2. "That Seanad Éireann:

- takes into account the decision by the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) on 13th of October 2017 to designate Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) as Specially Designated Global Terrorists (SDGTs) pursuant to the global terrorism Executive Order (E.O.) 13224 and consistent with the Countering America's Adversaries Through Sanctions Act;
- recognises that the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) is responsible for suppression of Iranian people including crushing the 2009 uprising and a renewed vicious crackdown on human rights defenders, women's rights activists, anti-death penalty campaigners and dual citizens;
- notes that the IRGC has played a leading role in the assassination of Iranian dissidents both in Iran and abroad, including members of the opposition movement, the PMOI (MEK) and the broader democratic coalition, the National Council of Resistance of Iran;
- recognises that the IRGC is subject to EU sanctions in its entirety and a large number of individuals and entities are designated because of their support for, or links to, the IRGC, under the EU's proliferation and human rights sanctions regimes relating to Iran;
- notes that the IRGC partakes in slaughtering the Syrian people to keep Bashar al-Assad in power, abetting and concealing the crimes of the Syrian regime, including its use of chemical weapons against its own people;
- notes the IRGC's support for terrorist groups in Iraq that destabilises the country and foments sectarian conflicts in the country;
- notes Iran's financial and military support for and the cooperation of the IRGC with Hezbollah in Lebanon, which includes the supply of tens of thousands of rockets and missiles in clear violation of UN Weapons embargo and Security Council Resolutions;
- notes Iran's financial and military support for the Houti militias in Yemen, including supply of rockets and weapons in clear violation of UN Weapons embargo and Security Council Resolutions;
- notes the reports of recently declassified CIA documents that expose the Iranian offers of secret funding, arms and training to the terrorist group al-Qaeda, an extensive support dating back even prior to the 9/11 terror attacks;
- recognises that the IRGC recruits child soldiers and refugees from Afghanistan and trains them to become terrorist fighters and to be dispatched to the region;
- notes that senior IRGC commanders are on Interpol's Red Notice list for acts of international terrorism including the 1994 bombing of a Jewish community centre in

Buenos Aires;

- notes that the IRGC is the main instrument of the Iranian regime that only answers to the Supreme Leader and plays a central role in the human rights violations in the country, exporting of terrorism abroad, the regime's ballistic missile programme and its cyberattacks against targets in the West;
 - recognises the information revealed by the NCRI regarding crimes committed by the IRGC against the Iranian people and its role in fomenting terrorism in the region and the call by NCRI President-elect Mrs Maryam Rajavi for recognising IRGC as a terrorist entity and for immediate expulsion of the IRGC and its proxies from Iraq, Syria, Yemen and Lebanon;
 - recognises the joint statement from British Prime Minister Theresa May, German Chancellor Angela Merkel and French President Emmanuel Macron on 13th of October 2017, which states, 'At the same time as we work to preserve the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action, we share concerns about Iran's ballistic missile programme and regional activities that also affect our European security interests. We stand ready to take further appropriate measures to address these issues in close cooperation with the US and all relevant partners';
 - calls on the Government to acknowledge and condemn the IRGC's destabilising activities in the region and participation in domestic repression;
 - urges the Government to act in the EU for a EU designation of the entire IRGC as a Foreign Terrorist Group and additional punitive measures against Senior IRGC commanders responsible for ongoing human rights violations in Iran and support for terrorism abroad;

4. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes:

- that Ireland's network of regional and local roads is almost 91,000 kilometres in length, accounts for 94 per cent of Ireland's road network and carries about 54 per cent of all road traffic;
- that the local and regional road network serves as the main connection between homes and businesses in much of Ireland, including Dublin and other urban areas, and plays a vital role in balanced regional economic development;
- that according to the latest National Oversight and Audit Commission, almost 70 per cent of regional roads have structural or surface defects and that ten per cent or more of local primary roads were structurally distressed in 12 local authorities;
- that well maintained and good quality local and regional roads facilitate strong links between and among communities;
- that the Department of Transport, Tourism and Sport has, on average over the past five years, provided local councils with less than half the amount of funding that is deemed necessary to maintain roads in a steady state of condition;
- that repeated incidences of flooding and other extreme weather events have caused considerable damage to many local and regional roads;
- that many local authorities have too few outdoor council staff and have not been granted sufficient resources to hire additional staff;
- the importance of the speedy delivery of the planned upgrading of our national road network, for both the economy and a more balanced spatial distribution; and
- the considerable safety concerns arising from roads with structural or surface defects and that the presence of such defects increases the frequency of road collisions;

recognises that:

- the Programme for a Partnership Government commits to increasing the capital budget for regional and local roads by approximately 50 per cent, which has yet to be delivered; and
- the Department of Transport, Tourism and Sport has estimated, in its Strategic Framework for Investment in Land Transport, that an annual investment of €80 million is required to maintain the current regional and local road network, €163 million more than has been allocated this year;

and calls on the Government to:

- significantly increase the regional and local roads budget in the context of the Capital Investment Plan 2016-2021;
 - publish a full response to the findings of the National Oversight and Audit Commission, with a detailed plan to address the issues and defects identified in this report, within three months;
 - review the management of funds at local authority levels to ensure that funds are being used in the most efficient and effective manner possible and provide additional administrative supports where they are needed; and
 - provide biannual reports to the Houses of the Oireachtas on the implementation progress of this plan, with the first update provided no later than six months following the passing of this motion.”

5. “That Seanad Éireann:

- recognises the crucial role of primary and community care in the delivery of our public health system in Ireland;
- notes the need for major reform of our public health system including a requirement to rebalance the health budget towards primary care through the proper resourcing of primary and community care, thereby alleviating pressure on the acute hospital network;
- notes the ongoing staffing crisis within general practice and the level of emigration taking
- place from Ireland by young GPs;
- notes the need for further investment in primary care and general practice as part of an overall health strategy that would help to reduce the stress of hospital admission for significant numbers of patients;
- calls on the Government to urgently examine the impacts of the Financial Emergency Measures in the Public Interest (FEMPI) on general practice and assess the need for an accelerated reversal to restore the viability of general practice and as an important step towards addressing the acute shortage of GPs;
- calls on the Minister for Health to expedite the negotiations surrounding a new GP contract;
- calls on the Government to re-balance the proportion of Ireland’s health budget going to primary care to the international benchmark.”

6. “That Seanad Éireann:

- referring to its previous motion of October 2016 recognising the conflict in Syria as one of the world’s gravest humanitarian crises since the Second World War, involving 8 million displaced people inside Syria, 4.5 million people under siege or inaccessible, 4.5 million refugees beyond Syrian borders, 1.5 million people injured and more than 250,000 people killed;
- noting that since then, there have been large numbers of further civilian casualties with particularly horrific attacks on civilians in Eastern Ghouta in recent weeks;
- condemns the indiscriminate bombing of civilians and civilian infrastructure by the Syrian regime and its backers, that have left hundreds dead in the last two weeks alone;
- condemns further the deliberate targeting of medical and rescue infrastructure and personnel, and the use of starvation sieges against the population of Eastern Ghouta since 2013;
- calls for all bombing of civilians and civilian infrastructure in Syria to cease immediately and for the immediate implementation and indefinite extension of the UN Ceasefire (Security Council 2401) and a negotiated, comprehensive and sustainable end to the conflict, based on the 2012 Geneva Communique and UN Security Council resolution 2254;
- calls for repeated, continuous and unhindered access to Eastern Ghouta and other besieged areas for UN-led humanitarian relief operations;
- calls on the Government, with the support of civil society, to implement its agreed commitments to support refugees from Syria, including under the Irish Refugee Protection Programme, the Family Reunification Humanitarian Admission Programme and our national resettlement programme;
- calls on the Government to continue to use all appropriate diplomatic means and forums to raise this issue, to continue to work with likeminded states in the EU and the UN and to continue to work towards an end to bombardment of civilians, a genuine cessation of violence, and unimpeded humanitarian aid access throughout Syria and in particular in Eastern Ghouta.”

7. “That Seanad Éireann:

acknowledges:

- suicide is a tragic event with strong and devastating emotional repercussions for the families, friends and communities left behind,
- suicide is a leading cause of death worldwide,
- approximately 500 people die by suicide every year in Ireland,
- for every suicide at least 6 people are directly affected,
- rebuilding lives is such an enormous task and suicide survivors need more acknowledgement and assistance to heal from grief that seems insurmountable;

recognises:

- the positive advancements in destigmatising mental illness in recent years,
- further need of cultural change is required to ensure society is more open to and accepting of those with mental illness,
- further structural change is vital to ensure that when those at risk seek help it is available and accessible,
- the need to acknowledge and support those in deep distress who are left behind;

agrees:

- to name a ‘National Suicide Survivors Day’ dedicated to those grieving the terrible loss of loved ones through suicide,
- a ‘National Suicide Survivors Day’ will acknowledge and demonstrate compassion allowing people to talk about their loss and burden,
- a ‘National Suicide Survivors Day’ will reach out and encourage expression of grief and assist healing,
- a ‘National Suicide Survivors Day’ will give a voice to conversation about mental illnesses and suicide,
- a ‘National Suicide Survivors Day’ will lessen isolation and silence.”

8. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes that:

- there were 643,131 people, 13.5 per cent of the population, who indicated that they had a disability in Census 2016, which represented an increase of 47,796 people between 2011 and 2016;
- up to one in ten persons below 45 years of age has a disability, rising to 20 per cent by age 60, and rates increase sharply above age 70;

- educational attainment amongst disabled persons is much lower than that of the general population at all levels;
- the unemployment rate amongst persons with a disability was 26.3 per cent, more than double the 12.9 per cent rate for the population as a whole;
- the potential loss of the medical card is a significant barrier preventing people with disabilities and chronic illness entering employment;
- the Central Statistics Office's Survey on Income and Living Conditions published in February, 2017, showed that while overall general poverty rates in Ireland are showing some improvements, they are getting worse for people who live with a disability, and it found that 53 per cent of people who are not in work due to a disability or illness are experiencing enforced deprivation;
- living with a disability in Ireland today can bring extra costs of between €207 and €276 per week;
- almost 50 per cent of people living with a physical disability experience difficulty going outside the home alone due to inadequate transport provision;
- despite provision under the Disability Act 2005 for an assessment of need, thousands of children are being denied their developmental potential for years while stuck on waiting lists for therapy supports;
- today, one in 20 people in Ireland is a family carer, collectively providing some €10 billion in unpaid care each year;
- respite care involves giving families and carers much needed assistance in caring for their loved one for a short period – that current provision is far short of what is needed, and without adequate respite, family carers are themselves left more vulnerable to ill-health;
- the in loco parentis clause in homecare nursing contracts for sick children is causing unnecessary stress, worry and constraint on the parents of sick children;
- the Health Information and Quality Authority (HIQA) is helping to ensure that best standards apply in all special care homes, although they are still under-resourced; and
- Ireland has at last ratified the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD), having signed it over a decade ago in 2007;

and calls on the Government to:

- ensure that there is a corresponding entitlement to a service along with an assessment of need enshrined in legislation;
- prioritise the scheduling and passage into law of the Disability (Miscellaneous Provisions) Bill 2016;
- establish, without any unnecessary delay, the Decision Support Service promised in the Assisted-Decision Making (Capacity) Act 2015;

- recognise the importance of the two implementation mechanisms provided in the UNCRPD through the adoption of the Optional Protocol to the CRPD;
 - provide significant additional investment to combat the long waiting lists for therapy supports such as occupational therapy, physiotherapy, speech and language therapy and psychology;
 - recognise the additional expense of having a disability and increase income supports accordingly;
 - increase personal assistance hours by 500,000 to address the unmet need and enable people to be active participants within their family household, their communities, employment and society;
 - increase funding for housing adaptation grants by 50 per cent from current level;
 - increase respite care services by 20 per cent;
 - fund appropriate employment services to enable and empower people with a disability to gain or retain employment;
 - ensure that everybody with serious medical needs has a secure medical card;
 - abolish immediately the in loco parentis clause in homecare nursing contracts for sick children;
 - significantly increase investment in transport accessibility and work towards making all public transport wheelchair-accessible;
 - introduce a scheme to replace the mobility allowance and motorised transport grant;
 - allocate the necessary funding to progress de-congregation;
 - increase resourcing for HIQA to facilitate the carrying out of the most effective inspection regime possible, thereby ensuring best standards will apply in all settings; and
 - designate a lead co-ordinating Department to ensure joined-up thinking and joined-up action across all Government departments in the interest of people with disabilities.”

9. “That Seanad Éireann:

- recognises that for nearly four decades, the Iranian regime has been condemned for its continued gross violations of human rights;
- acknowledges that more than 120,000 activists of democracy and human rights in Iran have been arbitrarily arrested, tortured and executed;

- notes that in the summer of 1988, more than 30,000 political prisoners were massacred in only two months for opposing the religious dictatorship and supporting the democratic movement the People's Mujahedin Organisation of Iran (PMOI) and that Amnesty International called this massacre a 'Crime Against Humanity' and that its perpetrators must be brought to justice; according to the United Nations, the Iranian regime is the world's number one executioner per capita;
- takes into account that despite such repression, in January 2018, the world witnessed a wave of uprisings and protests by the Iranian people, which soon expanded to more than 140 cities; where people chanted 'reformists, hard-liners, the game is now over', 'Down with Khamenei and Rouhani', 'No to Gaza no to Syria our life is for Iran' and 'Leave Syria alone, think about us!';

- declares solidarity with the Iranian people and supports their democratic objectives;
- acknowledges that the regime's president, its supreme leader and many other regime officials, have also admitted to the key role of the main Iranian opposition party and their supporters in organising these protests and their continuity;
- notes that the era has changed in Iran and that people have risen up for democratic change and the establishment of freedom in Iran, which will translate into peace and security in the wider region;
- calls on the Irish and European Governments, as well as the international community, to alter their policies of soft line approach into decisiveness;
- calls for the Iranian regime's terrorist Quds Force, Hezbollah and the Iranian Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) to be expelled from the region;

- supports the 10-point platform of the NCRI President-elect Mrs. Maryam Rajavi, for establishing a Democratic Republic based on the separation of religion and state, sexual, ethnic and religious equality, devoid of a nuclear programme, the abolition of the death penalty, peaceful co-existence and commitment to international conventions and laws to guarantee popular rule, development and progress in Iran and the wider world;
- recognises that it is time for the international community to stand on the right side of history on this issue;
- calls for relations with the regime to be made contingent upon an end to torture, executions, ballistic missiles and the spread of terrorism and war in the region;

14. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes that:

- on 2nd August, 2011, Shane O’Farrell was killed while cycling home when he was struck by a car driven by Zigimantas Gradzuiska;
- previously, on 11th January, 2011, in Monaghan Circuit Court, Mr. Gradzuiska was convicted of theft, and his sentence was adjourned for one year, with the judge stating that if he was convicted of other theft or fraud offences he was to be brought back before the court and that he would be put in jail;
- on 9th May, 2011, in Ardee District Court, Mr. Gradzuiska was convicted of theft, yet was not then brought back before Monaghan Circuit Court where a prison sentence would have been activated;
- on 11th May, 2011, in Dundalk District Court, Mr. Gradzuiska was convicted of speeding;

- on 8th June, 2011, in Carrickmacross District Court, Mr. Gradziska was convicted of possession of heroin;
- on 14th July, 2011, in Newry, Mr. Gradziska was convicted of theft;
- on 25th July, 2011, in Monaghan District Court, Mr. Gradziska was convicted of having no tax disc;
- all of these offences constituted a breach by Mr. Gradziska of his bail bond, yet no steps were taken to revoke the bail granted to him;
- consequently, at the time of the collision, Mr. Gradziska was on bail in respect of a number of offences and had breached his bail bond, and was serving a number of suspended sentences which should have been activated had the courts been informed of the relevant previous convictions;
- approximately one hour prior to the collision, the car in which Mr. Gradziska was travelling was stopped by Gardaí and was noted to be unroadworthy and without a National Car Test certificate; and
- in January 2012, a complaint was made to the Garda Síochána Ombudsman Commission (GSOC) regarding the conduct and role of An Garda Síochána in the above matters, and a report into part of the complaints was published in April 2018;

recognises that:

- there is an obligation on An Garda Síochána to bring persons convicted of criminal offences, while serving suspended sentences, before the court and to inform the sentencing court that the person has been convicted of subsequent offences;
- where a member of An Garda Síochána becomes aware that a person has breached, or is in breach of a condition of bail, there is an obligation on such member to bring that breach to the attention of the court;
- there is an obligation on GSOC to properly investigate all complaints it receives and to determine all admissible complaints in a timely and expeditious fashion;
- the GSOC report was delivered in a timeframe that was not acceptable, and was ultimately deficient;
