Motion (resumed) (1 hr. 30 m remaining):

34. ''That Dáil Éireann:

— noting that there are approximately 120,000 persons in receipt of contributory or non-contributory widow/er's pensions;

— conscious of the enormous social and financial difficulties that they face following the loss of a spouse and that many are forced to work in order to provide for the welfare and education of their families;

— deplores the decision of the Government to end the entitlement of this group of recipients to the additional half-rate payment of disability benefit, injury benefit and unemployment benefit as part of the savage sixteen social welfare cuts, which was based on the social insurance contributions they had paid;

— further deplores the decision to apply these cuts to those on lone parent payments;

— notes that while the cutback will create severe difficulties for widow/ers and lone parents, the saving to the Government will be less than €6m;

— calls for the reversal of this mean and miserly cut especially against the background of positive exchequer returns for the first two months of this year, which show tax returns running €430m above the level forecast, and — urges the Government to give a commitment to the early extension of the social welfare free schemes to widow/ers who do not currently qualify.'' — *Willie Penrose, Michael Ring, Dan Boyle, Pat Rabbitte, Enda Kenny, Trevor Sargent, Liz McManus, Emmet Stagg, Thomas P. Leasú (atógáil):

Amendment (resumed):

1. To delete all words after ''Dáil Éireann'' and substitute the following:

''— notes the measure announced in November, 2003 and introduced in the context of the Estimates for 2004 to discontinue entitlement to an additional half rate payment of some benefits where the recipient is already in receipt of widow/er's pensions, lone parent payments etc, for new claimants;

— notes that only a small fraction of the approximately 120,000 persons in receipt of contributory and non-contributory widow/er's pensions will be affected by the measure as it will not have an impact on those over 66 years of age and existing claimants;

— welcomes the Government's ongoing recognition of the particular difficulties facing people following the loss of a spouse and notes the improvements provided in recent years including:

  — the substantial increase since 1997 of over 85% in the widow/er's contributory pension for those over 66 years increasing the rate to €167.30;

  — an increase of over 55% in the widow/er's contributory pension for those under 66 years increasing the rate to €140.30;

  — the introduction of a widowed parent grant in 1999 which was increased in Budget 2004 to €2,700;

— notes that while only 7% of persons in receipt of widows/er's pension have dependant children the Government has increased substantially the support for children in the form of child benefit;

— notes in addition the special allowances provided in respect of widows/widowers i.e.

  — that substantial special tax allowances are provided for widows/ers with children in the three year period following bereavement;

  — that widow/ers pensioners are not liable to pay any social insurance contributions on their pension income;

— that widow/ers pensioners who are working are only liable to pay employee's social insurance contributions if their income from employment exceeds €287 per week;

— that widow/ers pensioners who are working are not liable for the 2% health contribution as is the case with other workers; and

— commends the Government's prudent management of the public finances which has allowed for a record allocation of €11.62 billion this year to provide real increases in social welfare payments and notes the Government's intention to make further improvements in the widow's/widower's pension in line with the commitment in the Agreed Programme for Government and in 'Sustaining Progress'.'' — An tAire Gnóthaí Sóisialacha agus Teaghlaigh.
