— Senators Maurice Cummins, Ivana Bacik, Jillian van Turnhout, Darragh O’Brien, David Cullinane, David Norris.
- expresses its dismay at the disturbing findings of the report and at the inadequate and inappropriate response, particularly of the Church authorities in Cloyne, to complaints and allegations of child sexual abuse;
- deplores the Vatican’s intervention which contributed to the undermining of the child protection frameworks and guidelines of the Irish State and the Irish bishops;
- welcomes the publication of the Children First National Guidance 2011, the full and consistent implementation of which will be given priority, and welcomes the approval by Government for the preparation of legislation to require statutory compliance with the Children First National Guidance;
- acknowledges that child protection requires a cross-societal awareness and a purposeful co-operative response from all organisations working with children;
- welcomes the publication of the provisions concerning the Criminal Justice (Withholding Information on Crimes against Children and Vulnerable Adults) Bill 2011 and welcomes the announcement made that the heads of the National Vetting Bureau Bill 2011 will be published by the end of July 2011 and furnished to the Joint Committee on Justice, Defence and Equality for a consultative process; and
- affirms its determination that the State will take all necessary measures to protect its children.”.

Leasú:

Amendment:

1. To delete “deplores the Vatican’s intervention which contributed to the undermining of the child protection frameworks and guidelines of the Irish State and the Irish bishops;” and substitute the following:

“profoundly regrets the Vatican’s intervention in 1997 which contributed to the undermining in the Cloyne diocese of the child protection frameworks and guidelines of the Irish Bishops;

also regrets the absence of satisfactory national guidelines in this State prior to 1999 concerning the reporting of knowledge or suspicion of child abuse, and regrets that Oireachtas Éireann has not yet enacted legislation to compel such reporting and to underpin inter-agency sharing of information;

notes the 2001 Motu proprio from the Vatican Congregation of the Doctrine of the Faith which reformed the Church’s handling of abuse cases and notes that, since then and as evidenced by the approval of the US bishops’ ‘Essential Norms’ document in December 2002, the Vatican has supported national church policies which require compliance with national civil laws on reporting abuse allegations;

notes the Commission of Investigation’s acknowledgement that the standards adopted by the Church in Ireland are ‘high standards which, if fully implemented, would afford proper protection to children’ and that the ‘standards set by the State are less precise and more difficult to implement’;

affirms the work of the National Board for Safeguarding Children established by the Irish Bishops Conference, the Conference of Religious in Ireland and the Irish Missionary Union and urges all the relevant religious authorities to co-operate fully with its work;”.
