AN BILLE UM ATHCHÓIRIÚ AN DLÍ REACHTÚIL 2009
STATUTE LAW REVISION BILL 2009

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

Introduction

The principal purpose of the Bill is to repeal all Local and Personal Acts enacted prior to 1851 and all Private Statutes enacted prior to 1751, with the exception of a “white list” of Acts that are specifically preserved.

The process leading to the Bill attached to this Memorandum involved a review by the Office of the Attorney General of 3,182 pre 1751 Private Acts and 7,543 pre-1851 Local and Personal Acts. In total 10,725 statutes were analyzed during this phase of the Statute Law Revision Project. Apart from those Acts already repealed as regards Ireland, 8,957 Acts were assessed as not applicable to Ireland. Of the applicable Acts, 138 having been identified as not suitable for repeal as they contain provisions which may have ongoing relevance (these are listed in Schedule 1). The remaining 1,351 Acts have been assessed as suitable for repeal on the basis that they are spent or obsolete (these are listed in Schedule 2). As with the pre-1922 Public and General Acts dealt with by the Statute Law Revision Act 2007, the Private Acts and Local and Personal Acts that did not apply to Ireland will be implicitly repealed by their not being saved and referred to in Schedule 1 to the Bill. This Bill, in tandem with the Statute Law Revision Act 2007, constitutes one of the most extensive statute law revision programmes ever attempted anywhere in the world and for the first time provides a complete list of all primary legislation which is still in force for the periods in question.

Provisions of the Bill

Section 1: Definition.

Section 1 provides definitions of “Local and Personal Act”, “Private Act” and “Relevant Statute”.

The definitions of the series of statutes are necessary to distinguish them from statutes of a Public General nature which are not affected by this Bill. Note that the definitions relate only to statutes and therefore do not include charters of a local and personal or private nature, and thus such charters are not revoked by the Bill.

Section 2: Statute law revision repeal and saver

Section 2 is the central feature of this Bill. It will provide for a fundamental clarification and simplification of the statute book by expressly repealing all Local and Personal Acts up to and including 1850 and all Private Acts up to and including 1750, with only 2 exceptions:

1. Acts listed in Schedule 1 — these will be a list of Local and Personal Acts and Private Acts which are still relevant;
2. Pre-1922 Acts that have already been saved by Schedule 1 of the 2007 Act and remain in force. It is necessary to include reference to the public Acts in order to ensure that the scope of this Bill dovetails with that of the Statute Law Revision Act 2007, particularly as some of the Acts in the 2007 Act were published or listed both as public and private Acts.

Section 2(2)(c) merely saves any transitional or continuing provision that applies to any Act that has already been repealed prior to the present Bill.

Section 3: Specific repeals.

Section 3 provides, for information purposes, a list of all statutes repealed by section 2.

This section lists the specific Acts identified in the course of the review as being unnecessary or as having ceased to be in force. However, the section is not a repealing section, as the repeal is effected by section 2.

Section 4: Assignment of short titles.

Section 4 will assign short titles to any Act that is saved by section 2, which does not already have a short title.

Section 5: Miscellaneous amendments to short titles.

Section 5 makes provision for the amendment of any unconventional or inappropriate short titles in respect of Acts saved by section 2, in order to facilitate the citation of those Acts.

Section 6: Savings.

Section 6 provides for standard savings clauses. For clarity, as with the Statute Law Revision Act 2007, reference has also been inserted to the “application” of statutes to the State, in order to ensure that the saver clause is wide enough to preserve statutes which have been applied to Ireland by statutes repealed by this Bill.

Subsection (2) of this Section is designed to preserve the status of bodies which may have been established by a charter made consequent on a statute which is being repealed by this Act.

Section 7: Short title and collective citation.

Section 7 provides for a short title and collective citations. This is a standard provision and is based on section 10 of the 2007 Act.

Schedule 1

Schedule 1 provides a list of statutes which will remain in force following the enactment of the Bill (together with those listed in the 2007 Act).

Each part of Schedule 1 lists the Acts which it is considered are not appropriate for repeal at this time and are being retained in force specifically.

Schedule 1 is based on the fact that no Local and Personal Act of Great Britain passed between 1797 and 1800 has been found to be applicable to Ireland.

Schedule 2

Schedule 2 lists the Acts specifically repealed by the Bill. They will be Acts which, while applicable to Ireland, have been identified in the course of the review as appropriate for repeal because they have ceased to be in force or have become unnecessary. They are not saved by the saver in section 2(2) and thus will cease to be in force following enactment of this Bill. Other Local and Personal Acts and Private Acts that do not relate to Ireland or have only a tenuous connection with Ireland will not be included in Schedule 2 but will be impliedly repealed by virtue of the general repeal in section 2. Accordingly, this approach (also adopted in the Statute Law Revision Act 2007) will improve clarity as to the repeals relevant to Ireland and provide greater transparency with respect to relevant repeals.

Financial Implications

There are no Exchequer costs, staffing or other implications flowing from the enactment of the Bill, and the enactment of the Bill will produce savings in legal and business costs overall.
