- effectively forcing its Chief Executive to resign his post;

for the cuts of 24% to the budget of the Irish Human Rights Commission, thus

- weakening its role within the context of the Good Friday agreement;

30. “That Seanad Éireann noting;

- that Ireland has one of the highest levels of alcohol consumption in the world;
- that the level of alcohol consumption in Ireland and the economic and social problems which it creates is now such as to amount to a crisis for this country, tarnishing its image both at home and abroad;
- the persistent and serious problem of alcohol related violence, anti-social behaviour and other offences throughout the country;
- that 97% of all public order offences are alcohol related (National Crime Council 2003);
- that alcohol is a significant contributing factor in physical and sexual assaults, domestic violence, fatal road accidents, criminal damage and that almost half of homicides were perpetrated by intoxicated persons (HSE Report on Alcohol Related Harm 2008);
- that alcohol was found to be responsible for 6,584 deaths in the 5 year period 2000-2004 and in the same period 3 million hospitalisations at a cost of €930m, according to research presented at the 2009 Summer Scientific Meeting of the Faculty of Public Health Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians of Ireland;

- the fact that alcohol is a gateway drug for many young people amounting to an illegal industry of €145m annually;

and considering;

- the widespread and extensive exposure of alcoholic products through media outlets such as television, radio, cinema, and billboard advertising;
- the strong links that alcohol advertising has to sponsorship of sport and other cultural activities;
- that advertising of alcohol portrays a simple social activity and one to be encouraged;
- that alcohol advertisements hold a strong appeal for young people and are considered by young people to be stylish and humorous, showing alcohol as promoting a desirable lifestyle, and helping to improve confidence in social skills (the Impact of Alcohol Advertising on Teenagers in Ireland 2001);
- that measures are needed to curtail the demand for alcohol, to complement the measures introduced in the Intoxicating Liquor Act 2008, which restricts the supply of alcohol;

[28 May, 2009]

31. “That Seanad Éireann noting;

- Ireland is currently positioning Human Trafficking within its immigration policy and practice and not within the sphere of organised crime;
- the victims of sex trafficking are individuals who have experienced human rights abuses at the hands of criminal gangs;
- the State has mandated an immigration law enforcement agency as the sole authority for granting the Recovery and Reflection period to victims;
- Gardaí who police immigration laws are also given the mandate to deal with victims of the crime of human trafficking, even though the two roles are not compatible because many victims will have broken immigration laws as a consequence of being a victim of human trafficking;

- the accommodation and measures set out by the Government to provide assistance to suspected victims of trafficking during the Recovery and Reflection period is neither conducive for reflection and recovery, nor does it give suspected victims an adequate standard of living;
- in practice victims are not granted the 6 month Temporary Residency Permit at the appropriate time;

and considering;

- protection and assistance are not based on the human rights of the victims of the crime but are too conditional upon co-operation with the criminal investigation;
- in practice the threshold is too high and too ‘evidence based’ in granting victims the Recovery and Reflection period and is therefore leaving it very difficult for victims to access this protection;
- the process of gathering evidence traumatizing for victims;
- it is traumatizing for witnesses to testify in front of the accused and their associates in the court room;
- there is a concern that the State is ‘ticking boxes’ in its efforts to ratify the Council of Europe Convention on Action against Human Trafficking but not adequately addressing victim’s needs;

calls on the Government to;

- mandate the organized crime section of the Gardaí to police human trafficking and deal with victims of the crime;
- act so that Gardaí in organized crime get specialized training to deal with this issue;
- establish a joint investigation unit to so as to police human trafficking on the island of Ireland more effectively — human trafficking by its nature is a transnational organized crime and in Ireland’s situation it is exacerbated by our loosely monitored border;
- include all of Article 14 of the Council of Europe Convention when it comes to granting victims residency in Ireland so that victims of human trafficking in Ireland will be given protection and assistance based on their human rights;
- follow the advice of the EU Commission’s Expert Group on Trafficking in Human Beings;
- extend the Recovery and Reflection period to 3 months and provide it immediately when someone is identified as a suspected victim;
- ensure the identification of suspected victims of trafficking happens in collaboration with law enforcement and victim support agencies;
- commit to granting the 6 month Temporary Residency Permit immediately to victims when they begin co-operating with the criminal investigation;

- relieve victim trauma by ensuring victims have the option of giving evidence by video and testifying in court by video link;
- include as part of policy the promotion of exit routes to enable women to move out of prostitution and trafficking situations; and
- follow the lead of Sweden, Norway and Iceland by criminalizing the purchase of sex so as to target the demand for the sex exploitation industry.”

- notes the Governments commitment to ratify the Council of Europe Convention on Action Against Trafficking in Beings and the Protocol to Prevent, Suppress and Punish Trafficking in Persons, especially Women and Children, supplementing the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organised Crime as soon as all the necessary legislative and administrative arrangements are in place.”
