131. Tairiscintí nach ón Rialtas:
Non-Government Motions:

1. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes:

- that the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change Working Group III contribution to the Sixth Assessment Report (IPCC AR6 WG III) identified investment protection under the Energy Charter Treaty (ECT) through Investor-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS) mechanisms, which are ‘designed to protect the interests of investors in energy projects from national policies that could lead their assets to be stranded,’ as something which aids ‘fossil fuel companies to block national legislation aimed at phasing out the use of their assets’;
- that the ECT has been used at least 150 times by investors, claiming in total €110bn in compensation for changes in national energy laws that would reduce their profits; and calls on the Government:

- to withdraw from the Energy Charter Treaty.”
 - Senators Lynn Boylan, Paul Gavan, Niall Ó Donnghaile, Fintan Warfield.
- [28th June, 2022]

2. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes that:

- in the early years of Irish statehood two institutions, ACC and ICC, were set up in recognition of the importance of financial services to facilitate the growth of our agricultural and industrial sectors;
- ACC and ICC were allowed to become part of larger private commercial banks and now have ceased to exist as all foreign owned retail banks have left or are leaving the Irish market;
- Ulster Bank has one million current accounts including 70,000 commercial accounts and 301,000 deposit accounts, KBC has over 300,000 current accounts. All these accounts will have to be closed within the next 12 months, with most requiring new accounts to be opened elsewhere;
- Irish mortgage rates are the second highest in the Eurozone after Greece and double the currency bloc's average rate;
- banks regularly blame the increased capital charge for the higher mortgage rate, but a Goodbody Stockbrokers' analysis in July 2021 found the real difference is in the banks' operating costs compared to their EU counterparts;

- the report on Local Public Banking in Ireland and the Indecon Report both concluded there was no economic case for a public bank in Ireland but were based on a much different banking landscape than currently exists;

recognises that:

- the choices of individuals and companies are now severely limited regarding the provision of basic financial services especially with local access;
- both personal and business consumers are paying over the odds on their mortgages and loans with only the prospect of increased interest rates going forward;
- reliance of our remaining financial institutions on online solutions actively discriminates against certain cohorts of the population;
- credit unions have limited scope to provide financial services to business customers e.g. personal current accounts only, and lack the expertise to fully serve this important sector; credit unions are not banks and do not want to be banks;
- the lack of availability of, and appetite for, credit by our SMEs, is constraining the growth of our economy as these are the backbone of the economy and provide the vast majority of employment;

acknowledges that:

- the Banking Review has commenced and is due to report by end of November 2022;
- separately, the review of the credit union movement is due to be completed imminently, members of the Government openly talk of the credit unions filling the gap left by Ulster Bank and KBC thus pre-empting the conclusions of this review along with the Banking Review;

and calls on the Government to:

- take immediate action, using the expertise available to it, to design and implement a comprehensive public bank system that makes full use of the remaining local financial services infrastructure to deliver a banking service that serves our local communities and businesses.”

– Senators Marie Sherlock, Annie Hoey, Rebecca Moynihan, Mark Wall.

3. “That Seanad Éireann:

notes that:

- CERN is one of the leading scientific research organisations globally;
- Ireland is one of the few European Countries not in membership;

welcomes:

- the announcement by the Minister for Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science, that he intends to bring a paper to Government setting out Ireland's intention to apply for membership;

calls on:

- the Government to proceed with Ireland's membership of CERN;
 - the Department of Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science to develop, in conjunction with our universities, research agencies and interested parties, a strategy to support our membership and to ensure that Ireland can both contribute to and gain from our membership."

- Senators Michael McDowell, Victor Boyhan, Sharon Keogan, Gerard P. Craughwell, David Norris, Tom Clonan, Rónán Mullen.

[24th March, 2023]

9. “That Seanad Éireann:

recognises that:

- seeking asylum is a fundamental right under the 1951 United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees and its 1967 Protocol;
- every person’s right to seek asylum in a safe country is enshrined in the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights;

notes with concern that:

- an estimated 27,000 people seeking refuge have died or gone missing in the Mediterranean Sea since 2014;
- the estimated figures for those dead or missing are reported to be greatly underestimated;
- over the past decade the European Union has enacted policies which seek to prevent asylum seekers from reaching Europe’s borders and claiming asylum in Member States;
- the European Union has operationalised a number of migration control policies, such as the Malta Declaration, which fund non-EU states, such as Libya, to intercept people attempting to cross the Mediterranean and detain them;
- a number of objectives of the Malta Declaration have clearly failed, namely the ‘determination to act in full respect of human rights, international law and European values’ and to ‘to ensure adequate reception capacities and conditions in Libya for migrants’;
- conditions experienced by refugees at external borders funded by the European Union, including in detention centres in Libya and Greece, represent a fundamental violation of human rights and are a cause of suffering for those seeking safety;

- the European Commission, this year, has proposed a new migration deal with Tunisia which would commit €105 million to the Tunisian Government for migration control;
- illegal pushbacks of people seeking asylum have been reported at Europe's borders, with one estimate from Belgian NGO 11.11.11 reporting at least 225,533 pushbacks had taken place in 2022;
- reports have emerged from the European Anti-Fraud Office and Amnesty International regarding the complicity of the European Border and Coast Guard Agency, Frontex, in such pushbacks;
- in 2022, due to such reports alongside wider issues with Frontex organisation, the European Parliament's Budgetary Control Committee voted not to discharge Frontex's 2020 budget;
- the recently negotiated European Union Pact on Migration and Asylum seeks to transfer more responsibility to countries outside the European Union and to further harden Europe's borders;
- although 85% of the world's refugee population are living outside Europe, with 76% in low and middle-income countries, a number of European Union Member States are committed to preventing people seeking asylum from reaching Europe;

regrets that:

- European Union Member States, including Ireland, have moved from search and rescue missions to surveillance missions;
- the Irish Government in 2017 entered the EU Operation Sophia which resulted in the redeployment of Irish Naval Service vessels from primarily humanitarian search and rescue operations to primarily security and interception operations;
- the number of people rescued by the Irish Naval Service fell from 8,592 in 2015 to 1,888 in 2018 after the change in policy regarding search and rescue;
- Operation Sophia completely ceased search and rescue operations in 2019;
- Operation Irini, which replaced Operation Sophia, does not have a search and rescue mandate;
- across Europe, civil society organisations and activists who are engaging in search and rescue missions are increasingly criminalised for engaging in life-saving humanitarian work;
- the principles of human dignity, freedom, equality and solidarity, stated in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union to be founding values of the Union, are being undermined by increasingly hostile migration control policies which do not reflect those founding values and which breach European and international law;

further notes:

- Article 78 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union and Article 18 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union enshrine the right to seek asylum;
- Article 4 of Protocol 4 of the European Convention on Human Rights prohibits collective expulsions;
- the 2021 Report from Amnesty International, the European Council on Refugees and Exiles and Human Rights Watch entitled ‘Plan of Action: Twenty Steps to Protect People on the Move Along the Central Mediterranean Route’; calls on the Government to:

- enter negotiations for bilateral agreements which would allow the Irish Naval Service to resume search and rescue operations in the Mediterranean;
- provide, in the short-term, logistical and financial support to civil society groups engaging in humanitarian missions in the Mediterranean;
- engage with colleagues in the European Commission and the Council of the European Union to amend Operation Irini and include a firm search and rescue mandate;
- urge colleagues in the European Commission and the Council of the European Union to carry out a review of European Union migration policy which focuses on compliance with European and international law, with a particular emphasis on human rights law, in third countries at the external European land and sea borders;
- seek in the final negotiations on the European Union Pact on Migration and Asylum to ensure that responsibility for persons seeking asylum is not further abrogated to third countries but is embraced as a responsibility of European Union Member States;
- engage with fellow European Union Member States and third countries to ensure the provision of safe routes for persons seeking asylum in Europe;
- work with European Union colleagues to ensure that rule of law is upheld and that illegal pushbacks are stopped;
- advocate with the European Commission and colleagues on the Council of the European Union for an independent inquiry into the role of Frontex in illegal pushbacks of persons seeking asylum;
- work with the European Commission and colleagues on the Council of the European Union to implement the 2021 Report from Amnesty International, the European Council on Refugees and Exiles and Human Rights Watch entitled ‘Plan of Action: Twenty Steps to Protect People on the Move Along the Central Mediterranean Route’;

calls on the European Commission and the Council of the European Union to:

- end the policies which seek to harden Europe’s external borders and place persons seeking asylum in detention conditions in third countries which violate their human rights;

- urgently revise the European Union Pact on Migration and Asylum to ensure that the collective European response to persons seeking asylum in Europe is founded on the principles of human dignity, freedom, equality and solidarity enshrined in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union;
 - cease funding to third countries given for the purposes of detaining persons seeking asylum and stopping them from reaching Europe;
 - urgently review the conditions in detention centres in third countries which are in receipt of European Union funding for migration control;
 - ensure safe routes for persons seeking asylum which support the rights of those persons to seek asylum in European Union Member States;
 - revise Operation Irini to include a search and rescue mandate;
 - establish an independent inquiry into the role of Frontex in illegal pushbacks of persons seeking asylum;
 - implement the 2021 Report from Amnesty International, the European Council on Refugees and Exiles and Human Rights Watch entitled ‘Plan of Action: Twenty Steps to Protect People on the Move Along the Central Mediterranean Route’.”
