1 offence if—
- (a) the provider fails without reasonable excuse to comply with a notice under subsection (1), or
  - (b) in purported compliance with a notice under subsection (1), the provider provides false information, knowing that it is false or being reckless as to whether it is false.

  - (b) to provide the Commission with information to identify any trends in complaints or other matters raised by such communications that may be relevant to the Commission's functions under this Part.

  - (b) the degree of harm to particular people or to the public caused as a result of the contravention;
  - (c) the extent of any failure by the provider to co-operate with an investigation, provided that acknowledgement of a contravention shall not in itself constitute grounds for reduction of a sanction;

  - (e) any gain (financial or otherwise) made, or any loss (financial or otherwise) avoided, by the provider or by any person in which that provider has a pecuniary interest or beneficial interest, as a consequence of the contravention;

  - (k) the extent to which the management of the provider knew, or ought to have known, that the contravention was occurring or would occur;
  - (l) the turnover of the provider in the financial years during which the contravention occurred and the ability of the provider to pay a sanction;
  - (m) any submissions made by the provider under section 139ZU(2) in relation to the determination of the amount of the sanction;

Appeal against decision

139ZX.(1) The provider to whom a decision under section 139ZS relates may, within 28 days from the date on which the notice referred to in section 139ZT is received, or where section 139ZV applies, within 28 days from the date on which the notice referred to in section 139ZV(3) is received, appeal to the appropriate court against the decision.

- (2) An appeal may only be made on—

  - (b) in so far as it is not within the grounds referred to in paragraph (a), the ground that any sanction imposed is not proportionate, or
  - (c) more than one of the grounds referred to at paragraph (a) and (b).
- (3) The appropriate court may, on the application of a provider to whom a decision under section 139ZS relates, extend the period for the making of an appeal under subsection (1), where it is satisfied that—
  - (a) there is good and sufficient reason for doing so,
  - (b) the circumstances that resulted in the failure to bring an appeal within the period referred to in subsection (1) were outside the control of the provider, and
  - (c) an application for confirmation has not been determined under section 139ZY.
- (4) In considering an appeal, the appropriate court—
  - (a) shall have regard to the record of the decision the subject of the appeal, and

- (5) Subject to subsection (7), the appropriate court may, on the hearing of an appeal under subsection (1)—
  - (a) confirm the decision, or

- (b) subject to subsection (6)—

  - (iii) remit the decision for reconsideration by the Commission, subject to such directions as the court considers appropriate.
- (6) A decision of the Commission may not be set aside or remitted by the appropriate court under subsection (5)(b) for error of law or fact unless the appropriate court is satisfied that the Commission committed a serious and significant error in making the decision, or that the Commission committed a series of minor errors which, when taken together, amount to a serious and significant error.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (5), sections 139ZS(4) and 139ZW shall apply to the appropriate court and references to the Commission in those sections shall be construed as references to the appropriate court.
- (8) Where the appropriate court is the Circuit Court it may make such interim or interlocutory orders in any proceedings under subsection (1) or (3) as it considers appropriate.
- (9) The appropriate court may direct how the costs of an appeal under this section are to be borne.
- (10) In this section, ‘appropriate court’ means—

- (2) On the hearing of an application under subsection (1), the Circuit Court shall confirm the decision unless it is satisfied, on the basis of the evidence that was before the Commission when making the decision—

- (a) that the Commission made an error of law which is—
    - (i) manifest from the record of the decision, and
    - (ii) fundamental so as to deprive the decision of its basis,or
  - (b) that any administrative financial sanction imposed is manifestly disproportionate.
- (3) If under subsection (2) the Circuit Court does not confirm the decision it may—
- (a) annul the decision, or
  - (b) remit it for reconsideration by the Commission, subject to such directions as it considers appropriate.
- (4) A provider may, as soon as practicable after receiving notice of the application under subsection (1), inform the Commission in writing that it does not intend to appear at, or make submissions at, the hearing of the application.
- (5) If an application to extend the period for the making of an appeal against a decision is made under section 139ZX(3) to the High Court, the Circuit Court shall make an order staying any application under subsection (1) for the confirmation of that decision until the High Court has made a decision under section 139ZX(3).
- (6) If the High Court makes an order under section 139ZX(3) extending the period for the making of an appeal under section 139ZX(1) against a decision, the Circuit Court shall make an order staying any application under subsection (1) for the confirmation of that decision until the High Court has made a decision on the appeal under section 139ZX(5).
- (7) The Circuit Court may make such interim or interlocutory orders as it considers appropriate in any proceedings under subsection (1).
- (8) The Circuit Court may direct how the costs of an application under subsection (1) are to be borne.

Reference on point of law to High Court

139ZZA.(1) Where a division of the Commission decides, before the making of a decision under section 139ZS, or where a decision is made under that section to impose an administrative financial sanction, before the making of a determination under section 139ZV(1), to refer any question of law arising under Chapter 3 or 4 to the High Court, the Commission shall refer the question.

- (2) Subject to subsection (3), no appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeal from a decision of the High Court on a reference under subsection (1).
- (3) The High Court may grant leave to appeal, where it certifies that its decision involves a point of law of exceptional public importance and that it is desirable in the public interest that an appeal should be taken to the Court of Appeal.

CHAPTER 5

*Notice to end contraventionNotice to end contravention 139ZZB.(1) Where—

- (a) the Commission has decided under section 139ZS that it is satisfied that a contravention has occurred, and
- (b) the Commission's decision in so far as it relates to the occurrence of the contravention is confirmed under section 139ZX or 139ZY or is replaced under section 139ZX with a decision to the same effect, the Commission may, if it is of the view that the contravention is continuing, give notice in writing to the provider the subject of the decision directing him or her to put an end to the contravention.

- (4) A provider who without reasonable excuse fails to comply with a notice under subsection (1) shall be guilty of a category 1 offence.
- (5) Where an offence has been committed under subsection (4) by a provider of a designated online service that is a body corporate and the offence is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to have been attributable to any neglect on the part of, a person who was either a director, manager, secretary or other officer of the body corporate, or a person purporting to act in such capacity, that person, as well as the body corporate, shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished as if he or she were guilty of the offence committed by the body corporate.

- (6) Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, subsection (5) applies in relation to the acts or defaults of a member in connection with his or her functions of management as if he or she were a director or manager of the body corporate.
- (7) Any proceedings, including summary proceedings, under subsection (5) shall not be instituted except by or with the consent of the Director of Public Prosecutions.

CHAPTER 6

Access blocking order

Access blocking order

139ZZC.(1) The Commission may apply to the High Court for an order requiring an internet service provider or a provider of an application store service to block access in the State to a relevant online service or an audiovisual on-demand media service.

- (2) An application to the High Court under subsection (1) shall be made on notice—

- (a) to the internet service provider or the provider of an application store service concerned, and

- (b) to the provider of the relevant online service or audiovisual on-demand media service concerned.

- (3) The court may make an order requiring the blocking of access to a relevant online service if it is satisfied that the provider of the service has actual knowledge that it is making available content that falls within one of the offence-specific categories of harmful online content defined in section 139A(2) and either—

- (a) where the service is a designated online service—

- (i) the content is made available in contravention of an online safety code which applies to the service, and

- (ii) the provider has been convicted of an offence under section 139ZZB(4) for failure to comply with a notice to end the contravention,

or

- (b) where the Commission has designated the service but the designation has not taken effect as notice of the designation has not been served on the provider in accordance with section 139H(3)
  - (a)—
    - (i) making available the content would be a contravention of an online safety code which the Commission intends to apply to the service, and
    - (ii) the failure to serve notice of the designation on the provider is due to the fault of the provider.
- (4) The court may make an order requiring the blocking of access to an audiovisual on-demand media service if it is satisfied that—
  - (a) the provider of the service has actual knowledge that it is making anything referred to in paragraph (b), (c) or (d) of section 46J(1) available in a catalogue of the service, and
  - (b) the provider has been convicted of an offence under section 139ZZB(4), for failure to comply with a notice to end the contravention referred to in paragraph (a).
- (5) An order may be made under this section if—
  - (a) the application under subsection (1) was made as soon as practicable after the provider concerned was convicted of the offence referred to in subsection (3)(a)(ii), or (4)(b), or as soon as practicable after the failure referred to in subsection (3)(b)(ii) occurred, as the case may be, and
  - (b) the order would not be disproportionate.
- (6) The High Court may provide in an order under this section that a requirement imposed by the order is subject to such conditions as it considers necessary.
- (7) The following persons may apply to the High Court to vary or discharge an order under this section in the event that there is any material change in the circumstances which gave rise to the order:
  - (a) the internet service provider or provider of an application store service the subject of the order;
  - (b) the provider of a service access to which is required to be blocked under the order.
- (8) Without prejudice to subsection (7), the High Court may, on an application under that subsection or of its own motion, discharge an order under this section if it is satisfied that—
  - (a) where the order was made on grounds falling within subsection (3)(a)(ii) or (4)(b), the provider of the service has complied with the notice to end the contravention concerned, or

- (b) where the order was made on grounds falling within subsection (3) (b), the relevant online service, access to which is required to be blocked under the order, has been designated as a designated online service.
- (9) In this section, references to a provider of an application store service blocking access to a service include references to the provider blocking the downloading of software used to provide the service or to access the service.
- (10) For the purposes of this section:
  - ‘internet service provider’ means a person who provides access to the internet at endpoints of the internet (including, for example, on a smartphone);
  - ‘provider of an application store service’ means a person who provides a service the main purpose of which is to facilitate the download of, or access to, application software at endpoints of the internet.

CHAPTER 7

- 139ZZD.(1) Subject to subsection (2), where it appears to the Commission, either in the course of an investigation under this Part or otherwise, that content available on a designated online service is harmful online content, the Commission may give a notice in writing to the provider of the designated online service—
- (a) where the content appears to the Commission to fall within the offence-specific category of harmful online content defined in section 139A(2), requiring the provider to remove it or to disable access to it, or
  - (b) in any other case, requiring the provider to remove the content, to disable access to it, or to limit the availability of it.
- (2) Where subsection (1) applies in the course of the investigation of a suspected contravention that relates to the content concerned, the Commission—
- (a) shall not issue a notice under subsection (1) before it has made a decision under section 139ZS, and
