Fógraí Tairisceana:
Notices of Motions:

98. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes that:

- members of An Garda Síochána play a hugely important role in Irish society and that public trust and confidence are crucial elements of effective policing;
- there is an immediate need to reassure the public that urgent action will be taken to implement real reform, cultural change and oversight of the management of An Garda Síochána;
- the final Report of the Fennelly Commission of Investigation (Certain Matters Relative to An Garda Síochána and other persons), has been published and its findings are alarming;
- accountability structures within An Garda Síochána are inadequate and need to be strengthened and made more transparent so that there is real accountability for Garda wrongdoing and/or mistakes;
- section 11(1) of the Garda Síochána Act 2005 stipulates that a person who holds the office of Garda Commissioner can only be removed from office by the Government for stated reasons, including where the person’s removal from office would in the Government’s opinion be in the best interests of the Garda Síochána; and
- section 11(2) of the Garda Síochána Act 2005 (as amended by the Garda Síochána Policing Authority Act 2015) provides an important and unique role for the Policing Authority in respect of the person who holds the office of the Garda Commissioner; condemns that:

- there were 146,865 District Court summonses for road traffic offences wrongly issued and that 14,700 convictions were wrongly imposed upon members of the public as a result of shameful errors by An Garda Síochána;
- there were 937,000 breath tests that never occurred but which were falsely, and probably dishonestly, recorded by members of An Garda Síochána on the Police Using Leading Systems Effectively (PULSE) system as a result of deplorable wrongdoing by An Garda Síochána;
- the members of the public who were wrongly convicted were not informed directly by

An Garda Síochána or any other agency of the State about their wrongful convictions, notwithstanding the fact that An Garda Síochána and the State were aware from July 2016 that members of the public had been wrongly convicted of these offences;

- An Garda Síochána was notified of discrepancies in its breath test data by the Medical Bureau of Road Safety in 2014, by an audit in its southern region in 2015, and by a national audit that commenced in 2016 (which revealed in 2016 that its data could not be reconciled), but did not inform the public or the Policing Authority of these discrepancies until its press conference on 23rd March, 2017; and
- there has been a lack of progress on implementing reforms recommended by several Garda Inspectorate reports;

acknowledges that:

- the Garda Commissioner has accepted that An Garda Síochána recorded numbers that were false and, that this was at worst deception and at best incompetence, but either way it was individually and organisationally shameful;
- the Garda Commissioner believes that this falsification may not be confined to traffic data and that there may be more revelations;
- such dishonest and unethical behaviour by An Garda Síochána is totally unacceptable;
- these revelations have raised very serious issues about the management of An Garda Síochána;
- there is increasing public concern and diminishing public confidence in the management of An Garda Síochána;
- there is increasing public concern and diminishing public confidence in the administration, direction and supervision of An Garda Síochána;
- there is an urgent need to strengthen the management of An Garda Síochána;
- there is an urgent need to strengthen the oversight of An Garda Síochána; and
- there is a radical need to provide for ongoing professional development to ensure that members of An Garda Síochána are trained for the challenges posed by policing in the 21st century;

calls for:

- the Government to take immediate steps to rectify this real and substantial crisis in confidence in An Garda Síochána;
- the Government to request the Policing Authority to assess the role and capacity of the Garda Commissioner to restore public confidence in An Garda Síochána;
- the Government to empower the Policing Authority so that:
 - it will supervise the functioning of the Garda Commissioner's Office and supervise the discharge of these functions by the Commissioner;
 - it will oversee the performance by An Garda Síochána of its functions relating to policing services; and
 - it can establish and impose policies and reform measures for An Garda Síochána which shall be binding on all members of An Garda Síochána; and
- the implementation of the recommendations of the Report of the Fennelly Commission; and further calls for the Government to establish an Independent Commission of An Garda Síochána that would examine and report on:

- (a) the adequacy and appropriateness of the policies and procedures which underpin the operation and performance of An Garda Síochána;
- (b) the full implementation of the Garda Inspectorate Reports of 2014 and 2015, within a tight time-frame;
- (c) improvements to basic Garda training;
- (d) the recruitment of civilians at senior managerial levels of An Garda Síochána;
- (e) the recruitment of persons directly at Sergeant, Inspector or Superintendent level;
- (f) the introduction of practices to allow Gardaí to be promoted internally, without being required to return to uniform duty;
- (g) the extent of the responsibilities that the Department of Justice and Equality has for An Garda Síochána and whether this should be reduced;
- (h) the separation of security matters from An Garda Síochána;
- (i) the strengthening of the role of the Garda Síochána Ombudsman Commission;
- (j) the ongoing training of members of An Garda Síochána on basic core skills of ethical policing;
- (k) improvements to professional development and progression within the force; and
- (l) the introduction of a professional development structure that would allow better supervisory mechanisms and more accountable management structures to be put in place in order to improve Garda services to citizens, boost morale and build up public trust and confidence.” — *Jim O’Callaghan, Bobby Aylward, John Brassil, Declan Breathnach, James Browne, Mary Butler, Thomas Byrne, Jackie Cahill, Dara Calleary, Pat Casey, Shane Cassells, Jack Chambers, Lisa M. Leasú:

Amendment:

1. To insert the following after “challenges posed by policing in the 21st century;”:

“declares its conviction that:

- the systems, structures and processes of Garda management are not fit for purpose and no longer command or deserve the confidence of the public, or of public representatives; and
- a transformative programme of renovation, reorganisation and reformation under statutory external direction and oversight is urgently required;” — Brendan Howlin, Joan Burton, Alan Kelly, Jan O’Sullivan, Willie Penrose, Brendan Ryan, Sean Sherlock.

99. “That Dáil Éireann:

recognises:

- that everyone is entitled to policing that serves the people, by police services that are accountable, representative of the community and held to the highest professional and ethical standards;
- the need to hold the police and criminal justice systems to account on the basis of fairness, impartiality and objectivity; and
- that public confidence in policing bodies is contingent on them, and the persons who direct their activities, being held accountable;

notes:

- the press statement made by Garda Commissioner Nóirín O’Sullivan in regard to the recent disclosures that 937,000 breath tests were wrongly recorded on the Police Using Leading Systems Effectively (PULSE) system;
- the 14,700 wrongful convictions of citizens due to Garda error; and
- the failure of Commissioner O’Sullivan to adequately explain the cause of this error and her failure in the statement to provide the clarity needed to restore public confidence in An Garda Síochána;

also notes:

- that the Tribunal of Inquiry into certain matters relating to disclosures made by members of An Garda Síochána under the Protected Disclosures Act 2014, chaired by Mr. Justice Peter Charleton, is now underway;
- that the Tribunal has been tasked with investigating serious allegations made in a Protected Disclosure concerning the actions of Commissioner O’Sullivan; and
- the potential negative impact on public confidence in An Garda Síochána when the actions of the sitting Garda Commissioner are central to the investigations of the ongoing Tribunal; further notes that section 11(1)(c) of the Garda Síochána Act 2005 stipulates that a person who holds the office of Garda Commissioner may be removed from office, where the person’s removal from office would, in the Government’s opinion, be in the best interests of An Garda Síochána; and considers that the removal from office of Commissioner O’Sullivan would be in the best interests of An Garda Síochána.” — *Jonathan O’Brien, Gerry Adams, John Brady, Pat Buckley, Seán Crowe, David Cullinane, Pearse Doherty, Dessie Ellis, Martin J. 100. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes:

- the recent proposal by the Master of the High Court, Edmund Honohan, that the Irish Government pass emergency legislation to allow it to acquire suitable properties from foreign investment funds through Compulsory Purchase Orders, as a measure in addressing the housing crisis;

- that since this proposal was first publicly reported on, the crisis in housing has become even more acute; and
- that the cost to the State of such compulsorily purchased units would be less than the cost of building new units;

further notes that:

- to date, foreign investment funds have enjoyed access to property at deep discounts, thanks to the policies of the National Asset Management Agency (NAMA) and financial institutions operating in Ireland, even as Irish citizens and the State have been denied access to same, and that a system of compulsory purchase for suitable units sold in portfolios by banks and by NAMA would go some way toward rebalancing the deeply unfair and damaging advantage given to foreign investment funds, and toward addressing the housing crisis;
- innovative and radical proposals for tackling the housing crisis have come from a variety of different sources to date, with this latest proposal emanating from the judiciary, a grouping not generally noted for its radicalism; and
- the Government has to date failed to move any proposal adequate to addressing the scale of the housing crisis; and

calls on the Government to:

- give immediate and serious consideration to the use of Compulsory Purchase Orders as a mechanism for addressing the housing crisis; and
- immediately draft legislation to allow for compulsory purchase from foreign investment funds; draw up proposals as to the practical operation of such a scheme; and give effect to those proposals.” — Clare Daly, Mick Wallace, Thomas Pringle, Joan Collins, Thomas P. Broughan, Catherine Connolly.

102. “That, notwithstanding anything in Standing Orders, and recognising:

the severe pressures on the Irish health service, the unacceptable waiting times that arise for public patients, and the poor outcomes relative to cost;

the need for consensus at political level on the health service funding model;

the need to establish a universal single-tier service where patients are treated on the basis of health need rather than on ability to pay;

that the best health outcomes and value for money can be achieved by re-orientating the model of care towards primary and community care where the majority of people's health needs can be met locally; and with the intention of adopting a 10 year plan for our health services, based on political consensus, that can deliver these changes:

- (a) a Special Committee shall be established, within three weeks of the passing of this motion, to devise cross-party agreement on the future direction of health policy in Ireland;
- (b) the Committee shall examine different funding models for the health service;
- (c) the Committee shall make recommendations on the funding models that are best suited to Ireland and have these models fully costed;
- (d) the Committee shall examine and make recommendations on how best to re-orientate the health service on a phased basis towards primary and community care in as short a time-frame as possible;
- (e) notwithstanding the provisions of Standing Order 93, the Committee shall elect one of its members to be Chairman, who shall have one vote;
- (f) the Committee shall be mandated to hold hearings in public with expert witnesses; invite and accept written submissions; draw up a report(s); make findings; and/or suggest recommendations if the membership so agrees in unison or in majority/minority format;
- (g) the Committee shall produce an interim report, containing also its proposed work schedule, to be debated at a meeting of the Dáil no less than one week, and no more than two months, after its establishment;
- (h) the Committee shall, within six months of the initial meeting, present a final report to the Ceann Comhairle for earliest possible discussion in the House;
- (i) the Committee shall meet as frequently as appropriate to fulfil its remit; and
- (j) the Committee membership shall be made up of three members appointed by Fine Gael, three members by Fianna Fáil, two members by Sinn Féin, one member by the Labour Party and five members representing the independent deputies and members from other political parties.” — *Stephen S. - urged ‘the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland to allow access by an independent, international judicial figure to all original documents held by the British Government relating to the atrocities that occurred in this jurisdiction and which were inquired into by Judge Barron, for the purposes of assessing said documents with the aim of assisting in the resolution of these crimes’; and
- directed ‘the Clerk of the Dáil to communicate the text of this Resolution, together with copies of the aforementioned reports, to the House of Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, with a request that the matter be considered by the House of Commons’;

recalling the motion it unanimously adopted on Wednesday 18th May, 2011 which:

- noted ‘that the question of obtaining access to information held by the British Government on the bombings has been pursued for many years’;
- requested ‘the Government to continue to raise the matter with the British Government and to press it to comply with the request of Dáil Éireann and reaffirms the support of Members on all sides of this House’; and

notes:

- the concerns that have been raised by the introduction of a drilling platform for oil and gas in Woodburn, County Antrim;
- the concerns that of which drilling activity could be the precursor for the introduction of hydraulic fracturing for natural gas on the island of Ireland; and
- the increasing body of international evidence that hydraulic fracturing can lead to severe consequences for the natural environment, in particular the pollution of ground-water which can lead to very grave implications for public health; and

calls on the Government to:

- adopt an ‘all-island’ approach to the issue of hydraulic fracturing;
- ensure that the issue of hydraulic fracturing is included on the agenda of the next plenary session of the North South Ministerial Council (NSMC);
- further ensure that a motion is also included on the agenda of the next Sectoral Meeting of Environment Ministers of the NSMC; with a view to the issuing of a joint communiqué recommending the immediate adoption of such an outright ban in both jurisdictions; and
- work constructively with the Northern Ireland Executive towards implementing such a

recognises the mounting public concern, in Northern Ireland and Ireland, surrounding the sales process of the Northern Ireland loan book, Project Eagle, by the National Asset Management Agency (NAMA);

reaffirms the importance to which NAMA must command full public trust and confidence in securing best value for the Irish taxpayer; and

calls on the Government to:

108. “That Dáil Éireann:

welcomes the findings of the independent experts from the United Nations Human Rights Committee (UNHRC) that a woman who was forced to choose between carrying her foetus to term, knowing it would not survive, or seeking an abortion abroad, was subjected to discrimination, and cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment as a result of Ireland's legal prohibition on abortion;

notes:

- the Committee's findings that 'many of the negative experiences she went through could have been avoided if (she) had not been prohibited from terminating her pregnancy in the familiar environment of her own country and under the care of health professionals whom she knew and trusted'; and
- that 'in addition to the shame and stigma associated with the criminalisation of abortion of a fatally ill foetus, (her) suffering was aggravated by the obstacles she faced in getting information about the appropriate medical options'; and resolves to address this matter by:

- meeting our obligations as a state party to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and taking up the recommendations of the UNHRC experts to provide the woman involved with an effective remedy and to prevent similar violations from occurring to other women; and
- immediately implementing:
 - the awarding of appropriate compensation to the woman involved; and
 - the holding of a constitutional referendum to repeal the Eighth Amendment as the first and necessary step to enable the passage of legislation or regulation for abortion services in Ireland to protect women's lives, health and choices." — *Clare Daly, Mick Wallace, Thomas Pringle, Thomas P. 109. "That Dáil Éireann:

notes that:

- by the Government's own statements (including proposed plans to reduce the Universal Social Charge and other income taxes) there is no longer a serious disturbance in the economic circumstances of the State;
- there have not been increased costs in respect of public sector pensions;
- as private sector job numbers and salaries no longer face declines but the very opposite, with wage increases and demands by many sectors for further increases in the future;
- all indices that might pertain to measure any form of an economic crisis show that no such crisis exists;
- the pensions and salaries of public servants have faced marked declines and general stagnation since 2009; and
- the operation of the Financial Emergency Measures in the Public Interests Acts 2009-2015 can effectively deny the principle of free collective bargaining to certain sections of public sector employees, and gives undue power to the relevant Minister to set salary, pension and incremental payments for affected public servants regardless of said free collective bargaining; believes that the criteria and rationale for the continuation of this emergency legislation has passed; and calls on the Government to legislate in order to achieve the complete repeal of all sections of the Financial Emergency Measures in the Public Interests Acts 2009, (No. 5) (No. 2) (No. 41) and as amended in 2010 (No. 38), 2011 (No. 39), 2013 (No. 18) and 2015 (No. 91).” — *Mick Barry, Richard Boyd Barrett, Thomas P. 110. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes that:

- in November 2012, Ireland voted in favour of the United Nations General Assembly motion granting ‘non-member observer state’ status to Palestine;
- Seanad Éireann, on 22nd October, 2014, unanimously agreed a motion calling on the Government ‘to formally recognise the State of Palestine and do everything it can at the international level to help secure a viable two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict’;
- Dáil Éireann, on 10th December, 2014, agreed a motion to ‘officially recognise the State of Palestine on the basis of the 1967 borders with East Jerusalem as the capital, as established in UN resolutions, as a further positive contribution to securing a negotiated two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict’;
- the European Parliament on 17th December, 2014, passed a resolution supporting ‘in principle recognition of Palestinian statehood and the two state solution, and believes these should go hand in hand with the development of peace talks’;
- as of 22nd June, 2016, 136 countries have formally recognised the State of Palestine, including eight EU Member States - the Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Malta, Cyprus and Sweden; and
- the Partnership Programme for Government states that ‘We will continue to play a role in advancing a stronger role for the EU in the Middle East Peace Process, having regard to the stalled nature of the process at present, and honour our commitment to recognise the State of Palestine as part of a lasting settlement of the conflict’;

recognises:

- the failure to advance peace talks and a two-state solution;
- continued Israeli settlement construction and extension activities in the West Bank, including in East Jerusalem, which is illegal under international law and severely threatens the establishment of a viable Palestinian state based on the 1967 borders;
- the continued illegal blockade of Gaza and that a report by the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, that was released in September 2015, states that Gaza could become uninhabitable by 2020;
- the denial of basic human rights to the Palestinian people; and
- the need to stimulate new efforts to break the current-deadlock; calls on the Government to act on motions passed in both Houses in 2014 and to expedite the process to formally recognise the State of Palestine, on the basis of the 1967 borders with East Jerusalem as the capital, as established in United Nations resolutions, independent of and co-existing with Israel; and concludes that:

- the international law criteria for recognition of a Palestinian state have been fulfilled;
- such official recognition underscores the commitment of this House to realise the right of Palestinian people to self-determination;
- official recognition will give parity of status to Israel and Palestine;
- official recognition of the State of Palestine by Ireland can strengthen, advance and further legitimise the two-state solution; and
- the Government will continue to actively engage with both the Israelis and Palestinians and work to encourage direct talks between both sides to secure a sustainable and secure settlement of the conflict.” — *Darragh O'Brien, Barry Cowen, Bobby Aylward, John Brassil, Declan Breathnach, James Browne, Mary Butler, Thomas Byrne, Jackie Cahill, Dara Calleary, Pat Casey, Shane Cassells, Jack Chambers, Lisa M. notes that the 31st Dáil established a Constitutional Convention by resolution on 10th July, 2012;

further notes that on 9th June, 2013, the Constitutional Convention voted overwhelmingly that direct democracy (citizens’ initiatives) with adequate safeguards be introduced; upholds the principle of direct democracy and the holding of Constitutional referendums to affect legislative change; acknowledges that a newly constituted Citizens’ Assembly would help implement the principles of direct democracy by adding citizen-initiated referendums to the Constitution of Ireland;

supports empowering a Citizens’ Assembly for the period of one year so that it can devise a new mechanism that will enable citizens to robustly scrutinise proposed legislation, assess and advocate for citizens' initiatives, and table amendments and counter proposals to Government sponsored legislation;

agrees that:

112. “That Dáil Éireann:

is appalled by the deteriorating situation in Syria, and in particular Aleppo;

condemns without reservation the horrendous violence and destruction which has led to a significant loss of life;

deplores the use of weapons with indiscriminate effects, such as incendiary weapons;

condemns the deliberate attacks on essential services such as hospitals and the attacks that have killed or injured people providing humanitarian assistance;

believes that the actions of the Syrian Government and the Russian military are conducted with complete disregard for the most fundamental principles of international human rights law; recognises that the murder of innocent civilians in Aleppo by the Syrian Government and the Russian military may amount to war crimes and should be investigated accordingly;

calls for:

- all sides in the conflict to abide by international human rights law and in particular the core principles of distinction, proportionality, and precaution;
- the Irish Government to formally make known to the Syrian and Russian Governments the Irish people’s revulsion to their actions in Aleppo;
- the Irish Government to support the call from Zeid Ra’ad Al Hussein, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, that, ‘the UN Security Council should, without any further delay, adopt criteria to restrain members from using the veto when there are serious concerns that war crimes, crimes against humanity or genocide may have been committed’;
- the situation in Syria to be referred to the International Criminal Court;
- increased humanitarian aid to be deployed to refugee camps to assist those fleeing Syria and specific efforts to be made by the Irish Government to accommodate families and children in particular from this war-torn region; and
- renewed efforts to be made to broker peace in the country; and concludes that the Syrian population is highly vulnerable and 13.5 million people are in need of humanitarian assistance; 6.6 million are internally displaced, 4.6 million people in hard-to-reach areas, including over 480,000 besieged, whilst millions of others have fled Syria seeking refuge in neighbouring countries and beyond; Ireland, along with the International Community must stand in unity with the people of Syria and make a concerted effort to prevent further potential war crimes being committed and to work collectively to bring a lasting peace to the region.” — *Darragh O'Brien, Micheál Martin, Barry Cowen, Bobby Aylward, John Brassil, Declan Breathnach, James Browne, Mary Butler, Thomas Byrne, Jackie Cahill, Dara Calleary, Shane Cassells, Pat Casey, Jack Chambers, Lisa M. 113. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes:

- that the war in Syria has become the most terrible humanitarian catastrophe of the 21st century; the number of deaths is estimated at in excess of 470,000; the number of internally displaced persons at somewhere between 7 and 11 million out of a population of 22 million, and the number of refugees is now over 4 million;
- that within this overall disaster the assault on Aleppo by the brutal Assad regime and the forces of Russian imperialism is a particularly appalling atrocity;
- the continued bombing, logistical support, arming of rebels, etc. by the USA, Britain, France, Saudi Arabia, Iran and Turkey and that the recent ceasefire was broken by the killing of over sixty Syrian soldiers by a USA air strike, possibly with British involvement;
- that this conflict began with a peaceful popular uprising against the Assad dictatorship in early 2011, as a continuation of the revolutionary movements in Tunisia and Egypt, but this revolt was immediately met with violent armed repression by the regime contributing to a spiral into civil war;
- that the descent into civil war created the opportunity for the USA and Russia, as the world's two major imperial powers, along with regional powers such as Turkey, Iran, and Saudi Arabia to meddle in the situation in the service of their own economic, political and strategic interests;
- parallel to the Assad/Russian assault on Aleppo, the Saudi Arabian bombing campaign in Yemen, proportionately no less deadly than that on Aleppo, and assisted by the USA;
- that this whole nightmare, including the horrific Da'ish (ISIS) regime, is the culmination of more than a century of imperialist intervention, occupation and war stretching from the notorious Sykes-Picot Agreement, which carved up the region in 1917, through to the disastrous USA-led Iraq War of 2003, the persistent unconditional support for the Israeli occupation of Palestine, along with the propping up of the el-Sisi regime in Egypt and the Saudi Arabia dictatorship, and the pervasive sale of arms to rotten governments throughout the area by big powers such as the USA, Russia, the UK, France and others; and
- that the other main and tragic consequence of this calamity is the appalling refugee crisis resulting from the unprecedented displacement of millions of people fleeing war and destruction which has been met with an utterly inhumane response by the European Union and has led to thousands of people, including many children, drowning in the Mediterranean Sea and tens of thousands incarcerated in effective concentration camps; and

calls on the Government to:

- make a clear and unambiguous public statement of opposition to all foreign military intervention in Syria and in the region as a whole;
- publicly call for all foreign powers, in particular Russia, the USA, the UK and France, to end military support for warring factions in the conflict and cease arms sales to the militarist and repressive regimes in the region, in particular Syria, Saudi Arabia, Iran, Israel and Turkey;
- urge a massive programme of humanitarian aid to the desperate peoples of Syria and Yemen on the basis that if it is possible to drop bombs and launch air strikes, it is possible to drop food, medical supplies and other aid in large quantities to the civilian population;

- call on the European Union to open its borders to the refugees and for Ireland to welcome refugees who, far from being a burden, will economically and culturally enrich our community; and
- cease providing facilities at Shannon Airport to any military power engaged in bombing of, or aggressive military intervention in, other nations.” — Richard Boyd Barrett, Gino Kenny, Brid Smith, Paul Murphy, Ruth Coppinger, Mick Barry.

- the Pyrite Resolution Board has advised that seven dwellings, which had a Damage Condition Rating of one when their Building Condition Assessments were first completed, and which were refused under the pyrite remediation scheme, have now progressed to a Damage Condition Rating of two; and calls on the Minister for Housing, Planning, Community and Local Government to extend the eligibility under the Pyrite Remediation Scheme so that Building Condition Assessments with a Damage Condition Rating of one can be included.” — Louise O'Reilly.

115. “That Dáil Éireann:

acknowledges that the issue of abortion in Ireland invokes strongly held and sincere views held across the broad spectrum of opinion in our society which requires understanding, compassion and mutual respect;

accepts that the enactment of the Protection of Life During Pregnancy Act 2013 by this House defines the circumstances and processes within which abortion in this State can be legally performed, giving long overdue effect to the 1992 ‘X-Case’ judgment by the Supreme Court of Ireland, allowing for limited abortion where pregnancy endangers a woman’s life through physical illness, including in an emergency and also through a risk of suicide;

recognises that the Eighth Amendment of the Constitution of Ireland prevents legislation being introduced to provide for the termination of pregnancy in the limited circumstances of rape, incest and fatal foetal abnormalities; supports the need for women in crisis pregnancies to have the right to receive accurate information by means of counselling that is impartial, non-directive and non-intimidatory and the introduction of legislation to ensure this standard is met by all agencies providing crisis pregnancy counselling;

believes the way to reduce the number of women seeking abortions is by way of State provision of comprehensive sex education, full access to safe birth control options, full access to child care and comprehensive support services, including financial support for single parents;

opposes the attitudes and forces in society which compel women to have abortions, and criminalise those who make this decision, and therefore accepts the need for the termination of pregnancy in the limited circumstances where a woman's life and mental health is at risk or in grave danger, and in cases of rape or incest and fatal foetal abnormalities, acknowledges the distress that is caused from having to travel outside of the State to access services; acknowledges that many women cannot afford to travel, and that others do not have the immigration status that allows them to travel; and calls on the Government to hold a referendum, for decision by the people, to repeal the Eighth Amendment of the Constitution of Ireland in order that the Oireachtas can enact legislation which allows for the termination of pregnancy in the limited circumstances where a woman's life and mental health is at risk or in grave danger; and in cases of rape, incest and fatal foetal abnormalities." — Louise O'Reilly.

acknowledges:

- the serious side-effects of the anti-malaria drug Mefloquine (Lariam) on some Irish Defence Forces personnel serving overseas in peacekeeping missions in the sub-Saharan region of the African continent;
- that these side-effects have resulted in serious and prolonged psychotic and psychiatric behaviour and suicidal tendencies, including the possible death by suicide of at least 11 military personnel;
- the failure by the Department of Defence to implement a comprehensive screening programme to monitor the effects of Lariam on the estimated 4,500 plus Irish Defence Forces personnel who have received it since it was made drug of choice for sub-Saharan Africa in 2000;
- that most of the world's major military powers have, on the back of overwhelming evidence, completely banned Lariam or use it only as a drug of last resort for their soldiers;
- that the Irish Defence Forces is now one of the few armies in the world to administer Lariam as the only drug of choice for its serving overseas soldiers in areas where there is a high risk of malaria;
- RTE's Investigations Unit engaged international medical experts whose analysis in their report in 2013 concluded that Irish Defence Forces personnel who had taken Lariam were three to five times more at risk from suicide;
- the findings of a public inquiry by the British military, led by retired Lieutenant Colonel Dr. Ashley Croft and retired USA military Major Dr. Remington Nevin, two world experts on the effects of Lariam, who recommend that Lariam should be a drug of last resort and that the prescription of the drug should only be made under the most rigorous supervision; and
- that to date, the Irish Defence Forces have discharged more than 17 soldiers who reported sick with the effects of Lariam and failed to provide them with any further medical or counselling support; and

calls on the Government to:

- instruct the military authorities to immediately cease administering Lariam to all Irish soldiers presently serving in theatre and to replace it with proven safer alternatives such as Doxycycline or Malarone;

- instigate an independent and confidential outreach programme to all serving and retired Irish Defence Forces personnel, who believe they may have been affected by Lariam, to have them fully assessed for Lariam intoxication by suitably qualified independent doctors and to subsequently make the absolute numbers affected public; the programme should include families of personnel who took their own lives;
- instigate a Lariam outreach programme for Irish Defence Forces families who have been impacted by Lariam so that they can receive the appropriate advice, support and counselling;
- implement a comprehensive treatment programme delivered by independent medical professionals for all serving and retired Irish Defence Forces personnel who received Lariam and experienced or continue to experience side-effects;
- immediately stop discharging soldiers who have reported sick and who suspect their problems are side-effects related to Lariam;
- immediately issue orders that any soldier who comes forward with the side-effects of Lariam will not be discriminated against, including overseas duty and/or promotion;
- provide counselling and support for Irish Defence Forces personnel and retired veterans who were issued Lariam to assist in their recovery from the side-effects; and
- initiate an independent inquiry within the current Dáil term into the use and effects of Lariam on serving and former Irish Defence Forces personnel.” — *Aengus Ó Snodaigh, Gerry Adams, Pat Buckley, John Brady, David Cullinane, Seán Crowe, Pearse Doherty, Dessie Ellis, Martin J. 117. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes that:

- the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA) was signed by the European Union (EU) and Canada on 30th October, 2016, following a Belgian agreement that secured the backing of the regional government of Wallonia, and CETA will now be referred to national parliaments and the European Parliament for ratification;
- the European Commission and others applied immense pressure on the regional parliaments of Wallonia, Wallonia-Brussels and Brussels in response to the democratic votes opposing the provisional application and ratification of CETA, including ultimatums and threats of negative consequences for the regions if they maintained their opposition, in a way that demonstrated contempt for the democratic process;
- the strong position of the regional parliaments secured improved conditions for Belgium including an emergency exemption for Wallonia’s agricultural sector designed to protect farmers from market turbulence; and an assurance that CETA would not affect the EU's 'precautionary principle';

- the Belgian agreement includes a statement that four of the seven Belgian regional governments will not ratify CETA if the Investment Court System (ICS) is included, and a referral of the investment court mechanism to the European Court of Justice in order to test if the ICS is compatible with the European treaties;
- CETA is part of the so-called new generation of free trade agreements, along with the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP), the Trade in Services Agreement (TiSA) and the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) that move far beyond the lowering of tariffs and aim primarily to remove 'non-tariff barriers to trade' by reaching regulatory coherence or harmonisation between parties;
- CETA was negotiated entirely in secrecy and the proposed text was not made public until the draft had been finalised in September 2014;
- despite the fact that the European Court of Justice's legal opinion on the legal basis of the EU-Singapore Free Trade Agreement (which has significant implications for the implementation of CETA) has not yet been completed, the EU and Canada have pushed for the 'provisional application' of CETA;
- a comprehensive academic study published in September 2016 by the Global Development and Environment Institute at Tufts University demonstrates that CETA will cause, inter alia, 200,000 job losses in the EU by 2023, significant wage compression, a decline in the labour share of income, a net loss of governments' revenue, and net losses in gross domestic product of signature parties;
- non-government organisations and civil society and consumer groups have repeatedly expressed grave concerns about the weak protections in the CETA text for the environment, workers' rights, public health, food safety and public procurement and the impact of ICS litigation on these standards and the democratic process;
- the Irish beef farming sector is particularly vulnerable to the effects of CETA including an influx of 50,000 tonnes of Canadian beef and 75,000 tonnes of pork entering the EU market; the impact of this influx on Irish beef producers will be exacerbated as a result of the Brexit vote due to the fact that Britain has been the largest importer of Canadian agri-produce and there has been no revision of quotas in response to the Brexit vote;
- the inclusion of an investor-state dispute settlement (ISDS) mechanism in these new-generation free trade agreements (whereby foreign corporations will have the right to sue national governments for compensation for loss of expected future profits in response to government actions that impact on the company's activities in private tribunals) has provoked widespread public opposition to ratification of the agreements on both sides of the Atlantic;
- the proposed minor reforms of the ISDS system into the ICS in CETA and TTIP do not address any of the substantive concerns that have been raised, and the ICS awards foreign investors both substantive and procedural privileges in relation to all other actors in a society;
- the legal opinion of a senior council has pointed out that Irish ratification of a free trade agreement that includes an ISDS or ICS would possibly infringe Article 15.2.1 of the Constitution of Ireland, which vests the sole power to make law in the Oireachtas; certainly infringe Article 34.1 of the Constitution, which vests the power to dispense justice in the Irish domestic courts; and certainly infringe Article 34.3.2 of the Constitution which makes the High Court and appellate courts above it the sole

Court in which a law may be questioned;

- pursuant to Articles 34.2 and 34.3.2 of the Constitution of Ireland, a referendum of Irish citizens to change the Constitution in relation to the subjection of the Irish State to an ICS is legally required; and
- despite Article 29.5.2 of the Constitution of Ireland, which states that the terms of any international agreement involving a charge upon public funds must have been approved by Dáil Éireann, and despite the Seanad Éireann motion rejecting the provisional application that was adopted on 5th October, 2016, the Irish Government has disappointingly signed up to the provisional application of CETA;

acknowledges that:

- Seanad Éireann has voted to reject the provisional application of CETA, and the Irish Congress of Trade Unions as well as Irish environmental, public health, food safety and consumer rights organisations have called for the rejection of CETA and TTIP;
- other national and regional parliaments in Belgium, France, Slovenia, Luxembourg and the Netherlands have likewise passed resolutions against the adoption or provisional application of CETA and TTIP;
- more than 3.5 million European citizens have signed a petition calling on European authorities not to enter into the CETA and TTIP agreements;
- more than 2,000 local and regional governments have declared themselves TTIP and CETA-free zones in 13 EU member states, including Dublin City Council and Clare County Council; and
- more than 100 legal experts and academics from across Europe have signed a statement calling for an ISDS or ICS to be excluded from the terms of CETA and TTIP; and

calls on the Government:

- to withdraw from the provisional application of CETA;
- to uphold Article 29.5.2 of the Constitution of Ireland, which states that the terms of any international agreement involving a charge upon public funds must have been approved by Dáil Éireann;
- not to ratify CETA or any free trade agreement which includes the subjection of the Irish State to an ICS or ISDS mechanism;
- to hold a referendum of the Irish people, in accordance with the legal requirements of the Constitution of Ireland (Articles 34.1 and 34.3.2) in relation to the subjection of the Irish State to the ICS included in CETA; and
- to defend the principle of national sovereignty and subsidiarity in relation to the EU's trade agenda." — *Maurice Quinlivan, Martin Kenny, David Cullinane, Gerry Adams, Pat Buckley, John Brady, Seán Crowe, Pearse Doherty, Dessie Ellis, Martin J. condemns without reservation the brutal and systematic attack by the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) which commenced on 3rd August, 2014, against the Yazidis in Sinjar, Iraq, the intent of which would appear to have been to destroy the Yazidis of Sinjar, composing the majority of the world’s Yazidi population; is appalled at the actions of ISIS which resulted in mass executions; the selling of women and children at slave markets for the purposes of sexual and domestic slavery; brutal physical, mental and emotional trauma; forced conversion to Islam; degrading and inhumane treatment; and the forcible transfer of children from their own families to ISIS fighters;

further condemns the deliberate destruction of Yazidi shrines and temples; recognises that thousands of Yazidis remain in captivity under ISIS control;

notes that the British Parliament and the European Parliament have passed motions recognising that ISIS have committed genocide against the Yazidis;

takes note of the United Nations mandated report ‘They Came to Destroy: ISIS Crimes Against the Yazidis’ which found that ‘ISIS has committed the crime of genocide as well as multiple crimes against humanity and war crimes against the Yazidis, thousands of whom are held captive in the Syrian Arab Republic where they are subjected to almost unimaginable horrors’; and

calls for:

- the Government to explore all possibilities of ensuring that those responsible for breaches of international law, in particular of humanitarian law and human rights law, where such breaches may constitute war crimes, crimes against humanity or genocide, be brought to justice and to continue to work within the United Nations, together with others, in order to seek to ensure that there shall be no impunity for such crimes;
- the United Nations Security Council to take immediate action to prevent further possible acts of genocide and crimes against humanity;
- Ireland to support the Iraqi authorities and international efforts for the protection of the human rights of the Yazidis and other persons and minority populations, under threat from ISIS crimes, in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations and international law, including applicable international human rights law, international refugee law, and international humanitarian law, stressing in this regard the important role the United Nations plays in leading and coordinating this effort;
- the international community to give effective and appropriate implementation to the measures set out in United Nations Security Council resolutions 2249 and 2253 aimed at removing the global and unprecedented threat to international peace and security posed by ISIS; and

- Ireland to support the implementation of the 2014 programme for national reconciliation adopted by the Government of Iraq and to work, together with its international partners, in support of the Secretary-General of the United Nations and the Special Envoy of the Secretary-General to achieve a political resolution to the conflict in Syria based on the principles of the Geneva Communique of 30th June, 2012 and resolution 2254 adopted by the Security Council of the United Nations on 18th December, 2015.” — *Darragh O'Brien, Micheál Martin and all other members of the Fianna Fáil parliamentary party, an Taoiseach and all other members of the Fine Gael parliamentary party, Denis Naughten, Aire Cumarsáide, Gníomhaithe ar son na hAeráide agus Comhshaoil, Shane Ross, Aire Iompair, Turasóireachta, agus Spóirt, Katherine Zappone, Aire Leanaí agus Gnóthai Óige, John Halligan, Aire Stáit, Finian McGrath, Aire Stáit, Sean Canney, Aire Stáit, Kevin Boxer Moran, Gerry Adams and all other members of the Sinn Féin parliamentary party, Brendan Howlin and all other members of the Labour parliamentary party, Eamon Ryan, Catherine Martin, Michael Fitzmaurice, Thomas P. - Christians and other religious minorities in Iraq and Syria have been an integral part of the region’s cultural fabric for millennia;
- since 2003, minority groups including Christians and Yazidis in Iraq and Syria have been the target of systematic violence, with millions fleeing their ancestral homes;
- Christians, Yazidis and other religious minorities in Iraq and Syria have been murdered, subjugated, and suffered grievous bodily and psychological harm, including sexual enslavement and abuse, inflicted in a deliberate and calculated manner in violation of the United Nations Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide; and
- genocide is a crime under international law that shall be punished, whether committed by ‘constitutionally responsible rulers, public officials or private individuals’ as provided by the United Nations Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide;” — *Mattie McGrath, Noel Grealish, Michael Collins, Michael Harty, Danny Healy-Rae, Michael J. - a further purpose of the 2009 Act is ‘to contribute to the social and economic development of the State’;

acknowledges that:

- at the time of the 2009 Act there was an economic crisis which dictated the primary purpose of the Act;
- in 2017 there is a housing and homelessness crisis and the primary purpose of the 2009 Act must be updated to reflect this crisis; and
- sales of National Asset Management Agency (NAMA) assets to vulture funds have undermined the secondary purpose enshrined in the 2009 Act with regard to the social and economic development of the State; and

calls for:

- an immediate halt on further asset sales by NAMA pending a thorough examination of how NAMA assets can be utilised to prioritise the social development of the State in the context of the current housing crisis; and

- the latest Central Bank of Ireland figures show that legal proceedings to enforce the debt/security on a private home mortgage were issued in 4,278 cases up to end of September 2016 and several thousand more are presently before the courts;
- in the High Court case AIB v Counihan (2014), Mr. Justice Barrett ruled on 21st December, 2016, that Council Directive 93/13/EEC applies to the situation of private home mortgages and so European Union (EU) standards of consumer protection apply to all private home mortgages;
- buyers of mortgages for private homes/personal consumption are considered consumers under EU law and so are entitled to protection under the European Communities (Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts) Regulations, (SI 27/1995) which implements Council Directive 93/13/EEC on unfair terms in consumer contracts; and

- the implications of the European Court of Justice case Kušionová (2014) which requires unfair contracts in cases of home repossession to be assessed in light of the fundamental protection afforded to the ‘home’ under the European Charter of Fundamental Rights;
- that the present judicial system does not currently have the resources required to adjudicate in these cases;
- that county registrars and judges will require resources in order to implement EU law and ensure correct analysis of consumer protections when conducting ‘own motion assessments’; and
- that the State is likely to be liable if any reposessions occur without proper implementation of EU law which requires ‘own motion assessment’ in these cases; and

calls for:

- a moratorium on all home repossession cases currently going through the judicial system;
- the immediate allocation of resources to ensure county registrars, judges and other research staff can fulfil their obligations under EU law; and
- an amendment to legislation to prevent homelessness occurring due to tenants in buy-to-let mortgages, as 20 per cent of all buy-to-let mortgages are in arrears, with 10 percent of such mortgages (14,518) 720 days in arrears.” — Eamon Ryan, Catherine Martin.

- threaten to escalate military or other forms of conflict in countries such as Syria, Yemen, Palestine or elsewhere; and
- threaten to undermine international efforts to combat climate change;

specifically condemns the following executive orders and commitments made by President Trump:

- the suspension of the Refugee Admissions Programme, the drastic cut in the number of refugee admissions, and the order prohibiting entry to the US of citizens from Syria, Libya, Iran, Iraq, Yemen, Somalia and Sudan, orders which represent a breach of the 1951 Geneva Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees; resolves to express its disapproval by:

- the decision to consolidate and extend the existing Mexico-United States barrier, which currently consists of approximately 980 kilometres of barriers between the two countries;” and

- (c) To insert the following after “if they refuse to co-operate with the executive order”:

- “— calling on the Government to immediately and permanently ban all military landings at Irish airports and military overflights through Irish airspace, and to acknowledge that to give foreign militaries, in particular the US military, carte blanche to use Shannon Airport as a US military airbase is to facilitate

- many asylum seekers spend years in the Direct Provision System, trapped in conditions that are damaging to the health, welfare and life-chances of those forced to endure them;
- as of 2016 there are almost 5,000 people in the Direct Provision System, of which up to 18 per cent have been in the Direct Provision System for more than seven years, up to 20 per cent for five to seven years and the average length of stay is more than three years;
- residents in the Direct Provision System are denied the elementary right to cook in their own rooms;
- more than one third of those in the Direct Provision System are children and teenagers and these conditions are especially damaging to children, who are isolated from their peers and denied equal access to third-level education;
- the Irish Human Rights and Equality Commission described the Direct Provision System as a severe violation of human rights;
- in 2014, the outgoing Ombudsman for Children, Emily Logan, said the ‘treatment of children living in Direct Provision is an issue of ongoing concern which the State urgently needs to address, children should not grow up in Direct Provision’; and
- with the the running of Direct Provision System centres contracted out to private companies, the entire system has become a State-subsidised multi-million euro industry, in which private businesses make huge profits out of the human misery of their ‘customers’; and

calls on the Government to:

- abolish the Direct Provision System forthwith, i.e., within the next three months;

acknowledges that:

- the significant public issues which have been raised in the treatment of Sergeant Maurice McCabe, by both the Gardaí and Tusla, require an immediate response; and
- the gravity of the issues concerned, and the consequent erosion of confidence and trust in these two critical State agencies, demand that the political system respond with thoroughness and determination; and agrees to the following actions being taken:

- that a full Public Inquiry be established to investigate all complaints that certain members of the Gardaí engaged in a systematic campaign to besmirch the character and reputation of Sgt. McCabe;
- that this Inquiry would also examine all interactions between the Gardaí, Tusla and the Health Service Executive in respect of Sgt. McCabe;
- that all necessary resources would be provided for this purpose;
- that such Inquiry would be led by a recognised person of standing, from another jurisdiction, supported by an external team as necessary;
- that emergency legislation be introduced to establish this Inquiry and confer necessary powers;
- that the current Garda Commissioner be requested to step aside for the duration of this investigation and be replaced by an international senior police officer, in a caretaker capacity, for this period;
- that this Inquiry would also make recommendations in respect of the most appropriate means of dealing with complaints from other Garda whistleblowers; and
- that the detail of these actions be agreed and overseen by the Oireachtas Joint Committee on Justice and Equality.” — Róisín Shortall, Catherine Murphy.

128. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes, with concern, the efforts of Tesco to force adverse changes in pay and conditions on those of its staff who joined the predecessor company prior to 1996;

sees no justification for such an assault on pay and working conditions;

further notes the crude anti-union campaign, code named ‘Project Black’, by the company which involves impeding the conduct of legitimate union business on their premises by staff and union officials, as well as inducing staff to leave the union;

commends the Tesco staff in 21 stores, so far, who have either begun or agreed to begin strike action, notwithstanding the fact that most striking staff are not directly impacted by this round of cuts in pay and conditions; supports the call for the general public not to pass the picket lines and for a wider consumer boycott of Tesco until they reverse the cuts in pay and conditions on the pre-1996 staff; calls for time to be set aside in this House to debate the unfolding strike action and its wider implications for workers and the trade union movement; and further calls on the Government to legislate to protect the effective functioning of a union in workplaces, unimpeded by the tactics that have occurred in Tesco.” — Mick Barry, Richard Boyd Barrett, Ruth Coppinger, Gino Kenny, Paul Murphy, Bríd Smith, Seamus Healy.

129. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes that ConnectIreland have 78,285 connectors based in 147 countries across the world and are currently working to bring a further 2,200 jobs to Ireland;

recognises that:

- the initiative performs an important role in connecting members of our diaspora with the opportunity to create jobs across Ireland, especially in rural Ireland;
- ConnectIreland may become more important to help negate some of the possible impacts of Brexit; and
- 66 per cent of the jobs created by ConnectIreland are in 15 counties outside of Dublin, which provides a significant boost for communities across the island;

opposes the Government’s decision to end the Succeed in Ireland scheme before the result of the review has been published and examined; calls on the Government to reinstate this scheme so that the Industrial Development Authority (IDA) can extend ConnectIreland’s contract to operate the Succeed in Ireland initiative; and directs the IDA to take action to avoid the loss of the jobs currently being sourced by ConnectIreland and take action to avoid the loss of the global network built by ConnectIreland.” — *Maurice Quinlivan, Gerry Adams, John Brady, Pat Buckley, Seán Crowe, David Cullinane, Pearse Doherty, Dessie Ellis, Martin J. 130. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes that:

- members of An Garda Síochána play a hugely important role in Irish society and have generally served this country well;
- public trust is a crucial element of effective policing; and
- citizens of Ireland want a police service that they can continue to be proud of and one that is capable of preventing and reprimanding those who commit crime so that they can appear in court and be prosecuted with properly gathered evidence;

agrees that:

- ongoing professional development is paramount to ensuring that members of An

Garda Síochána are trained for the challenges for 21st century policing;

- unfortunately recent scandals exposed in An Garda Síochána have damaged public confidence in the force; and
- independent commissions on police forces have successfully worked in Northern Ireland (Independent Commission on Policing for Northern Ireland), in the UK and in the USA; and calls for the establishment of an Independent Commission of An Garda Síochána:

- that would examine how to:
 - improve basic training;
 - enhance career progression of the force; and
 - introduce a proper professional development structure that would allow for far better supervisory mechanisms to be put in place; and
- which should result in a much improved, accountable management structure that would greatly improve Garda services to citizens, result in boosting morale and building up trust and confidence.” — *Jim O'Callaghan, Bobby Aylward, John Brassil, Declan Breathnach, James Browne, Mary Butler, Thomas Byrne, Jackie Cahill, Dara Calleary, Pat Casey, Shane Cassells, Jack Chambers, Lisa M. 131. “That Dáil Éireann:

recognises that:

- Allied Irish Banks (AIB) is a 99.9 per cent State-owned bank which received significant sums of public funds by way of a bail-out;
- the Government has a responsibility to Irish citizens regarding the financial management of AIB as a result of the bail-out;
- unless International Accounting Standard (IAS) 39 is corrected, any such floatation could potentially be fraudulent;
- in the context of Brexit and other pressures facing our economy, it is vital to ensure we maximise the return on our bail-out investment in AIB; and
- a decision of such magnitude should be taken by democratic means and is not a matter for Government to arbitrarily decide; and

calls on the Government:

- to produce a cost-benefit analysis regarding any proposed share sale of AIB, clearly laying out the benefits or otherwise of a share sale now, at a future point, or not at all;

- to commit to providing the results of that cost-benefit analysis to every member of Dáil Éireann for consideration;
- to undertake a legal assessment of the implications of IAS 39; and
- not to proceed with any share sale unless it is established, by way of a Dáil vote, that such a sale has majority Dáil Éireann support.” — Catherine Murphy, Róisín Shortall.

[30 March, 2017]

132. “That Dáil Éireann:

notes that:

- 937,000 breath tests were wrongly recorded on the official Garda digital record system, Police Using Leading Systems Effectively (PULSE), and that the existence of a problem in this regard was communicated to Garda Commissioner Nóirín O’Sullivan in 2014;
- 14,700 people were subject to wrongful convictions due to Garda errors;
- Commissioner O’Sullivan failed to adequately explain the cause of these errors;
- high-ranking members of An Garda Síochána have recently been accused of engaging in a systematic campaign to smear the character and reputation of Sergeant Maurice McCabe and other Garda whistleblowers; and
- there has been a resulting erosion of public confidence and trust in An Garda Síochána, including a lack of public confidence in Commissioner O’Sullivan and senior Garda management to investigate possible Garda malpractice and/or corruption involving, in particular, the carrying out of breath tests, processing offences through the courts, and handling complaints and protected disclosures from members of An Garda Síochána;

acknowledges that:

- An Garda Síochána should be held accountable, in terms of their adherence to professional and ethical standards; and
- section 11 of the Garda Síochána Act 2005 states that:
 - a person who holds the office of Garda Commissioner may be removed from office by the Government but only for stated reasons, including:
 - the person has failed to perform the functions of the office with due diligence and effectiveness; and
 - the person’s removal from office would, in the Government’s opinion, be in the best interests of An Garda Síochána; and
 - on notifying under section 12(1) a person who holds the office of Garda Commissioner that the Government intends to consider removing him or her from office, the Government may immediately suspend the person from duty;

further notes that Commissioner O’Sullivan has stated that she plans to continue in her position, even if there is a Dáil vote of no confidence in her; and

calls on the Government to:

- use the powers available to them under the Garda Síochána Act 2005 to immediately suspend and then remove from office the current Garda Commissioner, Nóirín O'Sullivan;

- independently investigate the involvement of members of senior Garda management in alleged malpractice and/or corruption;
- urgently review the situations in which people may be convicted for certain crimes based on the word of a Garda Superintendent; and
- urgently review how An Garda Síochána can be made democratically accountable to the communities they serve, including, the election of democratically accountable bodies, empowered to decide on how policing is implemented, how policing resources are spent and to hold An Garda Síochána accountable for their actions.” — Richard Boyd Barrett, Bríd Smith, Gino Kenny, Ruth Coppinger, Mick Barry, Paul Murphy.

[30 March, 2017]

133. “That Dáil Éireann:

- is appalled by the deteriorating situation in Syria;
- condemns without reservation the horrendous violence and destruction which has led to a significant loss of life;
- in particular, condemns the recent suspected chemical attacks in Idlib, Syria, which reportedly killed dozens of people, including children;
- condemns the illegal, unilateral airstrikes by the United States of America (USA), which used 59 Tomahawk cruise missiles to target the Shayrat airbase on Friday, 7th April, 2017, which reportedly killed nine civilians, including four children in areas near the airbase;
- deplores the use of weapons with indiscriminate effects, such as incendiary weapons, and deplores all forms of bombing;
- condemns the deliberate attacks on essential services such as hospitals and the attacks that have killed or injured people providing humanitarian assistance;
- believes that the bombing campaign carried out by the Syrian Government, Russian Military, USA Military, Australian Military, Canadian Military, Danish Military, French Military, Jordanian Military, Dutch Military, British Military, Saudi Arabian Military, Bahraini Military, Turkish Military, United Arab Emirates Military and the Syrian rebel forces are conducted with complete disregard for the most fundamental principles of international human rights law; and
- recognises that the murder of innocent civilians by the various factions may amount to war crimes and should be punished accordingly;

calls for:

- all sides in the conflict to abide by international human rights law and put an end to all bombing of Syria;
- the Irish Government to formally make known to all governments that have engaged in the bombing of Syria, the Irish people’s revulsion of their actions in Syria;
- increased humanitarian aid to be deployed to refugee camps to assist those fleeing Syria, Afghanistan and Iraq, and specific efforts to be made by the Irish Government to accommodate families and children in particular from this war-torn region; and

- renewed efforts to be made to broker peace in the country by taking a neutral position and by condemning all acts of violence, including all forms of bombings by all parties to the conflict; and concludes that:

- the Syrian population is highly vulnerable and 13.5 million people are in need of humanitarian assistance, 6.6 million are internally displaced, 4.6 million people are in hard-to-reach areas, including over 480,000 besieged, whilst millions of others have fled Syria seeking refuge in neighbouring countries and beyond; and
- Ireland, along with the international community, must stand in unity with the people of Syria and make a concerted effort to prevent further potential war crimes being committed and to work collectively to bring a lasting peace to the region.” — Mick Wallace, Clare Daly, Maureen O'Sullivan, Thomas Pringle, Catherine Connolly, Joan Collins.
