Ms. Sarah O'Farrell Committee Secretariat Committee of Public Accounts Leinster House Dublin 2 - D02 XR20

Dear Ms. O'Farrell

I refer to your correspondence of late evening on Monday 3rd July 2023. Please find response below numbered in accordance to your queries along with the documentation numbered accordingly.

1. The earnings of each member of the executive board at RTÉ, to include any pension top-ups or any benefits.

The pay of the new permanent Leadership Team (along with any additional pension remuneration details) will be published annually along with top 10 presenter pay - this will be published in the annual report.

2. Details of the top 100 earners at RTÉ, and it is requested this information be made publicly available.

Attached.

3. The costs involved for "Toy Show the Musical", including details of any profit or loss related to the project.

Attached - 2 documents.

4. Clarification regarding the conversation(s) had between the Chief Financial Officer and the former Director General regarding the problem with the invoices flagged by Deloitte on 7 March 2023

On March 7 Richard Collins, Chief Financial Officer was contacted by the RTÉ Auditors as regards two specific invoices, which were understood to be authorised by the Director General Dee Forbes. Richard Collins queried the invoices with the Director General Dee Forbes, and the explanation provided was relayed to the auditor on 9 March. Deloitte ultimately elected to conduct further investigations as regards these two invoices.

5&6. The names of all people involved in the in the drafting signing or implementation of the tripartite commercial agreement between Renault, RTÉ and NK Management, and a copy of the agreement.

Tripartite agreement is attached. The contract was drafted by NK Management and the signatures appear to be applied by Docusign.

7. The clients for whom €111,000 was paid through the barter account in 2019 in respect of travel and hotels relating to the Rugby World Cup

RTÉ works with numerous advertising agencies and clients in Ireland and the UK, generating over €150m in 2022. Due to the small number of guests (4) relevant to this generating over €150m in 2022. Due to the small number of guests (4) relevant to this request included in this, RTÉ is not providing further so as not to identify individuals involved.

8. A copy of all bank accounts for RTÉ – where they are located, and how often they are reconciled.

An itemised list of accounts, and their respective purpose, is attached.

9. A copy of all barter accounts for RTÉ and TG4, including all transactions that went through them and the details thereof, and the arrangement(s) in place for the barter account(s), for the past 20 years –

Please note RTÉ has no responsibilities or access to TG4 financial information.

The barter account was created in 2012, and a more detailed briefing note, along with the details of all transactions is provided. RTÉ earned over €8 million in revenues from barter agencies from the end of 2012 to 2022. The balance of the credits which were not used was cashed out and recorded as commercial income.

This means that, through the barter account, RTÉ generated additional revenue over the period of €5.6 million. This represents less than half of 1% of total commercial income over the same period, but was additional income to the organisation, income RTÉ would not have had without using this model and, and income which went directly to supporting the provision of its public service remit.

The Director of Commercial previously had oversight of the barter account and was solely responsible for its operation. Until the appointment of Richard Collins as Chief Financial Officer in early 2020, the barter account had not been reflected in the RTÉ Financial Statement. At this point he instructed that it be brought into the year end financial statements to increase transparency and ensure it was recorded in the accounts. Since April 2023 it has been under the Finance function of RTÉ. A detailed note on the barter account, and all of the transactions has been supplied.

13 employee members of the RTÉ DC Scheme (active 10. Pension top ups. membership 1,272) have employer contribution rates in excess of the standard agerelated contribution rate. The top up over the standard employer contribution rate for the 13 cases is summarised as follows:

5 with an additional 6% 5 with an additional 1% 2 with an additional 3.5% 1(DG) 11%

11. When did car payments, or any other form of payment to supplement people's incomes, come in at RTE

Approximately 2008 - please see more detailed notes as at Answer 31.

12. A full audit over the past five years of appearances by the top 20 "talent" in RTÉ on RTÉ shows in which they were not involved.

There is no central database of programme contributors. Given that RTÉ runs a 24 hour schedule over multiple services, it is not possible to provide an analysis of this type. In the interests of transparency, we have done a sample review of the Late Late Show guests over the past five years. 17 top earning contractors appeared on the show over this time, along with 2 other top earning RTE staff members.

However, many of these guests were on the show to talk about television programmes or charity campaigns they were involved with, or were on the show to pay tribute to someone featured in a Late Late Show 'Special', it is not known from the data whether they were booked through their agent or through other means at the time of their booking.

This is from a total pool of well in excess of 300 guests and represents approximately 5.6% of those guests. That definition of guests does not include audience or music guests - if they were to be factored into the figures the overall guest number would exceed 400 and the relevant percentage would be 4.25%.

13. A full list of all talent agents that have done contracts with RTÉ and whether any of the agents have shares or ownership in any shows that have been contracted by RTÉ

The list of agents/third parties with whom RTÉ has engaged with terms of presenter talent, include the following: NK Management, Jane Russell Bigger Stage, Intertalent Agency (Hannah Layton) Lisa Richards Agency, and YM & U. (Please note that this list does not include the many agencies that RTÉ could engage with in terms of its range of drama productions, or other short term or occasional bookings). A small number of presenters elect to manage contractual issues via a solicitor.

Of these, Noel Kelly is noted with a credit in relation to Operation Transformation. Operation Transformation is an independent production, produced by Vision Independent Productions. It is, in part, based on an item which originally ran on The Gerry Ryan radio show prior to its transition to a television, radio and online offering in 2008.

The format was expanded and brought to television by VIP and the television format is wholly owned by both VIP and RTÉ. Because of Noel Kelly role in the origination of the radio item, the credits on the television programme include the credit "Initial Radio concept created By Noel Kelly".

RTÉ would be willing to disclose the contractual elements which underpin this, but this could not be disclosed without the agreement of NK Management & VIP.

14. A full list of all payments, all tickets and where they were divulged to, related to the barter accounts

Attached -as supplied at Item 9.

15. A copy of any minutes and any notes, including the note taken by the lawyer who was present at the meeting, from the Teams call relating to the tripartite agreement on 7 May 2020

The notes of the meeting prepared by the solicitor who attended the meeting are legally privileged. However, we attach copies of two emails sent on behalf of NK Management on 19 April 2023 and 5 May 2023 which outline what was agreed at that meeting.

16. A note on whether any barter accounts operated by RTÉ have the potential to breach competition or state aid rules.

Detailed note attached.

17. The cost of bringing clients to the U2 concert in Croke Park in 2017, and to the K Club on 27 May 2019

The costs of the U2 corporate hospitality event was €10,184.41 to include tickets, transportation, food and drink for approximately 40 people. The cost of the K Club corporate hospitality event was €26,012 to include green fees, food and beverages and some merchandise.

18. A copy of the five-year contract for Ryan Tubridy.

Attached as requested.

19. A copy of the Commercial Director's account of any benefits that she accrues from clients

We understand that the former Commercial Director was referring to annual SIPO returns as required, to which for last year confirmed a nil return.

20. A copy of any side letters that have been published or given relating to any of the negotiations or agreements relating to the tripartite agreement or Mr. Tubridy's 5 year contract

Attached.

- 21. A copy of the draft letter from Noel Kelly sent in the final stages of the 2020 agreement and referred to in the Grant Thornton report. Attached.
- 22. Confirmation as to whether costs were paid from the barter account for the former head of news to attend the 2019 Champions League final.

The former Head of News & Current Affairs paid his own costs when he attended the 2019 Champions League final.

23. The up-to-date subscription numbers for GAAGO for the 2023 championship season.

GAAGO Media Limited is a joint venture company. There are two partners to this joint venture company. They are RTÉ Commercial Enterprises DAC and the GAA. GAA GO Media Limited ("GAAGO") which operates as an independent and autonomous entity competing in the market with other content steaming providers.

GAAGO publishes its audited accounts for each financial year. Given the nature of the information that has been sought during the financial year of 2023, GAAGO will need to give due consideration this request. We will revert as soon as GAAGO has come to a decision on the matter.

24. Information regarding any deals that RTÉ staff have made with those on contracts, regardless of whether they have an agent, and whether those on contracts are getting any corporate hospitality or cars or any other benefits

As announced by the Director General Kevin Bakhurst on 10 July, RTÉ will also be establishing a Register of Interests for staff and contractors, in consultation with the TUG. RTÉ's Freedom of Information Officer has been asked to take the lead in a scoping out this important process and to look at RTÉ's legal obligations as well as the operation of registers and declarations of interest in the civil service and in broadcasters internationally. In addition, Acting Interim Director General, Adrian Lynch has written to all relevant line managers in RTÉ seeking clarification on any potential breaches of RTÉ's journalism and content guidelines and meetings are underway in this regard. This is long overdue and as new cases come to light which continue damage trust in RTÉ, this process is being treated with due urgency and importance.

25. The minutes of all executive board meetings for the past five years

It will not be possible to provide these at this stage - the minutes will have to be reviewed and redacted for issues relating to commercial sensitivity, legal professional privilege and data protection obligations.

26. Whether RTÉ crews, facilities and/or equipment were used for recording and performance at Renault events as part of the commercial arrangement, and if so, the cost of same

The events took place in Cork (22/3/2022), Dublin (26/4/2022) and Dundalk (10/5/2022). The events were organised by an external events management company (hired directly by Renault. The event company hired all sound, cameras, crew, catering etc. for these events.

We have checked the records and our conclusion is that no RTÉ Operations staff were involved with these events. These events involved one RTÉ producer, to oversee the events from an RTÉ point of view, to ensure the content was appropriate and that the Late Late brand was not involved (these were events with Ryan Tubridy, rather than Late Late related events), and to liaise with the events company who were running the events. This work was completed in tandem with existing work commitments. No other RTÉ staff were involved in these events.

In addition, RTÉ paid, via the UK Barter account, for the costs of hosting the commercial sponsor events in 2022. The actual cost of the events was €30,586. These payments were recorded in the barter account at a value of €47,477. Taking the €22k set build into the total cost of the events is in fact just under €70k

27. A note on the arrangement under which Ryan Tubridy is operating at RTÉ Radio since his contract for television and radio came to an end on 31 May

Rvan Tubridy stood down from The Late Late Show at the end of May 2023. RTÉ had commenced negotiations in relation to a radio services contract. Those negotiations have been paused as with all negotiations as per Board statement. RTÉ has written to his agent noting that the previous contract has come to an end.

28. A list of the credit notes issued over the past ten years by RTÉ.

The attached file represents a partial extraction from the RTÉ sales system from 2017. It represents transactions from the sales system and not from any other area in RTÉ. Names of clients, agencies, and products have been redacted. extraction in that it represents net amounts of credit for campaigns during that period.

It does not capture the full amount of credit notes (if applicable) relating to digital advertising sales, or the RTÉ Guide in 2017 as these were booked on a separate sales system which has since been discontinued.

Please note that full validation of this report has not been undertaken due to the time to extract and turnaround.

29. A copy of the contract with the former Director General, and the required resignation period under that contract.

RTÉ has data protection obligations to all staff, and therefore we are unable to furnish the full contract. However in the interests of transparency, please find attached the details of the termination clause within same.

30. Copies of arrangements and contracts in place with the barter company.

Please see Items 9 and 14 and related documentation.

31. A detailed breakdown of who has a car allowance at RTÉ, and whether it is vouched, or how it is paid.

Attached. Car allowances form part of some employee remuneration. They have existed since at least the 1980s. In 2005 in order to bring more coherence and simplicity to management allowances they were consolidated and called "car allowances". These are not vouched allowances.

Yours sincerely

Adrian Lynch,

Acting Deputy Director-General, RTÉ

1. RTÉ and Live Events

As has been well documented, most recently in the Future of Media Commission Report, RTÉ is among the most reliant public service media organisations in the EBU on commercial revenue to sustain what it is obliged to do.

Between 2010 and 2019 RTÉ's total public-commercial funding mix averaged 46% commercial and 54% public funding. Of the many public media organisations in the EBU, RTÉ is the third most reliant on commercial revenues (behind Channel 4 in the UK and PBS in Malta).

With a TV Licence system now losing in excess of €65m per year due to the persistent failure of successive Governments to reform the system and with advertising increasingly being challenged by media fragmentation and digital disruption, RTÉ must seek to diversify its commercial activities. In short, RTÉ must try new things, to grow and sustain all we are obliged to do.

In recent years we have invested in new ventures such as GAAGO and URCTV, we have grown our non-broadcast digital advertising revenues through the RTÉ Player and the RTÉ Radio Player, and we have grown our commercial income through new $3^{\rm rd}$ party distribution and content deals. Live ticketed events is an area we have also sought to develop.

Many media companies - public service and commercial, large and small - have developed adjacent live events to complement their movie, broadcast, streaming or publishing activities.

Disney has long lead the way through it musicals; The Lion King, Beauty and the Beast, Disney on Ice, etc, in extending its movies into multiple live experience formats. In recent years the BBC has developed many live shows based on some of its big TV properties (e.g., Top Gear, Strictly Come Dancing, Dr. Who, Countryfile, etc). The New York Times and closer to home the Irish Times or Business Post routinely host a variety of conferences, cultural and other live ticketed events. In the new digital media world, live versions of popular podcasts are now a key part of the live events world as podcasters seek to add live ticketing revenue, merchandising and subscriptions to their commercial activities.

As a public service media organisation, RTÉ uniquely understands the value of providing multiple shared 'experiences 'across the day, week and year. It is core to the role of public media – whether through our sports coverage, drama, comedy, news, live concerts or coverage of national events/emergencies – RTÉ seeks to bring people together with output that is memorable and allows people to connect both emotionally and rationally.

RTÉ has for many years been involved in organising, hosting or having a presence at events of all kinds, from the annual National Ploughing Championships to Culture Night, the BT Young Scientist and Technology Exhibition, the RTÉ Choice Music Prize, the RTÉ Folk Awards, Bloom, to the extensive commemorative public events during 2016 and an extensive partnerships and arts supports programme. In music, RTÉ for many years managed both the RTÉ National Symphony and the RTÉ Concert Orchestra. RTÉ's most recent experience of a live large scale musical theatre event was Centenary in 2016, a special event to mark the 100 anniversary of 1916.

As an example of previous large scale RTÉ ticketed events, across 2016-2018 RTÉ developed a new dance music show using its Concert Orchestra pared with the popular 2fm DJ, Jenny Greene. Launching at the Electric Picnic in 2016, the show since travelled to sell out shows in Cork, Galway, Killarney and the 3Arena in Dublin, selling out to tens of thousands of fans between 2016 and 2019. In 2017, 2fm and the RTÉ Concert Orchestra again collaborated on a new hip-hop themed show, The Story of Hip Hop at the Electric Picnic. Four Irish urban artists (Mango, Jafaris, Erica and Jessica) rapped and sang with the orchestra. The Story of Hip Hop also played at the Longitude festival in 2018.

In November 2019, RTÉ set out as part of its Revised Strategy an ambition to develop new live events to complement its broadcasting and online services. The rationale for adding live events to complement RTÉ's television, radio and digital services is three-fold:

- to add both public value and commercial revenue
- to extend and amplify programme and channel brands
- and to grow and deepen RTÉ's relationship with its audiences

The Broadcasting Act 2009 expressly explicitly permits RTÉ to develop and charge for ticketed events, Article 114 (h) states that RTÉ can: 'organise, provide and subsidise concerts, entertainments, education and other activities in connection with a broadcasting service or for any purpose incidental to it and, in relation to any such concert or entertainment, to provide or procure accommodation and, if desired, to make charges for admission'

While clearly the Covid-19 pandemic delayed RTÉ's ambitions in the live events area, over the past two years RTÉ continued to develop our plans and events for when the sector would again open up for live audiences.

The first of these new events was Toy Show the Musical, scheduled for Christmas 2022.

2. RTÉ Late Late Toy Show: Extending beyond the TV Show

Toy Show the Musical as a project was in development for nearly three years. Over that period it went through a series of development stages both as a concept and creative project.

The Late Late Toy Show

The Late Toy Show is the most-watched programme on Irish television. From small beginnings in 1975 the RTÉ Late Late Toy Show has grown to become a singular phenomenon in modern Irish culture. It is transformative in the lives of the children who star in it and a key touchstone each year for families, viewing from home, who embrace the many new traditions which have grown up around the night itself.

In 2022, average TV viewing for the show (including catch-up viewing on Saturday and Sunday) was over 1.6 million. Over 80% of children in the country tune in to show each year. There are no parallels in any other competitive media market in the world.

RTÉ is extremely proud of the Late Late Toy Show, much more than a show about toys, it is now an annual celebration of Irish children, particularly those children that can often be on the margins of their family, community or their classroom. The Late Late Toy Show will always remain free-to-air, at the heart of RTÉ's pre-Christmas schedule.

It was the clear that the public interest in participating in the Toy Show was very large. Aside from the big TV audience, before the pandemic, tens of thousands of people applied for tickets each year to be part of the 200-seater studio audience at the Toy Show.

Given the extraordinary audience interest in and engagement with the Toy Show, over the years there have been a variety of ideas to extend the Toy Show brand beyond the programme itself.

The Toy Show Appeal, was the first extension of the Toy Show brand launched in 2020 by RTÉ.

Conceived of by the same team behind Toy Show the Musical, the Toy Show Appeal has now raised in excess of €17m in public donations across 2020, 2021 and 2022, and has provided support or services to over 1 million children and their families through multiple charities across the island of Ireland.

Now an integral part of the Late Toy Show, and thanks to the generosity of viewers, the Toy Show Appeal has become the largest (non-state) contributor to children's charities in Ireland.

3. Toy Show the Musical

The Proposition

From the outset there was agreement that if RTÉ was to develop a live event related to or based on the Toy Show it had to be original, authentic, and consistent with values and scale of the TV show. Crucially, any show connected to the Toy Show had to be led by children and for children and families.

Building something new from the Toy Show had particular strategic appeal for RTÉ for a number of reasons:

- Engaging and reaching children is increasingly a challenge for all media today, building something new, live and immersive (that is non-screen based) led by children for children and families was a real opportunity for RTÉ to strengthen our relationship with that audience.
- When so many family shows in Dublin are imported (from Disney, Broadway or the West End) creating a new original Irish family show with Irish voices, Irish characters and new Irish music would offer audiences something unique and distinctive, rooted in our culture and our community.
- The Toy Show is a huge event for children every year and much loved brand among children and families which made it a logical starting point for launching a new theatrical show aimed at those same audiences, particularly audiences who may only rarely experience live theatre.

Creative Development

The original idea to begin considering a live show related to the Late Late Toy Show came from the then Late Show producers Jane Murphy and Katherine Drohan as part of an internal workshop to develop live event ideas in early 2020.

Like any creative project, from 2020 the concept evolved through a series of creative development workshops across 2021 and 2022. During this period RTÉ sought the advice and experience of a number of theatre/musical theatre producers and professionals, including; Moya Doherty (then RTÉ Chair), Ciaran Walsh, Julian Erskine and Joe Csibi (RTÉ Concert Orchestra).

It was not until after a week-long theatrical workshop in the summer of 2021, directed by Seimí Campbell working with a team of young actors, that Toy Show the Musical began to take shape in the form of an original story centring on a family on Toy Show night.

Creative Team

From September 2021 RTÉ began to assemble the creative team to deliver all the elements of Toy Show the Musical – script/story, music and lyrics, choreography, set and costume design, casting, lighting, sound and production.

The final creative team on Toy Show the Musical was as follows:

Created & Produced by Jane Murphy & Katherine Drohan Book by Lisa Tierney-Keogh and Jamie Beamish Composer - RuthAnne Cunningham & Harry Blake Director - Séimí Campbell Choreographer - James Cousins Musical Supervisor & Orchestrator - Sarah Travis Set & Costume Design - Colin Richmond Casting Director - Maureen Hughes Creative Producer - Sarah Lynch Consultant Producer - Julian Erskine Production Manager - Eamonn Fox

(See Show Programme attached with full details of the creative team's experience)

The majority of Irish creative professionals working in musical theatre now do so outside of Ireland. RTÉ is very aware of how few opportunities there are here to work on projects of this scale and ambition, and was very excited to be able to offer that opportunity to such a young and talented, almost fully Irish, team.

RTÉ supports the arts in many ways, but perhaps the most practical way is in creating meaningful creative opportunities and pathways for new talent.

A diverse cast, led by children

Central to Toy Show the Musical was its child led cast. In total, the production had a cast of 34 children, arranged in three teams and supported by 16 adults. The casting process was led by Maureen Hughes, one of Ireland's most experienced casting directors for film, TV and theatre. The search for the lead character, Nell Mooney (a 13 year old child), included a nationwide search followed by live auditions in June 2022. The truly diverse cast of children came from across the island, with the three lead Nells – Ceola Dunne from Meath; Clare Keely from Armagh; and Doireann McNally from Louth.

The adult actors were likewise cast from across the island with our three leads, Clare Barrett, Jaime Beamish and Anna Healy from Galway, Waterford and Dublin respectively.

(See Show Programme attached with full details of the cast)

In total, between the creative team, cast, and crew this show employed over 100 people during its run, in addition to a front of house team and set up crew.

Scale, timing and market

Given the scale and reach of the Toy Show itself, Toy Show the Musical needed to have similar ambition. Consistent with its remit, RTÉ set out to create a big show for a family audience.

In terms of timing, given the Toy Show is a key part of Christmas and given the target audience is children and families, the show was planned for the Christmas period and holidays (when children are off school).

In terms of the market, the show was positioned as a new original Irish musical for children and families. Just like RTÉ's key broadcast and online competition, the key competition for the show is international - the large imported shows from Disney, Broadway and the West End.

Toy Show the Musical is not a pantomime nor is it designed or priced to compete with the much loved Irish pantomimes.

Business Development

As the creative project developed so too did the business modelling. Clearly to produce a musical of the scale and ambition of Toy Show the Musical would require investment. Similarly, in making that investment it was also clear that the aim had to be a returnable show over a number of years.

As the creative project took shape RTÉ's Director of Strategy, Rory Coveney working closely with the producers and with the assistance initially of Ciaran Walsh and Julian Erskine and latterly of Sarah Lynch (all experienced theatre professionals), developed the business case for the show. As with any business case it included modelling of projected revenues, ticket pricing, promotion, sales forecasting on the one side and detailed show and other costings on the other.

Public procurement and commercial contracts were managed and negotiated as any other project in RTÉ with the assistance of the finance and legal teams. The key contracts (commercial and employment) related to this project included the following:

- creative team & cast
- venues (rehearsals and show)
- technology and production equipment
- ticketing partner
- merchandising partner

The budgeting and financial management of the project was managed by the producers and the RTÉ finance team, with all appropriate controls. Toy Show the Musical is a RTÉ Commercial Enterprises DAC project.

As would be normal in any new venture of this kind the business case was presented to the RTÉ finance team for review and interrogation of the assumptions and the risks. The Chair of the RTÉ Board, Director General and the RTÉ Executive were also briefed on the project.

The final green light on the project was given in March 29th 2022 by a subset of the RTÉ Board (the Audit and Risk Sub-Committee and the Programme Sub-Committee).

Toy Show The Musical was launched on 13th May on The Late Show with a performance of the first original song 'All the Same' by the show's composer, Ruth Anne Cunningham, supported by Saoirse Ruane and a special Toy Show choir: https://youtu.be/84L6AYdJ-FU

Promotion

In order to publicise the show and sell tickets, RTÉ had to promote the show both on its own services and on third party media. Alongside its broadcast and online output, RTÉ routinely promotes its orchestra and live events it produces and supports. Like all broadcasters, RTÉ promotes our own programmes and are expressly permitted by our regulator to cross promote programme related projects like Toy Show the Musical outside of commercial airtime.

For information, RTÉ routinely supports non-RTÉ shows, concerts and live events of all kinds through its RTÉ supporting the Arts scheme. Likewise, RTÉ's commercial airtime is and has always been open to commercial live productions, indeed a range of other Christmas shows were heavily promoted across RTÉ services. There are no restrictions on access to RTÉ platforms for the promotion of commercial productions.

Pricing and Access

The show was priced very competitively (\leq 25- \leq 65) relative to its key competition, with booking/service charge of \leq 2.50 per ticket substantially cheaper than other comparable shows in Dublin.

In keeping with the values of the Toy Show, a key ambition for the project at the beginning was to ensure access to the show for those that would typically not go to theatrical/musical productions of this kind.

RTÉ provided two signed shows and special sensory show for those with special sensory needs. The venue also had 12 wheelchair spaces for every show.

With the help of sponsorship we were pleased to be able to invite 150 pupils from each of the ten DEIS primary schools closest to the Convention Centre in Dublin to the show free-of-charge. We also made tickets available to the children's charities that benefited over the past few years from Toy Show Appeal, and working with the Ukrainian Embassy we invited 220 Ukrainian children and families to attend a special performance of the show on Christmas Eve, and across the run we worked with Temple Street Hospital to invite sick children and their families to the show.

4. Toy Show the Musical: Year One

RTÉ will of course conclude a much more detailed analysis of Toy Show the Musical in due course. As would by typical of musicals of this scale and ambition, our aim is to bring the show back over a number of years to recoup our investment.

Overall RTÉ is very proud of the show. Developing and producing a new original musical is complex and difficult, but with a strong and experienced creative team and wonderful cast of child and adult actors, new original songs, beautiful staging, and a uniquely Irish family story, the feedback we have received from those attending the show has been very positive.

While audiences were lower than we had hoped for, we are very heartened by the reaction of those that did attend, particularly children. Children today, with so many digital distractions are a challenging to engage, but children in particular were very taken with story and songs and that the show itself is led by a diverse cast of children like them.

Clearly having to cancel a series of sold out/close to sold out shows on the 17th/18th of December due to cast/crew illness had a big impact on audience numbers, not just to the those shows but also the knock on impact to sentiment and word of mouth about the show over the Christmas period.

As with any new creative initiative, improvements and changes can be made to the show, along with a review of all the operational and commercial underpinnings of the project, but fundamentally we believe we have much to build on for subsequent years.

Summary Financial Report

As per RTÉ's previous correspondence with the Public Accounts Committee, in presenting this financial summary RTÉ has tried to balance the Committee's legitimate interest in understanding the financial outturn in year one of Toy Show the Musical with RTÉ's commercial interests and those of contractual partners involved in this project.

Business Assumptions

Based on detailed financial and business modelling the following were the primary business assumptions:

- The first run of Toy Show the Musical to be staged in the Auditorium of the Convention Centre Dublin (CCD). The Auditorium has tiered seating for a total audience of 1,995.
- RTÉ booked the facility for a period from 3 Dec 2022 to 7 January 2023 with live public performances commencing on 10 December. The plan was to host up to 54 performances during this period with 2 to 3 performances each day.
- Net box office revenue predictions based on a sell out for the entire run of 54 shows (107k audience) of the musical would deliver c. €4.1m.
- The average ticket price was quoted at €46.50. The break-even point of revenue vs total costs was 70% capacity across all shows.
- RTÉ's Q2 Forecast included revenue for the event at €3.215m which was based on c. 83.75% capacity, c. 90,220 sales at a ticket price of €46.50 less c. 25% for agency fees, concessions and royalties.
- Total show costs were budgeted at €2.9m covering the creative team, casting, venue, and show running costs. All cast and crew were contracted up to the expected final date of the run of 7 January 2023.

Audience and Revenue Outturn: Year One

- Total number of performances = 27 live shows, from 10 December 2023 to 31 December 2023.
- Final Sales = 20,262 (tickets sold = 11,044) (Comps/Guests 5,573 + Competitions/Offers 3,645)
- Net Ticket Sales = €451k (Net of ticket refunds and VAT)
 Event sponsorship = €45k
- Total revenue = €496k (c. €2.7m adverse vs Q2 forecast)
- Average ticket price from tickets sold = €43 (tickets sold = 11,044)
- Total venue capacity for shows which proceeded was c. 53,865, final audience for these 27 shows totalled 22,303 which represents 41% of available capacity.
- Impact of Show Cancellations:
 - o Total Audience pre-cancellations = 27,005
 - o Total Revenue pre-cancellations = €722k
 - o Total Audience Refunded = 6,743
 - o Total Refund Value = €251k

Total costs = €2.7m (c. €171k favourable vs budget)

(See detail overleaf)

Actual Loss on Year One = €2.2m

Barter Trading

There are three barter companies with which RTÉ trades: Astus, Active & Miroma which are managed within RTÉ within one Barter account*. The spreadsheets are in the accompanying folder.

The purpose of this note is to clarify the barter mechanism and the barter account. The barter mechanism generates advertising revenues via barter agencies. This is additional revenue, which is derived from multiple advertising clients which, absent the barter mechanism, RTÉ might not be able to secure. RTÉ generates a significant portion of its commercial revenue through the sale of advertising. This is done primarily through media agencies who each act on behalf of a portfolio of clients. This enables RTÉ to maximise revenue in an efficient and effective manner.

It is important to note that the use of barter accounts is commonplace in the advertising industry. They are used by RTÉ solely in the context of its commercial activity of selling advertising airtime. A barter account may be used for the purpose of hospitality and entertainment in relation to advertising clients/media agencies to ensure that RTÉ can continue to increase its advertising revenue and to retain it going forward. This is entirely legitimate. Moreover, this model is commonly used by competitors and is standard industry wide.

During the period 2012 to 2022, RTÉ spent an average of approximately €150,000 each year on client entertainment/ hospitality, which was paid for through the barter account. The average annual commercial revenue generated by RTÉ in each of those years was €150,000,000. To put this into further context, during the same period 2012 to 2022, RTÉ generated €1.65 billion in total commercial income. During this period, RTÉ used approximately €1.6 million of barter account revenue for client entertainment and corporate hospitality.

While traditional advertising campaigns are billed and paid for in full in cash, barter campaigns are billed on 50% in cash and 50% in credit, the credit being accumulated over time. This enables a media company or RTÉ to trade its advertising space in return for goods and services produced by other companies with the media bartering company providing the marketplace for these trades, at a discounted rate. For example, advertising space could be exchanged for use of hotel rooms or other hospitality/entertainment costs with transactions being priced at 65 percent of the face value. This allows for discounts and the fees charged by the bartering company.

Its use has proved to be a necessary flexible business practice for the RTÉ commercial sales teams. It does not impact on licence fee revenue in any way, nor is any spending on client hospitality/entertainment derived from licence fee income in any way. Such spend is derived from solely from commercial revenue.

The barter account is where the balance is maintained between the media company and the media bartering company, based on the level of business contracted. RTÉ earned over €8 million in revenues from barter agencies from the end of 2012 to 2022. The balance of the credits which were not used was cashed out and recorded as commercial income.

This means that, through the barter account, RTÉ generated additional revenue over the period of €5.6 million. This represents less than half of 1% of total commercial income over the same period, but was additional income to the organisation, income RTÉ would not have had without using this model and, and income which went directly to supporting the provision of its public service remit.

Example of a barter booking

The mechanism is based on 50% being paid for in advertising space and 50% in credits or services that the advertiser who avails of it can provide.

RTÉ can avail of the credits or choose to cash them in, in which case, 50% of the value within the barter account, is charged with a management fee.

An industry standard cash out rate of 0.65 is applies to the element held in credit with the barter company and does not relate to the 50%. Therefore, the actual cost of business across the overall transaction is 17.5% of the value of the transaction, i.e., Revenue $(50\% + (50\% \times 0.65)) = 82.5\%$.

Advertiser
Campaign
RTE Television	Net	Cash /	Cash	Barter
	Budget	Barter Deal
1/7 - 16/7	€3,910	50% Trade	€1,955	€1,955
Total	€3,910	50% Trade	€1,955	€1,955
Value Total Revenue
Cash Value	€1,955

Barter Value (0.65)	€1,270
Total (net)	€3,225
Cost of Sale	€684

Typically, the clients who advertise with a media company or with RTÉ through barter agency would not transact business with RTÉ outside this model. Therefore, this income is additional to revenue that comes in through the traditional route and would not otherwise be received. An example of client entertainment which was provided from barter in 2019 was client representation/hospitality at the Rugby World Cup at cost of €111,000. The companies represented by the clients on the trip had spent €38 million in 2018 with RTÉ.

Three additional points are worth noting within a broader context. Firstly, RTÉ is a dual-funded public service media provider meaning that it derives its funding from both television licence fee and commercial revenue. In this regard, RTÉ is permitted and obliged to earn commercial revenue arising from commercial opportunities as provided for in legislation. RTÉ is obliged to maximise its commercial revenue which is then used to discharge the cost to it of fulfilling its public service remit. The total cost to RTÉ to deliver its public service remit in 2022 was €331,000 Absent commercial revenue of €148,000, RTÉ would simply not be able to fulfil its public service objectives which are comprehensively outlined in the Broadcasting Act, 2009.

Secondly, the sale of advertising airtime comprises a significant portion of RTÉ's commercial revenue. RTÉ has approximately half the available minutage of its commercial competitors. In addition, the advertising market in Ireland is highly competitive. RTÉ competes with over forty channels for television advertising alone, over forty radio stations and thousands of online operators. As outlined above, in 2022, commercial income represented 44% of RTÉ's funding; that is almost half of the cost of fulfilling its public service objectives.

Finally, as RTÉ continues to be funded to a significant degree by commercial revenue, its use of a barter account for the purposes of client entertainment/hospitality is appropriate, follows standard practice within the advertising industry, is de minimis in terms of spend when compared to the revenue that is earned and is in no way derived from licence fee funding. It appears on the balance sheet of RTÉ, and the appropriate controls are in place regarding oversight and spend.

Barter Trading

There are three barter companies with which RTÉ trades: Astus, Active & Miroma which are managed within RTÉ within one Barter account*. The spreadsheets are in the accompanying folder.

The purpose of this note is to clarify the barter mechanism and the barter account. The barter mechanism generates advertising revenues via barter agencies. This is additional revenue, which is derived from multiple advertising clients which, absent the barter mechanism, RTÉ might not be able to secure. RTÉ generates a significant portion of its commercial revenue through the sale of advertising. This is done primarily through media agencies who each act on behalf of a portfolio of clients. This enables RTÉ to maximise revenue in an efficient and effective manner.

It is important to note that the use of barter accounts is commonplace in the advertising industry. They are used by RTÉ solely in the context of its commercial activity of selling advertising airtime. A barter account may be used for the purpose of hospitality and entertainment in relation to advertising clients/media agencies to ensure that RTÉ can continue to increase its advertising revenue and to retain it going forward. This is entirely legitimate. Moreover, this model is commonly used by competitors and is standard industry wide.

During the period 2012 to 2022, RTÉ spent an average of approximately €150,000 each year on client entertainment/ hospitality, which was paid for through the barter account. The average annual commercial revenue generated by RTÉ in each of those years was €150,000,000. To put this into further context, during the same period 2012 to 2022, RTÉ generated €1.65 billion in total commercial income. During this period, RTÉ used approximately €1.6 million of barter account revenue for client entertainment and corporate hospitality.

While traditional advertising campaigns are billed and paid for in full in cash, barter campaigns are billed on 50% in cash and 50% in credit, the credit being accumulated over time. This enables a media company or RTÉ to trade its advertising space in return for goods and services produced by other companies with the media bartering company providing the marketplace for these trades, at a discounted rate. For example, advertising space could be exchanged for use of hotel rooms or other hospitality/entertainment costs with transactions being priced at 65 percent of the face value. This allows for discounts and the fees charged by the bartering company.

Its use has proved to be a necessary flexible business practice for the RTÉ commercial sales teams. It does not impact on licence fee revenue in any way, nor is any spending on client hospitality/entertainment derived from licence fee income in any way. Such spend is derived from solely from commercial revenue.

The barter account is where the balance is maintained between the media company and the media bartering company, based on the level of business contracted. RTÉ earned over €8 million in revenues from barter agencies from the end of 2012 to 2022. The balance of the credits which were not used was cashed out and recorded as commercial income.

This means that, through the barter account, RTÉ generated additional revenue over the period of €5.6 million. This represents less than half of 1% of total commercial income over the same period, but was additional income to the organisation, income RTÉ would not have had without using this model and, and income which went directly to supporting the provision of its public service remit.

Example of a barter booking

The mechanism is based on 50% being paid for in advertising space and 50% in credits or services that the advertiser who avails of it can provide.

RTÉ can avail of the credits or choose to cash them in, in which case, 50% of the value within the barter account, is charged with a management fee.

An industry standard cash out rate of 0.65 is applies to the element held in credit with the barter company and does not relate to the 50%. Therefore, the actual cost of business across the overall transaction is 17.5% of the value of the transaction, i.e., Revenue $(50\% + (50\% \times 0.65)) = 82.5\%$.

Value Total Revenue
Cash Value	€1,955

Barter Value (0.65)	€1,270
Total (net)	€3,225

Typically, the clients who advertise with a media company or with RTÉ through barter agency would not transact business with RTÉ outside this model. Therefore, this income is additional to revenue that comes in through the traditional route and would not otherwise be received. An example of client entertainment which was provided from barter in 2019 was client representation/hospitality at the Rugby World Cup at cost of €111,000. The companies represented by the clients on the trip had spent €38 million in 2018 with RTÉ.

Three additional points are worth noting within a broader context. Firstly, RTÉ is a dual-funded public service media provider meaning that it derives its funding from both television licence fee and commercial revenue. In this regard, RTÉ is permitted and obliged to earn commercial revenue arising from commercial opportunities as provided for in legislation. RTÉ is obliged to maximise its commercial revenue which is then used to discharge the cost to it of fulfilling its public service remit. The total cost to RTÉ to deliver its public service remit in 2022 was €331,000 Absent commercial revenue of €148,000, RTÉ would simply not be able to fulfil its public service objectives which are comprehensively outlined in the Broadcasting Act, 2009.

Secondly, the sale of advertising airtime comprises a significant portion of RTÉ's commercial revenue. RTÉ has approximately half the available minutage of its commercial competitors. In addition, the advertising market in Ireland is highly competitive. RTÉ competes with over forty channels for television advertising alone, over forty radio stations and thousands of online operators. As outlined above, in 2022, commercial income represented 44% of RTÉ's funding; that is almost half of the cost of fulfilling its public service objectives.

Finally, as RTÉ continues to be funded to a significant degree by commercial revenue, its use of a barter account for the purposes of client entertainment/hospitality is appropriate, follows standard practice within the advertising industry, is de minimis in terms of spend when compared to the revenue that is earned and is in no way derived from licence fee funding. It appears on the balance sheet of RTÉ, and the appropriate controls are in place regarding oversight and spend.

*This is a clarification based on explanations provided by Chief Financial Officer, Richard Collins at a sitting of the Joint Oireachtas Committee earlier this week.

Great to chat yesterday and apologies for the delay in getting back to you.

I will review our records to check whether we have a version of the tripartite agreement signed by all parties.

Meanwhile, the requirement for a third side letter was overtaken by confirmations provided by Dee Forbes on behalf of RTE at a video meeting that occurred on 7 May 2020 attended by Dee Forbes, Noel Kelly and myself.

It was confirmed at that meeting by Dee Forbes on behalf of RTÉ that in consideration of the new agreement, RTÉ guarantees the payments required to be made by Renault under the tripartite agreement and indemnifies Tuttle Productions Limited in relation to these payments for the duration of the contract.

I hope this clarifies matters for you.

Kind regards,

Dear Paula,

I hope you are well today!

In light of your clarifying email, we confirm that Invoice number 11416, dated 9 May 2022, for an amount of €75,000 and Invoice number 11526, dated 6 July 2022, for an amount of €75,000 were issued and paid, in accordance with the tri-partite agreement. As previously stated, it was confirmed at a meeting on 7 May 2020 by Dee Forbes on behalf of RTÉ that in consideration of the new agreement, RTÉ guarantees the payments required to be made by Renault under the tripartite agreement and indemnifies Tuttle Productions Limited in relation to these payments for the duration of the contract.

Dear

Many thanks for your speedy response. What I have set out in my earlier email are the specific queries in relation to the audit. The context is closing out the audit for 2022. What is being sought is confirmation that the payments were invoiced, made, and relate to the Company/Presenter in circumstances where the tri party agreement does not refer to specific figures and the confirmation of the underwriting by RTÉ of those payments (and the legal obligation to pay) was given orally.

Kind regards Paula

Dear

My name is Paula Mullooly, the Director of Legal in RTÉ. I am currently dealing with some queries from our auditors and to assist them I would appreciate if you could confirm in writing, the following:

- 1. That CMS raised two invoices as noted below with Astus:

 - (b) Invoice number 11526, dated 6 July 2022, for an amount of €75,000
- 2. That CMS were paid in full for both these invoices;

Thank you in advance.

Item 16.

Please provide a note on whether any barter accounts operated by RTÉ have the potential to breach competition or State aid rules.

RTÉ has considered the question raised by the PAC and taken advice from competition law specialists in relation to this matter. RTÉ's position is set out in more detail below. In summary, having regard to the applicable criteria for establishing State aid and the relevant provisions of Irish and EU competition law, RTÉ does not consider there is any basis on which the use of barter accounts would give rise to a breach of either State aid or competition law rules.

State aid

In order for a State aid to arise, a number of criteria must be met. The measure in question must involve: (i) the use of State resources; (ii) the conferring of a selective advantage; (iii) a distortion of competition on a relevant market; and (iv) an effect on trade between EU Member States. Each of these criteria must be met in order for a State aid to arise.

The operation of a barter account by RTÉ does not fulfil these criteria. Although RTÉ is a public service media organisation, this does not mean that all of its activities constitute the "use of public resources" for the purposes of State aid law. In this regard, the barter accounts were ultimately operated by RTÉ's commercial division in a commercial context relating to RTÉ's commercial advertising income.

Moreover, having regard to the sums involved (particularly in the context of RTÉ's commercial income), the operation of barter accounts generally do not discriminate between advertisers and would not be capable of resulting in any distortion of markets in which RTÉ operates (including the broadcasting and advertising markets). Finally, the operation of a barter account by RTÉ does not appear capable of affecting trade between EU Member States.

Competition law

The Competition Act 2002 prohibits: (i) agreements between undertakings that have as their object or effect the prevention, restriction or distortion of competition in Ireland; and (ii) undertakings that hold dominant market positions from abusing that position. EU law imposes the same obligations where there is an effect on trade between EU Member States.

The operation of a barter account by RTÉ would not give rise to an infringement of any of these provisions of Irish or EU law. The barter account is a commonly-used mechanism in media companies, the object of which is not to prevent or distort competition. Given their limited nature and scope, the operation of these accounts would not be capable of affecting competition on any relevant market in which RTÉ operates, including the markets for broadcasting and advertising, nor would they be capable of foreclosing other media businesses from competing in any such relevant market. As the operation of the barter account does not give rise to any potential for the distortion of the markets in which RTÉ operates, no infringement of Irish or EU competition law would arise.

Furthermore, the Unfair Dismissals Acts, 1977 – 2015 (or any future legislative amendments to these Acts) shall not apply to the termination of this Agreement.

RTÉ acknowledge that the Presenter is not responsible for the Budget associated with the broadcast of either the TV or Radio show.

- 5.4 The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall comply with the reasonable instructions of RTÉ given pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

- 5.7 The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall provide the Services to RTÉ in accordance with Schedule 1. For the purposes of this clause 5 a "week" shall mean five (5) weekdays during any week (Monday to Sunday inclusive). During each calendar year of the Contract Term, the Presenter shall be entitled not to provide the Services to RTÉ for fifty five (55) days a maximum aggregate period of eleven (11) weeks (pro-rated for any partial calendar year) and subject to the following:-
 - 5.7.1 The Company shall not be required to provide the Radio Services of the Presenter for a block of up to 5 consecutive weeks, the precise timing of which will be agreed between the parties in advance each year following consultation between the Presenter (on behalf of the Company) and RTÉ at least 6 weeks in advance of that absence and subject to clauses 5.7.2 and 5.7.6 such leave shall be predominantly taken during the period June/July/August in any contract year.

- 5.7.4. For the avoidance of doubt, the Presenter shall be required to provide the Services in relation to each episode of the TV Show throughout each season of the TV Show (as described in Schedule 1) during the Contract Term.
- 5.7.5 For the avoidance of doubt the Presenter shall not be required to provide the Services live to RTÉ in connection with the TV Show on three occasions during the Contract Term provided that he is available for a pre-record for transmission on that date as agreed between the parties. These pre records will include one for transmission on Good Friday, the Country and Western Show and one around Christmas dates to be discussed and agreed at the start of each season. RTÉ will use its best endeavours to agree one further pre-record in each season around Spring or Midterm the exact date of which to be discussed and agreed with the Presenter.
- 5.7.6 The Company agrees to discuss with and obtain approval from the Head of Radio land the Director of Content or their nominee(s) in relation to any proposed absence of the Presenter (i.e. in relation to any weekday(s) on which the Company proposes not to provide the Services of the Presenter) at least six (6) weeks in advance of that absence. If approved, each approved weekday shall count as one of the Company's maximum annual non-service entitlement of fifty five (55) days set out above.
- The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall not do or say anything that could reasonably be expected to bring RTÉ into disrepute or which would result in a material breach by RTÉ of any of its legal obligations.
- The Company acknowledges (and shall procure that the Presenter shall acknowledge) that RTÉ will handle and manage the press and media relations around the Radio Show and the TV Show (including the Presenter's involvement therein) and the Presenter's work for RTÉ generally and that RTÉ will handle and manage all related press queries and press relations and the Presenter agrees not to make any public announcement or media interview in respect of the Radio Show, the TV Show and/or the Presenter's work for RTÉ generally without the prior approval of RTÉ. The Company also agrees that it shall procure the Presenter's agreement to take part in such promotional activities for the Radio Show and the TV Show and RTÉ as may reasonably be requested by RTÉ. The Company shall procure that the Presenter agrees to cooperate fully in this regard without any additional payment to the Company. Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Company agrees to procure the co-operation of the Presenter in providing occasional interviews, including photographic shoots to the RTÉ Guide during the Contract Term and to participate in other RTÉ marketing, publicity and promotional activities as may be agreed between the Company and RTÉ from time to time. The Company agrees to liaise with the Communications Manager of Television and the appropriate Head of Radio Station or their respective nominee(s) to discuss and agree the Presenter's participation in any media interviews on RTÉ outlets (outside of the Radio and/or TV Shows) or those external to RTÉ, in order to ensure strategic management of Presenter publicity at all times.

5.10 The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall not, without RTÉ's prior consent voluntarily engage in any hazardous pursuit nor take any risk the taking of which would invalidate or affect any normal policy of insurance on the Presenter's life (which RTÉ may effect but shall not be obliged to effect) in connection with the programmes or which might materially interfere with the performance of the Services hereunder. RTÉ agrees to consult with the Presenter before taking out any such insurance.

6. Other Engagements:

- 6.1 The Company acknowledges that the remuneration to be paid under Clause 8 hereof and the nature of the Presenter's commitment to RTE for the duration of the Contract Term, in terms of his programme involvement and attendance, is such that the Presenter shall not accept any other professional engagement(s): (i) in radio and television ("Broadcast Activities") (save as referred to in clauses 6.2 and 6.5 below); and/or (ii) in the advertising of products or services to the public ("Advertising Activities")other than in fulfilment of his obligations under this Agreement. The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall not, during the Contract Term, undertake any promotional or public endorsement engagement or activity for any business, product or service in Ireland ("Promotional Activities") without first obtaining the permission of RTÉ pursuant to clause 6.3 below, such permission not to be unreasonably withheld. The foregoing restriction does not apply to the Contractor's promotional or advertising activities for (a) Arnotts Story Telling; (b) Texaco Children's Art Competition; (c) Shelbourne Hotel Christmas Lights; (d) SVP; (e) ISPCC.
- 6.2 Notwithstanding the provisions of clause 6.1 above, as a freelance media personality it is not intended that the Presenter shall be precluded from public appearances, attending charitable events even at short notice, the writing of books and newspaper columns, theatrical engagements, public services promotions on safety and the like, the making of videos for intra mural and non public corporate purposes, or the making of entertainment videos and records ("Professional Services"), provided that such could not reasonably be construed as prejudicial to the Services to be provided under this Agreement. The Presenter shall not be precluded from participation in any radio or television programme produced outside Ireland and the United Kingdom which are not available for reception by terrestrial, satellite or cable distribution in either of those territories (save as set out in clause 6.5 below) or the writing of newspaper columns, provided always of course that such could not reasonably be construed as prejudicial to the Services to be provided under this Agreement.

- 6.3 The Company shall procure that that the Presenter shall meet with the appropriate Head of Radio 1 and the Director of Content or their nominee(s) at a mutually convenient time and place in order to discuss any forthcoming Broadcast Activities (to the extent permitted by clause 6.2 above), Promotional Activities and/or Professional Services to be undertaken or likely to be undertaken by the Presenter. The Director General acting on behalf of RTÉ shall be entitled to request the Company to procure that the Presenter does not undertake any such Broadcast Activity, Promotional Activity and/or Professional Service if to do so could reasonably be judged as capable of conflicting with RTÉ's commercial interests or public reputation. - 6.4 At the Company's request, the appropriate Head of Radio 1 and/or (at RTÉ's election) the Director of Content shall specify to the Company the rationale behind any such request made under clause 6.3. The Company shall be entitled to query any request made under clause6.3 with the Head of Radio 1 and/or (at RTE's election) the Director of Content. The Company acknowledges and agrees that in the event of irreconcilable disagreement as to whether any Broadcast Activities (to the extent permitted by clause 6.2 above), Professional Services or Promotional Activities by the Presenter would be in conflict with RTÉ's statutory legal obligations, general policy guidelines as notified in writing to the Company and/or the Services to be provided to RTÉ, RTÉ's decision as communicated by the Director General in her role as Editor-in-Chief shall be final and the Company and Presenter agree to abide and comply with this decision. For the purposes of Clause 11 of this Agreement (Suspension and Termination), failure on the part of the Company during the term of this Agreement to comply with a request communicated by the Director General under this clause 6, following the process described above, may, at RTÉ's discretion, be regarded as a fundamental breach of contract.
- RTÉ acknowledges that the Presenter has a relationship with BBC Radio and, subject to prior notification by the Presenter to the appropriate Head of Radio1, agrees to allow the Presenter to continue to provide radio services to the BBC Radio for up to six (6) weeks per Contract Year (no more than three (3) consecutive weeks), subject to Clause 5.7 above and 10.1 below and provided always that the services are provided during the Contractor's agreed non service periods from RTÉ. For the avoidance of doubt, the Presenter hereby agrees not without RTÉ's approval to provide his broadcasting services to any third party and in particular BBC Radio in or around the Easter week that he is unavailable to provide his Radio and TV services to RTÉ.

- The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall undertake at all times: (a) to comply with all broadcasting codes; and (b) to provide the Services in compliance with all broadcasting codes; as same may be amended and updated from time to time provided however that to the extent that anything the Presenter does or refrains from doing at the request of or at the direction of or as may be approved by RTÉ and/or its personnel shall not constitute a breach of this clause. The parties agree that for the purposes of this Clause 6.6 only, "RTÉ and/or its personnel" shall be deemed to include production personnel from the level of producer upwards only (i.e. programme producer, series producer, Head of RTÉ Radio One, Director of Content and the Director General of RTÉ only).
- Where, despite the best efforts of the Presenter, any claim for compensation or any complaint is made against RTÉ arising out of a broadcast by the Presenter, the Company agrees to co-operate fully and willingly with RTÉ in the defence and conclusion of any such claim or complaint and to procure that the Presenter does likewise. Furthermore, the Company agrees that RTÉ shall be entitled to conduct and conclude any such defence in its own name, or in the name of the Company and/or the Presenter, in any manner it, in its sole discretion, sees fit, provided that it keeps the Company advised in relation to any proceedings involving the Company's name and/or the Presenter's name.
- The Company shall have regard to the interests of RTÉ in relation to any public or media statement the Presenter may make on the subject of broadcasting or in relation to any public controversy or current public debate generally and shall generally ensure that RTÉ's public standing is not adversely affected or prejudiced by any of his activities or statements external to those carried out or made pursuant to this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt and without prejudice to clause 5.9 above, the Company shall, and shall procure that the Presenter shall, discuss all publicity issues related to the Presenter and/or the Services in advance with the Communications Manager of Television and the Communications Manager of RTÉ Radio or their nominee(s).
- 6.9 The Company shall procure that the Presenter shall comply with all regulations in place from time to time by RTÉ for the conduct of its business and protection and security of its premises and property and for the health, safety and welfare of its staff. All such regulations are deemed to form part of this Agreement, once available to the Company.

7. Obligations of RTÉ

- 7.1 In return for the observance by the Company of its obligations under Clause 6.7 RTÉ confirms that it will agree to indemnify the Company or Presenter in respect of any costs, damages, or expenses accruing to either of them as a result of any breach by the Presenter or any of the Company's obligations in this regard, where the breach was made inadvertently and in good faith.
- 7.2 In return for the Company's observance of its obligations under Clause 5.8 RTÉ agrees that it will not do or say anything which might bring the Company or the Presenter into disrepute.

RTÉ agree that no significant changes would be made to the style, content, scheduling or duration of the Programme(s) presented by the Presenter without meaningful prior consultation between the Director of Content or the Head of Radio 1 as appropriate(or their nominee(s))and the Presenter. In this regard, the Parties agree that RTÉ's decision in relation to any such matter following such consultation shall be final and the Company shall procure that the Presenter shall abide by any such decision.
