Notices of Motions:

73. “That Dáil Éireann:

- concerned that the sudden and calamitous change in our economic fortunes, coupled with revelations of waste of public money and resources, has undermined public confidence not alone in the present Government but also in the structures of government;
- recognising that fewer and fewer people feel any sense of ownership of their politics and that we need to bring about a more practical democracy, that empowers citizens and ends the sense of exclusion of so many of our people, and to ensure that individuals have a far greater involvement in the decisions that shape their lives;
- acknowledging that a process of renewal must commence with the Oireachtas itself and with fundamental reforms of our national parliament and its procedures, so as to meet the needs of the Irish people in the 21st century;
- believing that the principles and practices underpinning accountability in government and in public administration also need radical reform and that legislation and constitutional measures guaranteeing the primacy of the public interest must be put in place as a priority; and
- affirming that the abuse of the whip by the parties in Government, as exemplified by the recent dismissal by the Government majority on the Joint Committee on Agriculture, Fisheries and Food of the Ombudsman’s Special Report on the ‘Lost at Sea’ Scheme, is utterly destructive of attempts to secure the accountability of the Government to the Dáil as required by the Constitution;

calls for the introduction of a programme of reform that would include at a minimum the following elements:

- legislation on the issue of cabinet confidentiality, to ensure that it cannot be used to cover up necessary investigations;
- the restoration of the Freedom of Information Act 1997 to its original form and scope and the extension of its remit to the Garda Síochána and other public bodies;
- the introduction of whistleblowers legislation;
- spending limits for local and Presidential elections and the reduction in the ceilings for European and general elections;
- reform of the system of appointments to State boards to ensure that the process is transparent and that those appointed have the requisite knowledge and skills;
- legislation to further restrict contributions to political parties and candidates and to require greater disclosure of donations;
- repeal of the Official Secrets Act 1963, retaining a criminal sanction only for breaches which involve a serious threat to public policy (the international relations of the State, the conduct of a fair trial, national security and the like);
- a statutory register of lobbyists and rules concerning the practice of lobbying;

- rules to ensure that senior public servants (including political appointees) cannot work in the private sector, in an area involving a potential conflict of interest with their former public employment, until at least two years have elapsed;
- a 50 per cent increase in Dáil sitting days, with sittings four days a week, a shorter summer recess and significantly reduced breaks at Christmas and Easter;
- a break-up of the Government monopoly on legislation and its stranglehold over the business of the Dáil;
- a restriction on the use of guillotine motions and other procedural devices that prevent full debate on bills and other measures;
- a petition system for the Dáil, similar to that operating in the European Parliament;
- an independent Fiscal Advisory Council, separated from decision-makers in government, to undertake fiscal macro-economic projections and monitoring, independent of the Government and reporting to the Dáil and the public;
- bring forward the annual Estimates cycle, so that it becomes more timely and relevant, with the Book of Estimates accompanied by a detailed performance report on what the previous year's spending had achieved;
- Oireachtas Committees to be given powers to publish reports on the economy, efficiency and propriety of the Estimates and to give the Dáil an assessment and evaluation of the merits of individual expenditure proposals;
- a role for the Ceann Comhairle in deciding whether a Minister has failed to provide reasonable information in response to a question;
- a repeal of the 'gag' clause that applies to the officers of public bodies and prevents them from expressing an opinion on the merits of Government policy;
- a requirement that the Attorney General's advice to Government be published if it is publicly relied upon as justifying or requiring the passage, defeat or amendment of a bill or the development or amendment of a policy or programme, unless the advice is given in the course of litigation or in relation to pending or contemplated litigation;
- the provision of adequate powers for parliamentary inquiries into matters of public interest and importance, if necessary by an amendment to the Constitution; and
- a reformulated code of laws, replacing both the Ministers and Secretaries Acts 1924 to 2007 and the Public Service Management Act 1997, which would spell out the functions, powers and duties of Ministers in charge of each Department of State; The law that defines the relationship between Ministers and their Departments to enshrine three basic propositions:
 - if the Minister takes a decision personally, he or she should say so and account for it;
 - if the decision is taken by the Department, under a delegated power, then the relevant, named official should say so and account for it; and
 - the Minister would then have to account for the degree of supervision he or she exercised over the Department in relation to the exercise within it of delegated powers;
- legislate for a system of delegation of specified Ministerial powers to specified officers who would, to the extent of the authority delegated to them, be accountable both within the Department and also directly to the Oireachtas for the exercise of those powers;

- ensure that each Minister is responsible for the supervision and oversight of his or her Department to ensure that adequate standards are maintained; outputs are delivered as determined or agreed; and procedures are in place to enable the Minister to respond to problems of administration and to give an account to the Dáil and to the public generally;
- the responsibilities of Secretaries General to be strengthened by assigning to them authority and accountability for ensuring that the Department and its officers perform their functions in a non-political and impartial manner, in accordance with law and with the highest ethical standards of conduct and integrity and in accordance with any prescribed code of conduct;
- the Secretary General to be required to ensure that risk management and other internal controls are in place so that public funds are safeguarded; functions are performed effectively, efficiently and economically; laws, regulations and approved policies are complied with; and records and reports are adequate, reliable and accurate; and
- the Secretary General to be given specific responsibility for ensuring that legal advice or opinion is brought to the personal attention of the Minister if it casts substantial doubt on the constitutionality or validity of a statute, statutory instrument or departmental scheme, practice or course of action.” — *Brendan Howlin, Eamon Gilmore, Joan Burton, Emmet Stagg, Thomas P. 74. “That Dáil Éireann:

- expresses its sympathy to all citizens affected by recent flooding in all parts of the country;
- notes the severe social and economic hardship caused by serious flooding;
- recognises that increased rainfall in Ireland will be a consequence of global warming and that Government will have to adapt to changing climate patterns;
- notes with concern that Government has no co-ordinated and integrated flooding alert system or response plan in the event of serious flooding; and
- recognises that most other developed at risk countries have advanced flood warning systems that act to minimise damage and disruption caused by flooding;

calls on the Government to develop a new national flood alert system to be controlled by the Environmental Protection Agency and Met Éireann that is based on a system of flood alert codes that results in co-ordinated preventative action from the local authorities, civil defence, the Office of Public Works, and the emergency services; and calls on the Minister for the Environment, Heritage and Local Government to:

- immediately support local authorities in providing safe drinking water to communities with potentially contaminated water supplies caused by flooding;
- immediately request reports from all local authorities to outline the damage caused and reasons for recent flooding;

- review the national flood relief capital programme in order to prioritise areas subject to frequent flooding; and
- explore the possibility of any climate change assistance or disaster relief funds being made available to victims of climate change damage, particularly those affected by chronic flooding.” — *Phil Hogan, Enda Kenny, Bernard Allen, James Bannon, Seán Barrett, Pat Breen, Richard Bruton, Ulick Burke, Catherine Byrne, Joe Carey, Deirdre Clune, Paul Connaughton, Noel J. Amendment:

1. To delete all words after “to adapt to climate patterns”, in the third indent and substitute the following:
 - “ — expresses its appreciation to all the personnel who assisted in the rescue and provision of assistance to members of the public affected by the recent floods;
 - notes the co-ordinated response of the major response agencies and voluntary agencies to the flooding;
 - notes the significant flood defence measures undertaken at known flood risk locations;
 - notes the Office of Public Works expenditure of €100 million in the last 5 years on flood relief, including an anticipated capital expenditure of €38 million this year;
 - commends the investment of in excess of €200 million from now to 2014;
 - notes the OPW website www.flooding.ie which provides practical help to all those whose homes or businesses may be at risk of flooding and the website www.floodmaps.ie which provides useful information to planning authorities, a number of bodies or organisations and the public for the purpose of land-use zoning, development control, planning of infrastructure, identification of properties at risk, flood warning and raise the general awareness amongst the public of the risk to property and possibly life;
 - notes the significant funding made available by the Government over 5 years under the Water Services Investment Programme in response to specific environmental, public health and economic needs; and
 - notes the draft guidelines ‘The Planning System and Flood Risk Management’ published by the Minister for the Environment, Heritage and Local Government and the Minister of State at the Department of Finance with responsibility for the Office of Public Works.” — An tAire Comhshaoil, Oidhreachta agus Rialtais Áitiúil.

75. "That Dáil Éireann:

notes with grave concern:

- the most recent CSO figures showing a 51% increase in aggravated burglaries in the three months to the end of September 2009 accompanied by a 25% increase in non-aggravated burglaries in the same period;
- the recent widely reported targeting of vulnerable elderly residents in their own homes including a number of incidents in which vulnerable home-owners were viciously assaulted;
- the dramatic cutback in funding of the Scheme of Community Support for Older People in 2009;
- the fact that only 6% of the Garda force is made up of community Gardaí;
- the continual downgrading and closure of rural Garda stations; and
- the consequent fear and anxiety that is keenly felt by elderly people living alone;

calls on the Minister for Justice, Equality and Law Reform to:

- arrest the decline of policing services to rural communities;
- bring forward measures and incentives to facilitate a significant increase in the number of community Gardaí; and
- enhance and develop the Garda Community Safety Week initiative; and calls on the Minister for Community, Rural and Gaeltacht Affairs to reverse the cutback in funding for the Scheme of Community Support for Older People." — *Charles Flanagan, Enda Kenny, Richard Bruton, Bernard Allen, James Bannon, Seán Barrett, Pat Breen, Ulick Burke, Catherine Byrne, Joe Carey, Deirdre Clune, Paul Connaughton, Noel J. 76. "That Dáil Éireann:

- is aware of the importance of the work done by spouses in partnerships;
- acknowledges the value of that work to economic activity;
- condemns the Government decision to withdraw or reduce the Contributory State Pension from farmers' and business spouses aged 66 and over;
- is aware that some applicants sought to pay PRSI contributions before reaching age 66 but were denied their efforts by the Department of Social and Family Affairs;
- recognises that this measure is extremely unfair to those who planned for their retirement on the basis of information provided by and calculated by the Department; and calls on the Government to withdraw the notice sent out to persons concerned and to act upon the power accorded to the Minister under subsection 110(2) of the Social Welfare Consolidation Act 2005 to ensure those payments are made.” — *Olwyn Enright, Michael Creed, Enda Kenny, Bernard Allen, James Bannon, Seán Barrett, Pat Breen, Richard Bruton, Ulick Burke, Catherine Byrne, Joe Carey, Deirdre Clune, Paul Connaughton, Noel J. 77. “That Dáil Éireann:

recognising the economic value of the tourism industry, with peak tourism revenues of €6.5 billion and 300,000 people employed in 2007;

acknowledging:

- tourism revenue dropped by €1.1 billion in 2009 to €5.2 billion, its lowest level since 2004;
- overseas visitor numbers fell by close to one million in 2009 compared to 2008;
- Ireland’s largest tourism market, the United Kingdom, declined by 16%;
- access to Ireland has become worryingly restricted with the ongoing removal of routes and restrictions in airline capacity at both Shannon and Dublin airports; and
- the serious credit flow crisis and level of debt facing the sector as a result of the economic downturn;

considering:

- the introduction of a departure tax was short-sighted, counterproductive and a deterrent to the survival of the tourism industry;
- employment has fallen significantly across all areas of the tourism industry with at least 12,000 job losses in 2009;
- the restaurant sector alone has warned that one in three businesses are at risk of closing, which would result in an estimated 21,000 job losses and €700 million annual loss in tax revenues to the economy;
- the failure by the Government to introduce any significant measures aimed at reducing costs or encouraging an environment conducive to the survival of small and medium sized enterprises; and
- the lack of political will and leadership for strategic assistance to the industry;

calls on the Government to:

- reposition tourism within the current departmental structure with a view to ensuring responsibility for tourism is focused and reflects the importance of this indigenous industry;

- review the ancillary bodies dealing with tourism marketing, promotion and product development to ensure that the industry is strategically led, developed and supported in a coherent manner;
- immediately abolish the departure tax;
- reduce the 13.5% VAT rate on hotel accommodation and restaurants to 10%;
- reduce the upper rate of employer's PRSI by 20% and the lower rate of employer's PRSI by 50%;
- reduce local authority rates, freeze Government and local authority charges and reduce energy costs;
- totally overhaul the Joint Labour Committee (JLC) wage setting system;
- reduce the administration cost and complexity of Irish visitor visas;
- rollout high capacity broadband to regional areas; and
- request that the Competition Authority carries out an investigation into predatory pricing and reckless trading in the hotels sector.” — *Olivia Mitchell, Enda Kenny, Bernard Allen, James Bannon, Seán Barrett, Pat Breen, Richard Bruton, Ulick Burke, Catherine Byrne, Joe Carey, Deirdre Clune, Paul Connaughton, Noel J. 81. “That Dáil Éireann:

- expressing its serious concerns about revelations in the RTÉ Freefall documentary on 6th September, 2010 that Bank of Ireland Chairman, Richard Burrows and Chief Executive, Brian Goggin were informed by Anglo Irish Bank Chairman, Seán Fitzpatrick and Chief Executive, David Drumm, that Anglo Irish Bank was insolvent and requested a takeover of the bank;
- noting that immediately following this meeting Bank of Ireland management then contacted Allied Irish Bank and both banks immediately sought a meeting with the Minister for Finance, Deputy Brian Lenihan;
- further noting that following these meetings the Minister for Finance presented the Credit Institutions (Financial Support) Bill 2008 on 30th September, 2008 (the Bank Guarantee) claiming in the Dáil that the purpose of the Bank Guarantee was to deal with liquidity or cash flow issues within the Irish banking system;
- deploring the fact that the reality of the situation in Anglo Irish Bank was not revealed to the Dáil by the Minister for Finance before the passing of the Bank Guarantee;
- noting that due to the financial impact of the Bank Guarantee and the subsequent borrowing and the recapitalisation of the banks that the State's debt was being serviced at 6.8% in the week beginning 27th September, 2010, a record high since Ireland joined the euro zone; and
- noting that new estimates for the capital and recapitalisation costs of Anglo Irish Bank will reach €34.3 billion and that the total cost of the bank bailout will reach €49.3 billion; and has no confidence in the Minister for Finance, Deputy Brian Lenihan.” — Caoimhghín Ó Caoláin, Arthur Morgan, Martin Ferris, Aengus Ó Snodaigh.
