Leasuithe:

Amendments:

1. To delete all words after “Dáil Éireann” and substitute the following:

“notes the proposal from Government to restructure the promissory notes provided to the Irish Bank Resolution Corporation, based on the outcome of discussions with the European Central Bank; recognises the short-term benefit of the restructured arrangement for the State and its citizens, particularly:

- the removal of the promissory notes, which will be exchanged for long-term government bonds, with an average maturity of 34 to 35 years as opposed to the promissory notes’ 7 to 8 year average maturity; and
- the reduction in the State’s general government deficit of approximately €1 billion (0.6% of GDP) per annum in the short-term, which will bring us €1 billion closer to attaining our 3% deficit target by 2015;

further notes that:

- there are many unanswered questions relating to the operations of Anglo Irish Bank and Irish Nationwide Building Society (INBS) and to the issuing of the promissory notes, relevant to any consideration of the restructuring of their debts by Dáil Éireann;
- approximately €35 billion was committed to Anglo Irish Bank and INBS, by the Minister for Finance on behalf of Irish people, in order to stabilise the Eurozone banking system at a time of crisis;
- the promissory notes amount to socialisation of €30.6 billion of private sector debt;
- at the time of issue of the promissory notes in 2010:
 - all functioning Irish banks were already protected by the State guarantee;
 - Irish deposits in Anglo Irish Bank and INBS could have been protected for a fraction of the €30.6 billion promissory note cost; and
 - all €22.5 billion of senior debt in Anglo Irish Bank and INBS has been, or will shortly be, paid in full;
- there is an irrefutable case for the burden of the €30.6 billion to be shared with other Eurozone members, who were the beneficiaries of the promissory notes, via stabilisation of their banks;
- it is not appropriate to ask current and future Irish generations to pay for the losses of Anglo Irish Bank and INBS; and
- the Government did not seek any burden sharing of the €30.6 billion with other

Eurozone members; and directs the Government to return to negotiations with relevant parties, with a clear instruction that there must be fair burden sharing of the principle amount of €30.6 billion, and further directs that payment on the March €3.1 billion is suspended, pending successful outcomes of these negotiations.”

—Stephen S. Donnelly.

2. To delete all words after “Dáil Éireann” and substitute the following:

“notes that instead of the promise emanating from the European Union summit of June 2012 that bank debt would be separated from State debt, the Irish Government has done the opposite and shackled the Irish people to the toxic debts of the former Anglo Irish Bank until 2053;

condemns the Government for capitulating to the European Union establishment and the European Central Bank, which are institutions that have acted at all times not in the interest of the people, but in the interests of salvaging bondholders and banks from their reckless gambling on the Irish property bubble in pursuit of profits; and demands that no more monies are paid from the State to continue the EU bailout agenda and that the disastrous austerity policy is ended forthwith in favour of a major programme of investment in infrastructure, essential services and job creation.”

—Joe Higgins.

3. To delete all words after “Dáil Éireann” and substitute the following:

“condemns:

- the decision of the Government to liquidate the Irish Bank Resolution Corporation (IBRC) in such a manner as to make ordinary Irish citizens legally responsible to fully repay the gambling debts of the rogue private financial institution that was Anglo Irish Bank; and
- the failure of the Government to seek, at any point from the European Central Bank, a write-down of this odious debt or to simply repudiate this debt on the grounds that ordinary Irish citizens bear no moral responsibility, whatsoever, for the reckless gambling and speculation of Anglo Irish Bank or international financiers who invested in it;

notes that:

- the Government’s ‘restructuring’ arrangement of IBRC’s (Anglo Irish Bank’s) private debts transforms those debts legally into sovereign debts and will make little or no difference to the unsustainable debt burden that has been imposed on Irish citizens and the Irish economy;
- the Government’s decision to make Irish citizens fully and legally responsible for €30 billion worth of IBRC’s debts plus the interest on these debts means that their children and grandchildren will continue to pay for the economic crimes of others for decades to come;
- every euro that will be paid over by the citizens of this State as a result of this legal commitment to repay IBRC’s (Anglo Irish Bank’s) debts are monies that could otherwise be invested in job creation, economic growth and protecting the livelihoods and services of ordinary Irish citizens;

- following this ‘deal’ on IBRC’s debts the Government is still required to make several billion of further budget cuts in the next budget and in budgets after that – ensuring more suffering for Irish citizens and further damage to the Irish economy;
- only the full and immediate write down of all debts incurred by IBRC and other private financial institutions would represent a just and sustainable resolution of the State’s current financial crisis and open the way for economic recovery; and
- the devastating consequences of the liquidation of IBRC for ordinary workers in the bank who bear no responsibility for the reckless and possibly criminal activities of senior executives and management in the bank; and calls for:

- the immediate repudiation of all IBRC’s debts and other private banking debt by the State, the seizure of all remaining banking assets for public use, the retention of all State assets and natural resources in public ownership, and the re-orientation of economic policy towards job creation, stimulation of the domestic economy and a fair distribution of wealth; and
- the Government to enter into immediate negotiations with the trade unions representing ordinary workers in IBRC to ensure fair redundancy terms for workers now facing the loss of their jobs.”

—Richard Boyd Barrett, Clare Daly, Joan Collins.

4. To delete all words after “Dáil Éireann” and substitute the following:

“recognises that the replacement of the promissory notes provided to the Irish Bank Resolution Corporation (IBRC) with long-term government bonds announced by an Taoiseach on Thursday, 7th February, 2013 provides important benefits to the State including:

- a reduction in the general government deficit of approximately €1 billion per annum over the coming years and will bring the State approximately €1 billion closer to attaining the 3% general government deficit target by 2015; and
- a reduction in the State’s cash borrowing requirement over the next 10 years by €20 billion by virtue of paying interest only on government bonds rather than capital and interest on the promissory notes;

acknowledges the considerable efforts made in recent months by those who negotiated on Ireland’s behalf including the Minister for Finance, the Governor of the Central Bank and officials from the Department of Finance and the National Treasury Management Agency;

calls on the Government to use the €1 billion gain on the general government deficit to ease the planned budget adjustments and to invest further in job creation measures without compromising the achievement of the 3% deficit target by 2015;

notes that the Government has not sought or received any write down whatsoever of the legacy debt associated with the rescue of the former Anglo Irish Bank and Irish Nationwide Building Society;

notes that the Euro Area Summit Statement of 29th June, 2012 reaffirming the imperative need to ‘break the vicious circle between the banks and the sovereigns’ has not been implemented in this case;

notes that the conversion of the promissory notes to long-term government bonds means that there will be no further easement of this debt as a result of evolving European policy;

believes that the Central Bank should be permitted to retain the government bonds for longer than the period agreed which would yield additional savings to the State;

calls on the Government to publish a detailed analysis of the full impact of the deal on Ireland's debt and deficit figures over the full course of the deal including, for example, sensitivity analysis for varying interest rates on the government bonds and possible payments to the National Asset Management Agency to cover any shortfall (should one arise) following the sale of IBRC assets by the Special Liquidator; and believes that the justice of Ireland's case deserves further relief from the impact of bank-related debt and, in particular, that the Government should be seeking to have the cost of bailing out AIB, Bank of Ireland and Permanent TSB lifted from the shoulders of the State through the European Stability Mechanism." Notices of Motions:

- 166. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes the continuing difficulties faced by tens of thousands of homeowners in mortgage arrears due to loss of employment and income as a result of the deep recession in the Irish economy from 2008 onwards;

further notes that:

- the existing Code of Conduct on Mortgage Arrears (CCMA), whilst providing comprehensive instructions for creditors dealing with those in arrears, is not fit for purpose and does not provide necessary and important consumer protections; and
- there is no provision within the Code for lenders and mortgage servers to be mandated to provide necessary solutions for those in arrears which would prioritise safeguarding the family home, in fact lenders have the ability to choose which solutions they like and ignore the one’s that they do not; and calls on the Minister for Finance to amend the CCMA to mandate all creditors and mortgage servers operating in the State, including lenders or mortgage servers not registered within the State, to offer one of the following solutions to those in mortgage arrears:

- a split mortgage with no interest payable on the warehoused portion;
- participation in a reformed mortgage-to-rent scheme; or
- certainty for any borrower in negative equity selling or surrendering a property as to how the residual debt will be dealt with prior to the sale or surrender of the property.”
