130. Tairiscintí nach ón Rialtas:
Non-Government Motions:

1. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes:

- that the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change Working Group III contribution to the Sixth Assessment Report (IPCC AR6 WG III) identified investment protection under the Energy Charter Treaty (ECT) through Investor-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS) mechanisms, which are ‘designed to protect the interests of investors in energy projects from national policies that could lead their assets to be stranded,’ as something which aids ‘fossil fuel companies to block national legislation aimed at phasing out the use of their assets’;

- that the ECT has been used at least 150 times by investors, claiming in total €110bn in compensation for changes in national energy laws that would reduce their profits; and calls on the Government:

- to withdraw from the Energy Charter Treaty.”
 - Senators Lynn Boylan, Paul Gavan, Niall Ó Donnghaile, Fintan Warfield.
- [28th June, 2022]

2. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes that:

- in the early years of Irish statehood two institutions, ACC and ICC, were set up in recognition of the importance of financial services to facilitate the growth of our agricultural and industrial sectors;
- ACC and ICC were allowed to become part of larger private commercial banks and now have ceased to exist as all foreign owned retail banks have left or are leaving the Irish market;
- Ulster Bank has one million current accounts including 70,000 commercial accounts and 301,000 deposit accounts, KBC has over 300,000 current accounts. All these accounts will have to be closed within the next 12 months, with most requiring new accounts to be opened elsewhere;
- Irish mortgage rates are the second highest in the Eurozone after Greece and double the currency bloc's average rate;
- banks regularly blame the increased capital charge for the higher mortgage rate, but a Goodbody Stockbrokers' analysis in July 2021 found the real difference is in the banks' operating costs compared to their EU counterparts;
- the report on Local Public Banking in Ireland and the Indecon Report both concluded there was no economic case for a public bank in Ireland but were based on a much different banking landscape than currently exists;

recognises that:

- the choices of individuals and companies are now severely limited regarding the provision of basic financial services especially with local access;
- both personal and business consumers are paying over the odds on their mortgages and loans with only the prospect of increased interest rates going forward;

- reliance of our remaining financial institutions on online solutions actively discriminates against certain cohorts of the population;
- credit unions have limited scope to provide financial services to business customers e.g. personal current accounts only, and lack the expertise to fully serve this important sector; credit unions are not banks and do not want to be banks;
- the lack of availability of, and appetite for, credit by our SMEs, is constraining the growth of our economy as these are the backbone of the economy and provide the vast majority of employment;

acknowledges that:

- the Banking Review has commenced and is due to report by end of November 2022;
- separately, the review of the credit union movement is due to be completed imminently, members of the Government openly talk of the credit unions filling the gap left by Ulster Bank and KBC thus pre-empting the conclusions of this review along with the Banking Review;

and calls on the Government to:

- take immediate action, using the expertise available to it, to design and implement a comprehensive public bank system that makes full use of the remaining local financial services infrastructure to deliver a banking service that serves our local communities and businesses.”
- Senators Marie Sherlock, Annie Hoey, Rebecca Moynihan, Mark Wall.

3. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes that:

- CERN is one of the leading scientific research organisations globally;
- Ireland is one of the few European Countries not in membership;

welcomes:

- the announcement by the Minister for Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science, that he intends to bring a paper to Government setting out Ireland’s intention to apply for membership;

calls on:

- the Government to proceed with Ireland’s membership of CERN;
- the Department of Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science to develop, in conjunction with our universities, research agencies and interested parties, a strategy to support our membership and to ensure that Ireland can both contribute to and gain from our membership.”

[24th March, 2023]

9. “That Seanad Éireann:

recognises that:

- guidance counsellors play a crucial role in the personal/social, educational and vocational development of every student in our secondary school system;
- guidance counsellors are important in supporting students’ mental health, wellbeing and forging pathways out of poverty;
- students who are experiencing mental health issues are often reluctant to seek help from public health services and studies have found that guidance counsellors are often the only professionals they turn to;
- there is a considerable body of evidence to show that access to guidance counsellors has a positive effect on third-level retention rates;

further recognises that:

- in 2012, the ex-quota allocation of guidance counsellors was abolished; the ex-quota system ringfenced hours for guidance counselling based on the number of students in the school;
- a 2023 survey of guidance counsellors by the Institute of Guidance Counsellors found that only 52% of the hours allocated by the Department of Education were available to guidance counsellors;
- this survey also found that only 4% of guidance counsellors reported they had their correct allocation of hours;
- the ‘in-quota’ system has been shown to have a disproportionately negative effect on disadvantaged students, given their greater reliance on in-school guidance and support;

notes with concern that:

- the ‘My World Survey 2: The National Study of Youth Mental Health in Ireland (2019)’ found that:
 - 40% of adolescents reported experiencing levels of depression outside the normal range;
 - 49% of adolescents reported experiencing levels of anxiety outside of the normal range;
 - 6% reported that they had made a suicide attempt;

- from October 2020 to March 2021, almost half of 15-17 year olds (42%) and 18-24 year olds (46%) reported that their mental health had worsened since the beginning of Covid 19;
- the same report tells us that children aged 12-15 were the most likely to present at an emergency department for a mental health problem in all periods 2019-21; 73-85% of all admissions among children aged 5-15 were on mental health grounds;
- 60% who attended the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAHMS) in the past year had difficulty accessing the service, and 42% of them said the service they finally accessed did not help with their mental health issues according to the 'A Piece of My Mind' survey of 2,166 children aged 12 to 17 by the Ombudsman for Children's office this year;

acknowledges:

- that the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child states that:

‘Article 28 – Education

States parties recognize the right of the child to education, and with a view to achieving this right progressively and on the basis of equal opportunity, they shall, in particular: ...

- (c) Make higher education accessible to all on the basis of capacity by every appropriate means;
- (d) Make educational and vocational information and guidance available and accessible to all children;
- (e) Take measures to encourage regular attendance at schools and the reduction of drop-out rates.’;
- that schools have a responsibility to provide students with appropriate guidance under the Education Act 1998;
- Minister Norma Foley's recent announcement of a pilot programme of counselling and mental health supports for primary schools;
- there are 885 guidance counselling posts allocated to our second-level schools for the 2022/23 school year at an expenditure of almost €60 million per annum;

and calls on the Government to:

- restore the ex-quota status of guidance counsellors in all secondary schools where hours are calculated based on the number of students in the school;
- reduce the ratio of full-time guidance counsellors in order to increase the number of guidance counsellors available to our students.”
- Senators Róisín Garvey, Vincent P. Martin, Pauline O'Reilly, Regina Doherty, Maria Byrne, Erin McGreehan.
