NATIONAL ARCHIVES BILL, 1985

BILL

entitled

- 5 AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A
BODY TO BE KNOWN AS THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES
AND FOR OTHER CONNECTED MATTERS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE OIREACHTAS AS FOLLOWS:

1.—(1) In this Act—

Interpretation.

- 10 “archives” has the meaning assigned to it by section 2;

“the Council” means the National Archives Advisory Council established under section 20;

“Departmental records” has the meaning assigned to it by section 2;

“the Director” has the meaning assigned to it by section 5;

- 15 “functions” includes powers and duties, and the reference to the performance of functions includes, as respects powers and duties, a reference to the exercise of powers and the carrying out of duties;

“local authority” means any body which is—

- (a) the council of a county,
20 (b) the corporation of a county borough,
(c) the corporation of a borough other than a county borough,
(d) the council of an urban district,
(e) the commissioners of a town, or
25 (f) a joint board or committee established by or under a statute to execute functions belonging to two or more of the bodies referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e);

“the National Archives” means the body established by section 3;

- 30 “public service organisation” means a local authority, a health board or a body established by or under statute and financed wholly or partly by grants or loans made by a member of the Government or by the issue of shares taken up by a member of the Government.

(2) (a) In this subsection “a scheduled body” means a body, institution, office, commission or committee referred to in the Schedule to this Act;

- (b) In this Act (other than in paragraph (c)), references to a Department of State include, where appropriate, references to a court and also include references to a scheduled body, and the definition of "Departmental records" in section 2 (2) shall be construed accordingly; 5
- (c) In this Act, except in subsection (1) and section 2, any reference to a member of the Government shall be construed, as appropriate,—
- (i) in relation to the Office of the Secretary to the President, the Office of the Attorney General, the Office of the Comptroller and Auditor General or the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions, as a reference to the President, the Attorney General, the Comptroller and Auditor General or the Director of Public Prosecutions, 10
- (ii) in relation to a court, as a reference to the Minister for Justice, and
- (iii) in relation to a Department of State or a scheduled body (other than an office specified in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph), as a reference to the member 20 of the Government having responsibility for that Department or scheduled body.
- (d) The Taoiseach, after consultation with the Director and the Council, may by order amend the Schedule to this Act. 25
- (e) Where an order under this subsection is proposed to be made, a draft of the order shall be laid before each House of the Oireachtas and the order shall not be made until a resolution approving the draft has been passed by each such House. 30
- (3) A reference in this Act to an officer of a Department of State authorised for the purpose of a particular section or for a particular purpose shall be construed as a reference to an officer of that Department belonging to such class, grade or rank as is specified in regulations made by the Taoiseach. 35

(4) In this Act a reference to a section is to a section of this Act, unless it is indicated that reference to some other enactment is intended.

(5) In this Act a reference to a subsection or paragraph is to the subsection or paragraph of the provision in which the reference occurs, unless it is indicated that reference to some other provision is intended. 40

Archives and
records.

2.—(1) For the purposes of this Act, "archives" includes—

- (a) such records and documents (and copies of them) as are, at the commencement of this Act, held in the Public Record Office of Ireland or the State Paper Office, 45
- (b) Departmental records transferred to and accepted for preservation by the National Archives under this Act,
- (c) other records or documents (and copies of them) acquired permanently or on loan by the National Archives from public service organisations, institutions or private individuals, 50
- (d) all public records held at the commencement of this section elsewhere than in the Public Record Office of Ireland under an Act repealed by this Act.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, "Departmental records" means any of the following—

- books,
- maps,
- 5 plans,
- drawings,
- papers,
- files,
- photographs,
- 10 films,
- microfilms and other micrographic records,
- sound recordings,
- pictorial records,
- magnetic tapes,
- 15 magnetic discs,
- optical or video discs,
- other machine-readable records,
- other documentary or processed material, made or received, and held in the course of its business, by a 20 Department of State within the meaning of section 1 (2) or any body which is a committee, commission or tribunal of enquiry appointed from time to time by the Government, a member of the Government or the Attorney General, and includes copies of any such records duly made, but does not include—

- 25 (i) grants, deeds or other instruments of title relating to property for the time being vested in the State, and
- (ii) any part of the permanent collection of a library, museum or gallery.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall prevent a Department of State from 30 retaining a copy of any record transferred under this Act to the National Archives.

3.—From the commencement of this section the functions of the Public Record Office of Ireland (including the functions assigned to the Deputy Keeper of the Records by the Public Records (Ireland)
35 Act, 1867) and of the office known as the State Paper Office shall be performed by the Director of a body to be known as the National Archives, which shall stand established from such commencement and is referred to in this Act by that title.

Establishment of
National Archives.

4.—(1) In addition to those referred to in section 3, the functions
40 of the Director shall include—

Functions of Director of
National Archives.

- (a) the control and management of the National Archives,
- (b) the preservation, restoration, arrangement and description of archives in the custody of the National Archives,
- 45 (c) the examination and acquisition of Departmental records in accordance with this Act,
- (d) the inspection and examination of arrangements for the preservation of Departmental records and, with the consent or at the request of the appropriate member of the Government, the examination of Departmental records,
- 50 (e) the giving of advice to a member of the Government and to any public service organisation on the management, preservation and reproduction of records under their control,

Director of
National Archives.

- (f) the acquisition by purchase, donation, bequest or loan of any record or document, or of a copy of a record or document, appropriate for preservation by the National Archives and the observance of such conditions (if any) relating to such purchase, donation, bequest or loan as may be accepted by the Director, 5
- (g) the preparation and making available of guides, lists, indexes and other finding aids to archives in the custody of the National Archives, 10
- (h) the lending of archives by the Director, with the consent of the Council, to archival or educational institutions, libraries, museums, galleries, and other appropriate institutions and societies, whether in the State or elsewhere, 15
- (i) the making and provision of copies and extracts from archives in the custody of the National Archives, 15
- (j) the making available for public inspection in accordance with this Act of archives in the custody of the National Archives, 20
- (k) the publication of archives, finding aids and other material relating to archives in the custody of the National Archives, 20
- (l) the provision of such educational services as the Taoiseach may from time to time approve, 25
- (m) such functions in relation to management of records as may from time to time be approved by the Taoiseach. 25

(2) The Taoiseach may from time to time assign to the Director such other functions as are analogous to or consistent with the functions specified in subsection (1) and any additional functions conferred under subsection (3).

(3) (a) The Government may by order confer additional functions on the Director, and may by order amend or revoke an order under this subsection. 30

(b) Every order made under this subsection shall be laid before each House of the Oireachtas as soon as may be after it is made and, if a resolution annulling the order is passed by either such House within the next subsequent 21 days on which that House has sat after the order is laid before it, the order shall be annulled accordingly, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder. 40

(4) In the event of the office of Director being vacant or of the incapacity or absence of the Director, the Taoiseach may authorise an officer of the National Archives to perform any or all of the functions conferred on the Director under this Act.

Director of
National Archives.

5.—(1) The Taoiseach shall from time to time appoint a person to be the Director of the National Archives, and such person is in this Act referred to as "the Director". 45

(2) The Director shall carry out the functions assigned to him under this Act and such other or additional functions in relation to the National Archives as may from time to time be assigned to him by virtue of section 4 (2) or 4 (3). 50

(3) The Director shall hold office on such terms (including remuneration) as the Taoiseach shall, with the concurrence of the Minister for the Public Service, from time to time determine.

5 6.—(1) The Taoiseach may appoint such and, with the concurrence Staff of National Archives.
from time to time of the Minister for the Public Service, so many persons to be the officers (in addition to the Director) and servants of the National Archives as the Taoiseach thinks proper.

10 (2) An officer or servant of the National Archives appointed under this section shall hold his office or employment on such terms and conditions (including remuneration) as the Taoiseach, with the concurrence of the Minister for the Public Service, may from time to time determine.

15 (3) The Civil Service Commissioners Act, 1956, the Civil Service Regulation Acts, 1956 and 1958, and the Superannuation Acts, 1834 to 1963, and any Act for the time being in force and replacing or amending any of those Acts shall apply to the Director and to officers and servants of the National Archives appointed under this section.

20 7.—(1) Unless they are transferred to the National Archives in accordance with section 8 or are disposed of under subsection (5), Departmental records shall be retained and preserved in the Department of State in which they were made or are held, and shall not in any case be disposed of except in accordance with subsection (5); provided that, where more than one copy of such a record exists, the retention and preservation of the original or, if the original is no
25 longer available, of an accurate and complete copy thereof shall suffice.

30 (2) The Director or another officer of the National Archives designated by the Director for the purposes of this section (in this section referred to as "the designated officer") may make an authorisation under this section.

(3) An authorisation under this section—

- 35 (a) shall authorise the disposal of the Departmental records to which it relates,
(b) may specify conditions relating to such disposal, and
(c) shall have effect in accordance with its terms and any conditions so specified.

(4) An authorisation under this section shall not be made until the following conditions are complied with:

40 (a) an officer of a Department of State authorised for the purpose of this section has certified that particular Departmental records made, received or held by that Department and specified in the certificate, or a particular class or classes of such records so specified, are not required in connection with the administration of that Department and has
45 requested the Director or the designated officer in writing for such an authorisation;

50 (b) the Director or the designated officer is satisfied that the records or classes of records specified in the certificate under paragraph (a) do not warrant preservation by the National Archives;

(c) the Chief Justice, in the case of records of the Supreme Court, or the President of the High Court, in the case of records of the High Court, has consented to the making of the authorisation.

(5) Departmental records, the disposal of which is authorised by an authorisation under this section, shall be disposed of by being destroyed in a manner which ensures that their confidentiality is not affected and that their contents are not ascertainable.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an authorisation under this section may relate to Departmental records (or to a class or classes of such records) not in existence at the time of the authorisation. 5

(7) The Director or the designated officer may inspect and examine any Departmental records the disposal of which under authorisation under this section is under consideration. 10

Transfer of Departmental
records more than 30 years old.

8.—(1) Departmental records which are more than 30 years old and in relation to which a certificate granted under this section is not in force shall, subject to section 7, be transferred by the Department of State in which they were made (or, if they are held in another such Department, by that other Department) to the National Archives, where they shall be made available for inspection by the public. 15

(2) An officer of a Department of State authorised for the purpose of this subsection may certify that for stated reasons a particular Departmental record or class of records which is more than 30 years old and is specified in the certificate is in regular use in that Department or is required in connection with its administration and that its transfer to the National Archives would seriously interfere with the administration of that Department. 20

(3) The Director (or an officer of the National Archives designated for this purpose by the Director) may certify that particular Departmental records (or a class or classes of such records) which are more than 30 years old and are specified in the certificate do not warrant transfer to the National Archives for preservation, and any records so certified shall be retained in the appropriate Department or (as the case may be) returned to that Department, where they may be retained, or disposed of subject to the granting of an authorisation under section 7 (4) (a) by an officer of that Department authorised for the purpose of that section. 25

(4) An officer of a Department of State authorised for the purpose of this subsection may, with the consent of an officer of the Department of the Taoiseach so authorised (except in relation to records of the Department of the Taoiseach), certify, in relation to particular Departmental records which are more than 30 years old and are specified in the certificate, that to make them available for inspection by the public— 35

(a) would be contrary to the public interest, or

(b) would or might constitute a breach of statutory duty, or a breach of good faith on the ground that they contain information supplied in confidence, or 45

(c) would or might cause distress or danger to living persons on the ground that they contain information about individuals, or would or might be likely to lead to an action for damages for defamation.

(5) Departmental records in relation to which a certificate granted under subsection (2) or (4) is in force may, unless disposed of under section 7 (5), be retained in the Department of State in which they are held or be transferred to the National Archives for preservation. 50

(6) Departmental records retained under subsection (5) shall be reviewed by an officer of the Department of State concerned authorised for that purpose at least once in every subsequent period of five years with a view to their possible transfer to the National Archives under subsection (1). 55

(7) Nothing in this section shall prevent the transfer to the National Archives, with the agreement of the Director, of Departmental records which are less than 30 years old where such transfer is desirable to ensure the proper preservation of such records or for other administrative reasons, but any records so transferred shall not be made available for public inspection except in accordance with this Act.

(8) The Taoiseach may, with the agreement of the Director, direct that the transfer to the National Archives under this section of any class or group of Departmental records be not proceeded with until he is satisfied that arrangements for such transfer are adequate.

(9) Archives which were formerly Departmental records may be temporarily requisitioned in writing from the Director by an officer of the appropriate Department of State authorised for the purpose of this subsection subject to the right of the Director, in relation to archives which have been made available for public inspection, to specify arrangements which are to be made relating to access by the public to such archives while so requisitioned.

(10) (a) Subject to paragraph (b), subsection (1) shall come into operation two years after the commencement of this section.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a), the Taoiseach may, at the request in writing of a member of the Government or the Director, extend in writing the period of two years referred to in that paragraph in so far as it relates to the Department of State specified in the request if such extension appears to him to be reasonable for administrative reasons so specified.

(c) Nothing in paragraph (a) shall prevent the transfer to the National Archives before the commencement of this section of any Departmental records which are more than 30 years old.

(11) The Taoiseach may by order prescribe a particular class or classes of records in relation to which a certificate granted under subsection (2) or (4) may relate, and may by order amend or revoke an order under this subsection.

9.—(1) The Director may dispose of archives in his custody if—

(a) in his opinion, they do not warrant preservation by the National Archives or the preservation by the National Archives of copies of them will suffice, and

(b) the Council concurs, and

(c) the appropriate member of the Government or any other body or person responsible for the transfer to or the deposit with the National Archives of such archives consents to such disposal.

(2) Archives the disposal of which is authorised under subsection (1) shall either—

(a) be destroyed in such a manner as to ensure that their confidentiality is not affected and that their contents are not ascertainable, or

(b) be transferred, with the consent of the Council and the appropriate member of the Government or other body or person responsible for their transfer to or deposit with the National Archives, to another archival institution or other appropriate body, to be preserved there in accordance with such conditions as may be specified in writing by the Director. 5

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), records of the Supreme Court shall not be disposed of without the consent of the Chief Justice, and records of the High Court shall not be disposed of without the consent of the President of the High Court. 10

Right to inspect archives with
National Archives.

10.—(1) All archives with the National Archives shall, subject to such regulations as the Taoiseach may from time to time make, be available for public inspection, except—

(a) archives which were formerly Departmental records (other than court or testamentary documents) and are less than 30 years old, 15

(b) archives which were formerly Departmental records and in respect of which a certificate has been granted in accordance with section 8 (4). 20

(2) Where archives have been acquired by the National Archives subject to conditions restricting or limiting their availability for public inspection, such conditions shall be duly complied with.

(3) The provisions of section 8 shall apply to archives which were formerly Departmental records and which are held in the Public Record Office of Ireland or the State Paper Office at the commencement of this section or are transferred to the National Archives in accordance with the provisions of section 8 (7). 25

(4) Nothing in this section shall limit the right of inspection of any record which the public had— 30

(a) before the commencement of this Act, or

(b) before the transfer of such record to the National Archives.

(5) Archives which were formerly Departmental records and which have not been available for public inspection for more than 30 years shall be reviewed by an officer of the Department of State concerned authorised for that purpose at least once in every subsequent period of five years with a view to deciding whether or not they should be available for public inspection and shall be dealt with accordingly. 35

(6) Nothing in this section shall prevent a member of the Government from granting a request for access to Departmental records or archives (being records held or archives formerly held by the Department of State of which that member is in charge) less than 30 years old. 40

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed as granting any right to inspect archives (or portions of them) which the Director considers to be in danger of damage through inspection by the public, but the Director shall, in any such case, make copies available for inspection if that is possible. 45

11.—Notwithstanding section 8 (6) or 10 (5), an authorised officer of the Department of the Taoiseach may determine whether Departmental records, which are more than 30 years old and continue to be retained in a Department or, if transferred to the National Archives, continue to be withheld from public inspection, should be transferred to the National Archives to be made available for public inspection or, if already with the National Archives, should be made available for public inspection.

Right to determine if certain records should be made available for public inspection.

12.—The removal of any Departmental records or other records or archives under this Act to the custody of the National Archives or elsewhere shall not affect the authenticity of such records or archives, but any such records or archives so removed shall be taken to be in their proper place of deposit and shall be of the same force and effect in any court or proceedings in the same manner as if they had not been so removed.

Authenticity of records after transfer to National Archives.

13.—(1) The Taoiseach, at the request of a public service organisation, may declare the records or documents (or a particular class of such records or documents specified in the declaration) of that organisation to be Departmental records for the purpose of this Act.

Certain records to be Departmental records, etc.

(2) The making of a request under this section by a local authority shall be a reserved function for the purposes of the County Management Acts, 1940 to 1972, and for the purposes of the enactments relating to the management of county boroughs.

14.—The deposit of specified Departmental records in any place that may from time to time be approved by the Taoiseach after consultation with the Director shall constitute a transfer to the National Archives for the purposes of this Act.

Deposit of certain Departmental records.

15.—Nothing in this Act shall affect any rights of a person claiming to be the owner of a document to recover the document.

Recovery of private documents.

16.—(1) The Taoiseach shall approve a seal of the National Archives, which shall be authenticated in accordance with regulations under section 19.

Seal of National Archives.

(2) Copies of archives in the custody of the National Archives (or of portions of such archives) shall be authenticated in accordance with regulations made under section 19.

(3) Judicial notice shall be taken of the seal of the National Archives or other means of authentication, and every document purporting to be duly stamped with the seal of the National Archives or to be authenticated in accordance with regulations under section 19 shall be received in evidence in any court of law and by any duly constituted tribunal and by either House of the Oireachtas (or committee of either such House) and shall be deemed to be a duly authenticated copy of the original unless the contrary is shown.

17.—(1) The making or supplying of reproductions by or under the direction of the Director of archives with the National Archives which are open to public inspection shall not infringe the copyright of such archives.

Copyright and reproduction of archives.

(2) In the case of archives other than archives which were formerly Departmental records, subsection (1) shall have effect subject to any terms or conditions under which such archives were obtained.

(3) A person shall not publish or reproduce the whole or any part of any archives with the National Archives without the written consent of the Director.

(4) A person who contravenes subsection (3) shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £800.

Removal of archives, etc.

18.—(1) Except as provided by law—

(a) a person shall not remove archives from the National Archives;

(b) a person shall not remove from the Irish Land Commission records transferred thereto under the Irish Church Act Amendment Act, 1881;

(c) a person shall not remove archives, which at the commencement of section 23 are held elsewhere than in the Public Record Office of Ireland under an Act mentioned in subsection (1) of that section, from the place in which they are so held at such commencement.

(2) A person who contravenes subsection (1) or who conceals or damages archives or who, without the consent of the Director, removes or destroys such archives shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £800.

Regulations, etc.

19.—(1) The Taoiseach, after consultation with the Director, may from time to time make regulations in relation to all or any of the following matters:

(a) the management and work of, and the services to be provided by, the National Archives,

(b) the transfer of Departmental records to the National Archives,

(c) the disposal in accordance with this Act of archives and Departmental records,

(d) the admission of persons to inspect archives and to use any facilities provided by the National Archives,

(e) the reproduction and publication of archives and extracts from them,

(f) the authentication of copies of and extracts from archives,

(g) any other matter necessary to give effect to this Act.

(2) The Taoiseach may from time to time by regulations, made with the consent of the Minister for Finance, fix the amount and manner of payment of fees for services rendered, and for the use of facilities provided, by the National Archives, and may authorise the remission of fees in relation to such class or classes of services as may be specified in the regulations.

(3) The Minister for the Public Service, after consultation with the Director, may make regulations—

- (a) for the proper management and preservation of Departmental records in the custody or care of a Department of State, and
- (b) fixing standards in relation to the copying of such records by photographic, micro-photographic and other processes, and providing for the authentication and preservation of such copies with a view to the disposal of the originals of such copies.
- (4) Originals of records copied in accordance with regulations under subsection (3) may be destroyed on the written authorisation of the Director.
- (5) Every regulation made under subsection (1) or (3) shall be laid before each House of the Oireachtas as soon as may be after it is made and, if a resolution annulling the regulation is passed by either such House within the next subsequent 21 days on which that House has sat after the regulation is laid before it, the regulation shall be annulled accordingly, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

20.—(1) The Taoiseach shall establish a Council, to be known as the National Archives Advisory Council (and referred to in this Act as “the Council”), to advise him in the exercise of his powers under this Act, and on all matters affecting archives and their use by the public, and to discharge the other functions conferred on it by this Act.

National Archives
Advisory Council.

(2) The Council shall consist of a chairman and not more than eleven other members, appointed by the Taoiseach on such terms and conditions as shall be determined by him, after consultation with the Minister for the Public Service.

(3) (a) The members of the Council shall include not less than two members of the Irish Manuscripts Commission and not less than two archivists not employed by the National Archives.

(b) The Director shall be entitled to attend meetings of the Council.

(4) The Taoiseach may at any time terminate the appointment of the chairman or any other member of the Council.

21.—(1) The Director shall submit to the Taoiseach an annual report on the work of the National Archives.

Annual Reports.

(2) The Council shall submit to the Taoiseach an annual report on the activities of the Council.

(3) The Taoiseach shall cause copies of the annual reports referred to in subsections (1) and (2) to be laid before each House of the Oireachtas.

22.—Any reference, whether express or implied, in any other enactment to the Deputy Keeper of the Records or the person known as the Keeper of the State Papers, or to the Public Record Office of Ireland or the office known as the State Paper Office, shall be construed (unless the context otherwise requires) as a reference to the Director or to the National Archives, as the case may require.

Construction of certain references.

Repeals, etc.

23.—(1) The following are hereby repealed—

(a) The Public Records (Ireland) Act, 1867,

(b) The Public Records (Ireland) Act, 1867, Amendment Act, 1875,

(c) The Parochial Records Act, 1876.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding subsection (1) all archives which were formerly public records held at the commencement of this section elsewhere than in the Public Record Office of Ireland under an Act mentioned in that subsection shall remain in the custody in which they are at such commencement: provided that the Taoiseach, after consultation with the Director—

10

(i) may make regulations relating to the manner in which such archives are to be kept and for their proper custody and

15

(ii) where he considers it necessary for the preservation of such archives may, by order, provide for the transfer of such archives to the National Archives or, with the consent of the Council, to another archival institution or other appropriate body.

20

(b) The Taoiseach, after consultation with the Director, may by order amend or revoke an order under this section.

Saver for certain records loaned, etc.

24.—Nothing in this Act shall affect the ownership of records loaned to or temporarily deposited in the Public Record Office of Ireland or elsewhere before the commencement of this section.

Expenses.

25.—The expenses incurred in the administration of this Act shall, to such extent as may be sanctioned by the Minister for Finance, be paid out of moneys provided by the Oireachtas.

Short title and commencement.

26.—(1) This Act may be cited as the National Archives Act, 1985.

(2) This Act shall come into operation on such day or days as may be fixed by order or orders of the Taoiseach, either generally or with reference to a particular purpose or provision, and different days may be so fixed for different purposes and different provisions of this Act.
